Monet, Tchaikovsky, Zola, and the World They Made Kristof Haavik, 2022-06-20 This book tells the story of three young men two French one Russian all born the same year when European culture was moving from Romanticism to something else in painting music and literature Influenced by the environment from which they came all three grew to take a leading role in moving the arts in a bold new direction It was the age when Impressionism reinvented what painting could be when Naturalism changed how fiction is written and when Russia moved from the edges of European society to the vital role it has played ever since. Leading guiding determining this new course were Monet, Tchaikovsky and Zola. Parallel biographies of these three artistic geniuses follow them from the magic year of their birth to the point when they established themselves as bold original creators in the early 1870s. The book explores how they chose to follow careers in creative art, how each of them came to play such a central role in their respective domains and how those arts interacted and influenced each other. As they move through the cultural world of 19th century Europe, a panorama appears of the rich intellectual environment of France and Russia in that period as well as the unique experiences and talents that led all three to their towering position in modern culture. Often considered separately, art, music and literature come together in this study to offer a multifaceted view of a key era in the development of modernism in all the arts. Views of Russia & Russian Works on Paper, The Fate of the New Man Claire McCallum, 2018-07-03. Between 1945 and 1965 the catastrophe of war and the social and political changes it brought in its wake had a major impact on the construction of the Soviet masculine ideal. Drawing upon a wide range of visual material, The Fate of the New Man traces the dramatic changes in the representation of the Soviet man in the postwar period. It focuses on the two identities that came to dominate such depictions in the two decades after the end of the war: the Soviet man's previous role as a soldier and his new role in the home once the war was over. In this compelling study, Claire McCallum focuses on the reconceptualization of military heroism after the war, the representation of contentious subjects such as the war-damaged body and bereavement, and postwar changes to the depiction of the Soviet man as father. McCallum shows that it was the Second World War rather than the process of de-Stalinization that had the greatest impact on the masculine ideal, proving that even under the constraints of Socialist Realism, the physical and emotional devastation caused by the war was too great to go unacknowledged. The Fate of the New Man makes an important contribution to Soviet masculinity studies. McCallum's research also contributes to broader debates surrounding the impact of Stalin's death on Soviet society and on the nature of the subsequent Thaw, as well as to those concerning the relationship between Soviet culture and the realities of Soviet life. This fascinating study will appeal to scholars and students of Soviet history, masculinity studies and visual culture studies. Russian Orientalism in a global context Maria Taroutina, Allison Leigh, 2023-06-27. This volume features new research on Russia's historic relationship with Asia and the ways it was mediated and represented in the fine decorative and performing arts and architecture from the mid-eighteenth century to the first two decades of Soviet rule. It interrogates how Russia's perception of its position on the periphery of the west and its simultaneous self-consciousness as a colonial power shaped its artistic, cultural and national identity as a heterogeneous multi-ethnic empire. It also explores the extent to which cultural practitioners participated in the discursive matrices that advanced Russia's colonial machinery on the one hand and critiqued and challenged it on the other, especially in territories that were themselves on the fault lines between the east and the west. From Realism to the Silver Age Margaret Samu, 2014-06-01. This volume of thirteen essays presents rigorous new research by western and Russian scholars on Russian art of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. Over more than three decades after the publication of Elizabeth Valkenier's pioneering monograph Russian Realist Art, this impressive collection showcases the latest methodology and subjects of inquiry, expanding the parameters of what has become an area of enormous intellectual and popular appeal. Major artists including Ilya Repin, Valentin Serov, and Wassily Kandinsky are considered afresh, as are the Peredvizhnik and Mir iskusstva movements and the Abramtsevo community. The book also breaks new ground to embrace subjects such as Russian graphic satire and children's book illustration, as well as stimulating aspects of patronage and display. Collectively, the essays include a range of approaches from close textual readings to institutional critique. They also develop major themes inspired by Valkenier's work: among them, the emergence and evolution of cultural institutions; the development of aesthetic discourse and artistic terminology; debates between the Academy of Arts and its challengers; art criticism and the Russian press; and the resonance of various forms of nationalism within the art world. These and other questions engage multiple disciplines: those of art history, Slavic Russian studies, and cultural history, among others, and promise to fuel a vibrant and ascendant field.

Forum für osteuropäische Ideen- und Zeitgeschichte. 18. Jahrgang, Heft 1 [German-language Edition] Leonid Luks, Gunter Dehnert, John Andreas Fuchs, Nikolaus Lobkowicz, Alexei Rybakow, 2014-03-01

Since 1997 FORUM is an integral part of the journal landscape of European Studies. In addition to facts of contemporary history, it offers deep insights into the history of ideas, reflects current discussions, and provides reviews of books on Central and Eastern European history. Especially on the history of ideas and contemporary history, it offers more than just history: e.g. interdisciplinary discussions by political scientists, literary, legal, and economic scholars, and philosophers. FORUM sees itself as a bridge between East and West. Through the translation and publication of documents and contributions from Russian, Polish, and Czech researchers, it offers the Western reader insight into the scientific discourse within Eastern Europe.

Volume 18 Issue 1: The way the Federal Republic of Germany dealt with its past is seen by some as a role model for many post-authoritarian and post-totalitarian transition countries in East and West, despite some downsides of the long process of coping with the past after the German "zero hour". The current FORUM issue focuses on the comparison of the specifics of German memory culture with those of the Eastern European countries, especially Poland and Russia, since the beginning of their "de-Stalinization" debates.

Seit 1997 ist das FORUM fester Bestandteil der Zeitschriftenlandschaft der Osteuropaforschung. Politologen, Literatur-, Rechts- und Wirtschaftswissenschaftler sowie Philosophen zu Wort. Das FORUM versteht sich als Brücke zwischen Ost und West. Durch die Übersetzung und Veröffentlichung von Dokumenten und Beiträgen aus dem Russischen, Polnischen und Tschechischen bietet es dem westlichen Leser Einblicke in Russia and the Arts Rosalind Polly Blakesley, Tat'iāna Karpova, 2016 Russian portraiture enjoyed a golden age between the late 1860s and the First World War While Tolstoy and Dostoevsky were publishing masterpieces such as Anna Karenina and The Brothers Karamazov and Mussorgsky Tchaikovsky and Rimsky Korsakov were taking Russian music to new heights Russian art was developing a new self-confidence The penetrating Realism of the 1870s and 1880s was later complemented by the brighter hues of Russian Impressionism and the bold faceted forms of Symbolist painting In providing a context author Rosalind P.
