Religious Perspectives in Modern Muslim and Jewish Literatures is a collection of essays that explore the role of religion in the lives of modern Muslims and Jews. The essays are written by leading scholars in the field and provide a comprehensive overview of the subject. The collection is divided into two main sections: the first section focuses on the role of religion in the lives of modern Muslims, and the second section focuses on the role of religion in the lives of modern Jews. The essays in the first section explore the role of religion in the lives of modern Muslims in terms of their beliefs, practices, and social roles. The essays in the second section explore the role of religion in the lives of modern Jews in terms of their beliefs, practices, and social roles. The collection is a valuable resource for scholars and students alike.

Contemporary Arab Fiction Fabio Caiani, 2007-09-12 This book introduces Western readers to some of the most significant novels written in Arabic since 1979 Relying on literary theory and referring to comparative examples from other literatures this study places its findings within a wider framework defining what is meant by innovation in the Arabic novel and the particular socio political context in which it appears Shi'ism in Southeast Asia Chiara Formichi, R. Michael Feener, 2015 Serious academic work that moves away from the polemical sectarian discourses on shi'ism in southeast Asia

The Oral and the Written in Early Islam , Nationalism, Islam and World Literature Mohamed-Salah Omri, 2006-09-27 The writer and politician Mahmud al Mis'adi is a figure of prime importance in the development of North African literature and cultural politics since the last war This fascinating book covers both his essays and fiction written between the 1930s and 1990s which challenge the boundaries between the sacred and irreligious in the Islamic world In addition it also examines Arabic literature and its relationship to the West Beyond Inclusion and Exclusion Jason Crouthamel, Michael Geheran, Tim Grady, Julia Barbara Köhne, 2018-11-29 During the First World War the Jewish population of Central Europe was politically socially and experientially diverse to an extent that resists containment within a simple historical narrative While antisemitism and Jewish disillusionment have dominated many previous studies of the topic this collection aims to recapture the multifariousness of Central European Jewish life in the experiences of soldiers and civilians alike during the First World War Here scholars from multiple disciplines explore rare sources and employ innovative methods to illuminate four interconnected themes minorities and the meaning of military service Jewish Gentile relations cultural legacies of the war and memory politics Remembering Cosmopolitan Egypt Deborah Starr, 2009-06-25 This book examines the link between cosmopolitanism in Egypt from the nineteenth century through to the mid twentieth century and colonialism It analyzes the ways in which literature and film have portrayed the period and the great cultural diversity in the country prior to Nasser Singing with the Mountains William Sherman, 2023-12-05 An illuminating story of a Sufi community that sought the revelation of God In the Afghan highlands of the sixteenth century the messianic community known as the Roshaniyya not only desired to find God's word and to abide by it but also attempted to practice God's word and to develop techniques of language intended to render their own tongues as the organs of continuous revelation As their critics would contend however the Roshaniyya attempted to make language do something that language should not do infuse the semiotic with the divine Their story thus ends in a tower of skulls the proliferation of heresiographies that detailed the sins of the Roshaniyya and new formations of Afghan identity In Singing with the Mountains William E B Sherman finds something extraordinary about the Roshaniyya not least because the first known literary use of vernacular Pashto occurs in an eclectic Roshani imitation of the Qur'an The story of the Roshaniyya exemplifies a religious culture of linguistic experimentation In the example of the Roshaniyya we discover a set of questions and anxieties about the capacities of language that pervaded Sufi orders imperial courts groups of wandering ascetics and scholastic networks throughout Central and South Asia In telling this tale Sherman asks the following questions How can we make language shimmer with divine truth How can letters grant sovereign power and form new ethnic identities and ways of belonging How can rhyme bend our conceptions of time so that the prophetic past comes to inhabit the now of our collective moment By analyzing the ways in which the Roshaniyya answered these types of questions and the ways in which their answers were eventually rejected as heresies this book offers new insight into the imaginations of religious actors in the late medieval and early modern Persianate worlds

Pakistan Pippa Virdee, 2021-11-25 What is Pakistan The name refers to a seventy year old post colonial product of the bloodiest partition of territory and population that accompanied the end of British empire in South Asia But the region of the Indus Valley has a four thousand year old history and was the site of one of the earliest and greatest riverine civilisations in the world Although the modern nation of Pakistan as we know it was created as a homeland for the Muslims of British India it is impossible to understand the complex tapestry of linguistic ethnic and cultural identities and tensions of the region without tracing its deep past This Very Short Introduction looks at Pakistan as one of the two nation states of the Indian sub continent that emerged in 1947 Pippa Virdee reaches into the ancient past to demonstrate the influence of trajectories of human settlement and civilisation on Pakistan's contemporary political arena and shows how the longer continuities between the land and its peoples are as important as the short term changes in the political landscape She considers Pakistan's religion and society the state and the military everyday life popular culture languages and literature as well as Pakistan's relationship with the rest of the world Virdee also looks to the challenges of the 21st century and the future of Pakistan

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and suspenseful novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
