traditionally placed great value on self reliance and fortitude In recent decades however we have seen the rise of a therapeutic ethic that views Americans as emotionally underdeveloped psychically frail and requiring the ministrations of mental health professionals to cope with life's vicissitudes Being in touch with one's feelings and freely expressing them have become paramount personal virtues Today with a book for every ailment a counselor for every crisis a lawsuit for every grievance and a TV show for every conceivable problem we are at risk of degrading our native ability to cope with life's challenges Drawing on established science and common sense Christina Hoff Sommers and Dr Sally Satel reveal how therapism and the burgeoning trauma industry have come to pervade our lives Help is offered everywhere under the presumption that we need it in children's classrooms the workplace churches courtrooms the media the military But with all the help comes a host of troubling consequences including The myth of stressed out homework burdened hypercompetitive and depressed or suicidal schoolchildren in need of therapy and medication The loss of moral bearings in our approach to lying crime addiction and other foibles and vices The unasked for grief counselors who descend on bereaved families schools and communities following a tragedy offering dubious advice while billing plenty of money The expansion of Post Traumatic

Stress Disorder from an affliction of war veterans to nearly everyone who has experienced a setback Intelligent provocative and wryly amusing One Nation Under Therapy demonstrates that talking about problems is no substitute for confronting them Televising War Andrew Hoskins,2004-06-15 Our relationship with the past whether judgment celebration commemoration or denial has become an important part of public culture This book explores the relationship between televisual communication and memory focusing on the conflicts that have disrupted and changed our world over the past 50 years with particular reference to the current war in Iraq Case studies cover the Holocaust Vietnam both Gulf Wars and Kosovo Though the Vietnam War was extensively televised it was framed within a domestic U S context By the time of the latest Gulf War and Kosovo the coverage of warfare was both more immediate and more global Hoskins illustrates this with a comparative critique of individual countries national media framing of war including Middle Eastern perspectives in contrast to the so called global viewpoint of satellite news networks such as CNN Televising War examines the intertwining of self society and media that influences our understanding of both past and present The Information War for Our Country and Your Soul Russell Wooten,2022-02-06 Read it for yourself Fact check any information that is relevant or interesting to you There is a variety of it and from differing points of view This book goes deep into the Invisible Enemy exposing lies that have been taught to us for centuries right up to the recent lies of the past two years The better we know our enemy the better chance we have of remaining free Gender, Orientalism, and the 'War on Terror' Maryam Khalid,2017-06-26 This book offers an accessible and timely analysis of the War on Terror based on an innovative approach to a broad range of theoretical and empirical research It uses gendered orientalism as a lens through which to read the relationship between the George W Bush administration gendered and racialized military intervention and global politics Khalid argues that legitimacy power and authority in global politics and the War on Terror specifically are discursively constructed through representations that are gendered and racialized and often orientalist Looking at the ways in which official US War on Terror discourse enabled military intervention into Afghanistan and Iraq the book takes a postcolonial feminist approach to broaden the scope of critical analyses of the War on Terror and reflect on the gendered and racial underpinnings of key relations of power within contemporary global politics This book is a unique innovative and significant analysis of the operation of race orientalism and gender in global politics and the War on Terror specifically It will be of great interest to scholars and graduates interested in gender politics development humanitarian intervention international global relations Middle East politics security and US foreign policy Investigation of the Department of Justice United States.
