Mrs Kelly Grantlee Kieza,2017-03-01 The astonishing life of Ned Kelly s mother While we know much about the iconic outlaw Ned Kelly his mother Ellen Kelly has been largely overlooked by Australian writers and historians until now with this vivid and compelling portrait by Grantlee Kieza one of Australia s most popular biographers When Ned Kelly s mother Ellen arrived in Melbourne in 1841 aged nine British convict ships were still dumping their unhappy cargo in what was then known as the colony of New South Wales By the time she died aged ninety one in 1923 having outlived seven of her twelve children motor cars plied the highway near her bush home north of Melbourne and Australia was a modern sovereign nation Like so many pioneering women Ellen the wife of a convict led a life of great hardship Born in Ireland during a time of entrenched poverty and sectarian violence she was a mother of seven when her husband died after months in a police lock up She lived through famine and drought watched her babies die listened through the prison wall while her eldest son was hanged and saw the charred remains of another of her children who d died in a shoot out with police One son became Australia s most infamous and ultimately most celebrated outlaw another became a highly decorated policeman an honorary member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and a worldwide star on the rodeo circuit Through it all the notorious Mrs Kelly as she was dubbed by Victoria s Assistant Police Commissioner survived as best she could like so many pioneering women of the time By bestselling biographer Grantlee Kieza Mrs Kelly is the astonishing story of one of Australia s most notorious women and her wild family but it s also the story of the making of Australia from struggling colony and backwater to modern nation

Research Abstracts ,1979 Knowledge at the Crossroads? Lyn Yates,Peter Woelert,Victoria Millar,Kate

O'Connor,2016-10-26 There is much discussion about what needs to change in education institutions in the 21st century but less attention given to how core disciplinary studies should be considered within that context This book is based on a major 4 year research study of history and physics in the changing environment of schools and universities in Australia Are these forms of knowledge still valuable for students Are they complementary to or at odds with the concerns about 21st century skills interdisciplinary and collaborative research teams employability and learner centred education How do those who work in these fields see changes in their disciplines and in their work environment And what are the similarities and differences between the experiences of teachers and academics in physics and those in history The book draws on interviews with 115 school teachers and university academics to provide new perspectives on two important issues Firstly how for the purposes of today s schools and universities can we adequately understand knowledge and knowledge building over time Secondly what has been productive and what has been counter productive in recent efforts to steer and manage the changes in Australia

From Slave Girls to Salvation Shelly D. Ikebuchi, 2015-11-10 From its origins as a project to rescue Chinese prostitutes and slave girls from a life of supposed depravity the Chinese Rescue Home became a feature of the moral and racial landscape of Victoria a place where the Methodist Women s Missionary Society attempted to reform Chinese and Japanese girls and women in part by teaching them domestic skills meant to ease their integration into Western society Between 1886 and 1923 over four hundred Chinese and Japanese women sheltered in the home Yet despite the significance of this iconic institution little has been written on its history From Slave Girls to Salvation draws on a rich collection of archival materials to uncover the organizational hierarchies as well as the religious and racial tropes which permeated the home In doing so it expands our understanding of the complex interplay of gender race and class in BC during this time period

Purity and Contamination in Late Victorian Detective Fiction Dr Christopher Pittard, 2013-05-28 Concentrating on works by authors such as Fergus Hume Arthur Conan Doyle Grant Allen L T Meade and Marie Belloc Lowndes Christopher Pittard explores the complex relation between the emergence of detective fictions in the 1880s and 1890s and the concept of purity The centrality of material and moral purity as a theme of the genre Pittard argues both reflected and satirised a contemporary discourse of degeneration in which criminality was equated with dirt and disease and where national boundaries were guarded against the threat of the criminal foreigner Situating his discussion within the ideologies underpinning George Newnes s Strand Magazine as well as a wide range of nonfiction texts Pittard demonstrates that the genre was a response to the seductive and impure delights associated with sensation and gothic novels Further Pittard suggests that criticism of detective fiction has in turn become obsessed with the idea of purity thus illustrating how a genre concerned with policing the impure itself became subject to the same fear of contamination Contributing to the richness of Pittard s project are his discussions of the convergence of medical discourse and detective fiction in the 1890s including the way social protest movements like the antivivisectionist campaigns and medical explorations of criminality raised questions related to moral purity
