

From this point of view, Russia is an independent country, Ukraine is not. Hence Putin sees the Crimea as belonging to Russia, Ukraine as a "fake" country, and Ukrainians as "our people" with Russians.

At the same time, economist Branko Milanovic draws a direct contrast between the sovereignty and wealth of countries. He uses the example of the DPRK and Belgium: "Sovereignty means the freedom to make political and economic decisions with as few restrictions as possible from other countries. Wealth means having a high level of income (high GDP per capita). The problem is that they cannot co-exist. Countries can only get rich by becoming less sovereign, i.e. more globally integrated. Russian nationalism is a choice for full sovereignty, free from outside and rules, and free from the Western ideology of Marxism and liberalism".

Finally, Senator Andrei Klimov, one of the co-authors of the Russian constitutional amendments, explicitly states that the ideology of modern Russia is sovereignty.

Putin's understanding of sovereignty in general, and Ukraine's independence in particular, is perfectly aligned with the concept of "Russia having" inherited by Russian society from imperial times. In this way, Russian "sovereignty" is incompatible from Russian imperialism.

On 11 December 2021, in a message to the Federal Assembly, Putin declared himself a conservative like Nikolai Pleshchinskii and said that Russia would be a world leader in upholding conservative morality. And on 11 October 2021, at a meeting of the Valdai Club, Putin said that Russia would be guided by the ideology of conservatism, which had gained its importance in recent years. Putin used four interchangeable definitions: "strong conservatism", "sensible conservatism", "moderate conservatism" and "pragmatic conservatism".

Traditionalism, or more precisely "traditional values", is an important, if not the main, part of Putin's conservatism. The list of traditional values includes human life, dignity, rights and freedoms, patriotism, service to the motherland, high moral ideals, a strong family, creative work and the priority of the spiritual over the material, according to the "Fundamentals of State Policy for the Preservation and Strengthening of Traditional Russian Spiritual and Moral Values" (2014).

The Ukrainian Institute for the Future has already reviewed the "Concept of the Humanitarian Policy of the Russian Federation (2020)", according to which "Russia's historical experience, rich cultural heritage and spiritual potential have allowed it to occupy a special place in the world cultural space and have created opportunities for the successful promotion of traditional Russian spiritual and moral values abroad". Another component of "traditional values" in Russia is state homophobia. This has also been analysed by the IIF. Since then, the persecution of people with alternative sexual orientations or gender identities has only intensified; in particular, medical gender reassignment is effectively banned.

Finally, Putin has put much emphasis on patriotism. In the summer of 2021 he underlined that patriotism was a sacred duty for Russians, and in October he called it a "moral guide" for young people. In February 2021, Putin stressed: "We do not and cannot have any other guiding idea than patriotism... This is the national idea".
