Religious Diversity And Social Change:

Religious Diversity and Social Change Kevin J. Christiano, 1987 Floods of immigration and rapid industrialization and urbanization in America at the turn of the century set in motion the transformation of many long established institutions This book examines specific ways in which cultural changes affected the structure of the religious establishment Statistical models are applied to United States Census data from 1890 and 1906 on city and church populations revealing connections between the growth of cities the increase in literacy and the formation of ethnic subcommunities that led to a new level of religious diversity The author analyses evidence of growing competition among churches and of a level of individual commitment to congregations demonstrating that the patterns of religious community established at the turn of the century provided the basis for the current denominational system The author further analyses the relationship of religious diversity to urban secularization as well as its role as a catalyst to sectarian conflict In offering a quantitative assessment of issues central to the history of American religion this book is a significant contribution to the study of religion in America

Religious Diversity and Social Change in Turn-of-the-century American Cities Kevin J. Christiano, 1984 Deep Equality in an Era of Religious Diversity Lori G. Beaman, 2017 While religious conflict receives plenty of attention the everyday negotiation of religious diversity does not Questions of how to accommodate religious minorities and of the limits of tolerance resonate in a variety of contexts and have become central preoccupations for many Western democracies What might we see if we turned our attention to the positive narratives and success stories of the everyday working out of religious difference Rather than tolerance and accommodation and through the stories of ordinary people this book traces deep equality which is found in the respect humor and friendship of seemingly mundane interactions Deep Equality in an Era of Religious Diversity shows that the telling of such stories can create an alternative narrative to that of diversity as a problem to be solved It explores the non event or micro processes of interaction that constitute the foundation for deep equality and the conditions under which deep equality emerges exists and sometimes flourishes Through a systematic search for and examination of such narratives Lori G Beaman demonstrates the possibility of uncovering revealing and recovering deep equality a recovery that is vital to living in an increasingly diverse society In achieving deep equality identities are fluid shifting in importance and structure as social interaction unfolds Rigid identity imaginings especially religious identities block our vision to the complexities of social life and press us into corners that trap us in identities that we often ourselves do not recognize want or know how to escape Although the focus of this study is deep equality and its existence and persistence in relation to religious difference deep equality is located beyond the realm of religion Beaman draws from the work of those whose primary focus is not in fact religion and who are doing their own deep equality work in other domains illustrating especially why equality matters By retelling and exploring stories of negotiation it is possible to reshape our social imaginary to better facilitate what works which varies from place to place and time to time Educating About Religious Diversity

Goodman, Mary Ellen Giess, Eboo Patel, 2023-07-03 This book arises out of a recognition that student affairs professionals have little preparation or guidance in dealing with matters of spirituality religion secularity and interfaith work at a time of greater diversity in students beliefs and from a broad recognition that there is a need to engage with this aspect of student life For those who don't know how to begin and may be nervous about tackling a topic that has the potential to lead to heated disagreements this book provides the resources and practical guidance to undertake this work With the aim of providing student affairs practitioners and faculty with the tools they need to increase their comfort level and enable their ability to engage in discussions about belief both in and out of the classroom the contributors provide foundational knowledge concrete teaching ideas sample activities and case studies that can be used in a variety of settings This book serves multiple audiences in student affairs by providing teaching ideas for practitioners who want to include a session or two about interfaith in their programs as well as ideas for student affairs faculty who may be teaching one session on this topic or a whole course The book is divided into four sections The first offers context provides the findings of research and asks readers to reflect on the framework they use to embark on this work whether a social justice framework that aims to highlight issues of power and privilege or an interfaith cooperation framework that aims to create religious pluralism Part Two provides concrete ideas for creating courses activities events and programs focused on spirituality religion secularity and interfaith engagement as well as ideas for incorporating these topics into courses typically offered in student affairs preparation programs Part Three presents case studies to engage students practitioners and faculty in thinking about campus situations related to religious diversity Part Four provides some basic information about a variety of religions and worldviews held by college students Pluralisation and social change Lars Charbonnier, Johan

Sites and Politics of Religious Diversity in Southern Europe Ruy Blanes, José Mapril, 2013-07-11 In recent years the Southern borders of Europe have become landmarks for the mediatic and academic verve regarding the migration and diasporas towards and beyond Schengen Europe. In these debates religion is acknowledged as playing a central role in the recognition of major societal changes in the continent being object of political concern and attention from the recognition of plural forms of Christianity to the debates on a European Islam. Yet in this respect what goes on around the borders of Portugal, Spain, Italy or Greece is still largely uncharted and un-debated. With the contribution of renowned anthropologists, sociologists and religious studies scholars, this book critically presents and discusses case studies on the sites and politics of religious diversity in Southern Europe, including the impact of migrant religiosity in national and EU politics. Contributors include Anna Fedele, Barbara Bertolani, Clara Saraiva, Cristina Sanchez Carretero, Ester Gallo, Eugenia Roussou, Fabio Peroco Inam, Leghari, Jos Mapril, Katherine Seraidari, Maria Del Mar Grier, Manuela Canton Delgado, Nora Repo, Ramon Sarr, Ruy Blanes, Sandra Santos, Silvia Sai, Trine Staunig, Willert, and Virtudes Tellez Delgado. Religious Diversity in Australia Douglas Ezzy, Anna Halafoff, Greg Barton, Rebecca Banham, 2024-03-07. This book documents the structure of religious diversity in Australia and examines this diversity in the context of the law, migration, education, policing, the media, and interfaith communities. Focusing on Melbourne and Tasmania, it articulates the benefits and opportunities of diversity alongside the challenges that confront religious and ethnic minorities, including discrimination and structural inequalities generated by Christian and other forms of privilege. It articulates constructive strategies that are deployed, including encouraging forms of belonging, structured ways of negotiating disagreement, and respectful engagement with difference. While scholars across the West are increasingly attuned to the problems and promises of growing religious diversity in a global age, in-depth empirical research on the consequences of that diversity in Australia is lacking. This book provides a rich, well-researched and timely intervention.

Religious Diversity Today Jean-Guy A. Goulet, Liam D. Murphy, Anastasia Panagakos, 2015-12-01. This insightful three-volume set examines faith through the social and cultural perspective of anthropology, sociology, and religious studies, shedding light on the role of religion in the human experience. Why is human suffering and the existence of evil part of the human experience? How does religious doctrine establish one's identity? In what ways does religion interact with and shape the social order? This thought-provoking work ponders these questions and explores the concept of religion from various perspectives: as a tool for self and community-based spiritual awareness, as a set of practices that translates faith into interaction with others, and as a cornerstone of society for those who seek to harness or hinder its influence. Written in accessible and inviting language, each volume focuses on a particular dimension of religion. The first book examines religious experience in the modern world and explores suffering in religious faiths; the second volume centers around ritual and pilgrimage; and the last book analyzes the controversial relationship between religion and societies. The content features such thought-provoking topics as death and green burials, sexuality and sex trade, and how and why evil manifests in the human experience.
