A Century of Revolution John Foran, 1994. Provides insight into the political currents that led to the Iranian revolution. Before late 1978, Iran did not occupy a large place in the public mind, mass media, or academic pursuits. With the massive upheaval of the next few months, all this changed, and the world is still trying to catch up with the dramatic events that brought Iran to its attention. This volume offers a much-needed look into the historical, social, and political developments leading up to the Iranian revolution. Bringing together a group of scholars, historians, and social scientists, most of them Iranian in origin, the book documents an extraordinary revolutionary heritage that predates this century. Each contributor examines a critical moment in Iranian social history on its own terms as well as within a larger theoretical and comparative context. The topics they take up include the Tobacco Rebellion of 1890-91, the Constitutional Revolution of 1905-11, the rise of Reza Khan between 1921 and 1925, the autonomy movement in Azerbaijan and Kurdistan after World War II, the oil nationalization movement under Musaddiq between 1951 and 1953, the unrest of the 1960-63 period, the Iranian revolution of 1977-79, the state of Iran since the revolution. Throughout, common themes emerge, especially the heterogeneous bases of Iranian social movements with respect to class, gender, and ethnicity, as well as the diverse discourses: nationalist, Islamic, socialist, populist, and radical, that have animated these movements. Representing a wide variety of perspectives and approaches, this volume provides crucial insight into the widely watched but poorly understood phenomenon of present-day Iran.

Kurds and the State in Iran Abbas Vali, 2014-04-11. In early 1946, Kurds declared an independent republic in north-west Iran, the Mahabad Republic. As it became known, this was the first time that the Kurds experienced self-rule in the modern era. Although short-lived, the Republic had a formative influence on the subsequent development of Kurdish nationalist movements in Iran and the wider region. Here Abbas Vali disputes the conventional view that the Kurdish Republic was the result of a Soviet conspiracy to dismember Iran, a side effect of the Cold War. Instead, he emphasizes the diversity of the internal Iranian and Kurdish factors that led to the formation of the Republic, arguing that the Republic represents the culmination of a new and modern Kurdish national identity. This was an identity which emerged in response to the exclusionary effects of the political and discursive processes and practices of the construction of a modern Iranian nation.

state and national identity since the Constitutional Revolution of 1906 which often excluded and attempted to override a Kurdish one Vali contends that this process largely due to the socio economic and cultural impact of the rule of Pahlavis in reality forced the Kurdish people of Iran to form and reinforce their own ethno linguistic and ethno national community The expressions of this separate identity can be traced through the formation and dissolution of Kurdish national parties such as the Kurdistan Democratic Party of Iran KDPI Kurds and the State in Iran offers an analysis of the formation and effects of the concepts of the state the nation nationalism and ethnic identity which go beyond current ethnicist and constructivist theories thus making it essential reading for anyone interested in the Kurds or the development of national and state identities in the Middle East War and Peace in Qajar Persia Roxane Farmanfarmanian,2008-01-30 With new and existing evidence being reconsidered this edited collection takes a multidisciplinary approach to discussing the Qajar system within the context of the wars that engulfed it and the periods of peace that ensued It throws new light on the decision making processes the restraints on action and the political exigencies at play during the Qajar years The to Z of Iran John H. Lorentz,2010-04-14 Alphabetically arranged entries cover key individuals major events important institutions and organizations and significant economic political social religious and cultural issues
