Transfiguration Stephen Cheeke,2016 Transfiguration explores the work of John Ruskin Robert Browning Dante Gabriel Rossetti and Walter Pater treating in particular the ways in which they engaged with the Christian content of their subject and in Pater s case how the art of Christianity was contrasted with classical sculpture Stephen Cheeke examines two related phenomena idolatry a false substitution a sexual betrayal and the poetics of transfiguration to elevate or glorify subject matter not thought of as conventionally poetic to praise Central to the book is the question of the translation of religion into art and aesthetics a process which supposedly undergirds the advent of the museum age and makes possible the idea of a religion of art as a phenomenon of late century Aestheticism Such a phenomenon is prepared for however through the engagement with Christian painting and classical sculpture in the work of these four writers All four thought carefully about the ways in which a particular mimetic impulse of making live in artworks could be connected to religious experience This meant exploring the nature of the link between seeing and believing visualising in order to conceive to verify but also in the sense of being acted upon by the visible All four wrote about the great power of artworks to transfigure the objects of their attention In each case there emerges the possibility of a secret sexual knowledge hiding within or lying on the other side of the sensuous knowledge of aesthesis All four wondered whether this was inherently hostile to Christianity or whether it may finally be an accommodation within it

Light as Experience and Imagination from Medieval to Modern Times David S. Herrstrom, 2022-11-21 In Light as Experience and Imagination from Medieval to Modern Times David S Herrstrom synthesizes and interprets the experience of light as revealed in a wide range of art and literature from medieval to modern times The true subject of the book is making sense of the individual s relationship with light rather than the investigation of light s essential nature while telling the story of light seducing individuals from the Middle Ages to our modern times Consequently it is not concerned with the progress of scientific inquiries into the physical properties and behavior of light optical science but rather with subjective reactions as reflected in art architecture and literature Instead of its evolution this book celebrates the complexity of our relation to light s character No individual experience of light being truer than any other

Calvinism and the Arts Christopher Richard Joby, 2007 It is often thought that the French Reformer John Calvin 1509 1564 had a negative attitude towards the arts particularly visual art However in Calvinism and the Arts A Re assessment Dr Joby argues that in Calvin s writings and in the development of the Reformed tradition more generally it is possible to discern a more positive attitude than has hitherto been recognized He makes a start by examining exactly what type of visual art Calvin rejected and what type he affirmed He goes on to consider how Calvin s epistemology and eschatology can be used to argue for the placing of certain types of art notably histories and landscape paintings within Reformed churches and then devotes separate chapters to reflecting on how music architecture and church decoration within the Reformed tradition provide further arguments for the use of these works of art In the final section he looks at specific histories and landscapes from the Dutch Golden Age and considers how the form and content of both of these types of art provide us with further ontological and epistemological arguments which inevitably lead to the conclusion that their continued exclusion from Reformed churches is no longer tenable

The Wood Engraved Work of Timothy Cole Ralph Clifton Smith, 1925 Art History as a Reflection of Inner Spiritual Impulses Rudolf Steiner, 2016-06-01 13 slide presentations Dornach Oct 8 1916 Oct 29 1917 CW 292 I am going to show you a series of reproductions of slides from a period in art history to which the human mind will probably always return to contemplate and consider for if we consider history as a reflection of inner spiritual impulses it is precisely in this evolutionary moment that we see certain human circumstances ones that are among the deepest and most decisive for the outer course of human history expressed through a relationship to art Rudolf Steiner Rudolf Steiner understood that the history of art is a field in which the evolution of consciousness is symptomatically and transparently revealed This informal sequence of thirteen lectures was given during the darkest hours of World War I It was a moment when the negative consequences of what he called the age of the consciousness soul which began around 1417 were made most terribly apparent In these lectures he sought to provide an antidote to pessimism After describing the movement of consciousness from Greece into Rome coupled with influences from the Orthodox East he showed how these influences transformed as the Middle Ages became the Renaissance The process that begins with Cimabue and Giotto develops deepens and becomes more conscious in the great Renaissance masters Leonardo Michelangelo and Raphael Then this movement continues with the Northern masters Durer and Holbein as well as the German tradition One entire lecture is devoted to Rembrandt followed by one on Dutch and Flemish paintings Themes are woven together to show how past epochs of consciousness and art live again in our consciousness soul period Replete with interesting information and more than 600 color and black and white images these lectures are rich and dense with ideas enabling us to understand both the art of the Renaissance and the transformation of consciousness it announced These lectures demonstrate to paraphrase Shelley that artists truly are the unacknowledged legislators of the age Art History as a Reflection of Inner Spiritual Impulses is a translation from German of Kunstgeschichte als Abbild innerer geistiger Impulse GA 292 Rudolf Steiner Verlag 2000
