Lorna V. Williams

Sab By Gertrudis Gomez De Avellaneda:

Sab Gertrudis Gómez de Avellaneda, 1814-1873 was born in Cuba and split her life between Spain and her native island. Author of original novels, short stories, and drama, she wrote Sab (1836-1841), considered the first Cuban novel about slavery in the island. Within its plots and subplots, Sab comprises a modern message as Gertrudis Gomez de Avellaneda, a highly prized author during her active literary life, exposes and advocates for the principles of freedom and equal human as well as feminine rights by means of a highly romantic story building up a message that still stands valid today as in the contemporary world, human rights are subject of violent violations every day. The novel's first edition (1841), published in Spain, suffered the island's colonial government censorship. Upon arrival to La Habana, the copies were seized at the Cuba Royal Customs, the official Censor claiming that they express doctrines subversive to the island's slavery system. However, the vast majority of the modern criticism has resisted classifying this Avellaneda writing as anti-slavery. Aiming to rectify this conception, Prof. Ivan A. Schulman's foreword to this new edition highlights the anti-slavery elements imbedded in the text, all the while accepting that the author's voice provenience is the center or metropolis; thus, her speech shows many aspects that can be seen to agree with the Cuban sugar aristocracy's slavery supporting stance. The results of this duality is a two-faced novel, a story full with cogitations and contradictions about race, color, whitening, slavery, and feminism intertwined in a transgressor speech deeply rooted in the XIX Century Cuba.

Romantic Prose Fiction Gerald Ernest Paul Gillespie, Manfred Engel, Bernard Dieterle, 2008. In this volume, a team of three dozen international experts presents a fresh picture of literary prose fiction in the Romantic age, seen from cross-cultural and interdisciplinary perspectives. The work treats the appearance of major themes in characteristically Romantic versions, the power of Romantic discourse to reshape imaginative writing, and a series of crucial reactions to the impact of Romanticism on cultural life down to the present, both in Europe and in the New World. Through its combination of chapters on thematic, generic, and discursive features, Romantic Prose Fiction achieves a unique theoretical stance by considering the opinions of primary Romantics and their successors not as guiding truths by which to define the permanent meaning of Romanticism, but as data of cultural history that shed important light on an evolving civilization.

The Romanticism series in the Comparative History of Literatures in European Languages is the result of a remarkable international collaboration. The editorial team coordinated the efforts of over 100 experts from more than two dozen countries to produce five independently conceived yet interrelated volumes that show not only how Romanticism developed and spread in its principal European homelands and throughout the New World, but also the ways in which the affected literatures in reaction to Romanticism have redefined themselves into Modernism. A glance at the index of each volume quickly reveals the extraordinary richness of the series' total contents. Romantic Irony sets the broader experimental parameters of comparison by concentrating on the myriad expressions of irony as one of the major impulses in the Romantic philosophical and artistic revolution and by combining cross cultural and interdisciplinary studies with special attention also to literatures in less widely diffused language streams Romantic Drama traces creative innovations that deeply altered the understanding of genre at large fed popular imagination through vehicles like the opera and laid the foundations for a modernist theater of the absurd Romantic Poetry demonstrates deep patterns and a sharing of crucial themes of the revolutionary age which underlie the lyrical expression that flourished in so many languages and environments Nonfictional Romantic Prose assists us in coping with the vast array of writings from the personal and intimate sphere to modes of public discourse including Romanticism's own self commentary in theoretical statements on the arts society life the sciences and more Nor are the discursive dimensions of imaginative literature neglected in the closing volume Romantic Prose Fiction where the basic Romantic themes and story types the romance novel novella short story and other narrative forms are considered throughout Europe and the New World This enormous realm is seen not just in terms of Romantic theorizing but in the light of the impact of Romantic ideas and narration on later generations As an aid to readers the introduction to Romantic Prose Fiction explains the relationships among the volumes in the series and carries a listing of their tables of contents in an appendix No other series exists comparable to these volumes which treat the entirety of Romanticism as a cultural happening across the whole breadth of the Old and New Worlds and thus render a complex picture of European spiritual strivings in the late eighteenth and the nineteenth centuries a heritage still very close to our age SAB : roman original Gertrudis Gomez De Avellaneda, 2010-09-02 L ouvrage de Gertrudis Gomez de Avellaneda compte parmi les plus clbres romans hispanophones du 19e si cle Publi en 1841 il pr sente sur le fond de la colonie cubaine l histoire d un amour contrari subi par un esclave amoureux de la fille de ses ma tres Le roman pose le probl me de l h ritage colonial y compris de l esclavage dans les relations entre les sexes A l aide de cet artifice l ouvrage tend confondre de mani re productive le manichisme colonial qui faisait marcher le syst me esclavagiste et nous claire sur les grands d bats politiques et litt raires de l poque romantique Sab Gertrudis Gómez de Avellaneda, 1963 Fashioning Feminism in Cuba and Beyond Brigida M. Scott, 1993 Eleven years before Uncle Tom's Cabin fanned the fires of abolition in North America an aristocratic Cuban woman told an impassioned story of the fatal love of a mulatto slave for his white owner's daughter So controversial was Sab's theme of miscegenation and its parallel between the powerlessness and enslavement of blacks and the economic and matrimonial subservience of women that the book was not published in Cuba until 1914 seventy three years after its original 1841 publication in Spain Also included in the volume is Avellaneda's Autobiography 1839 whose portrait of an intelligent flamboyant woman struggling against the restrictions of her era amplifies the novel's exploration of the patriarchal oppression of minorities and women Imperialism and the Wider Atlantic Tania Gentic, Francisco

Williams, 1994 Incorporating recent narrative theory and original historical documents such as the voluminous correspondence of Domingo del Monte 1804-1853 Williams offers insights into the pattern of female development through an exploration of the representation of the female slave in the five novels In addition she provides the first exhaustive analysis of Gertrudis Gómez de Avellaneda's Sab and the first detailed treatment of the intertextual echoes in these other literary texts Juan Francisco Manzano's Autobiografía Amn'selmo Suarez y Romero's Francisco Antonio Zambrana's El negro Francisco Martín Morúa Delgado's Sofía and Cirilo Villaverde's Cecilia Valdes SAB :Novela original Gertrudis Gómez de Avellaneda y Arteaga, 1920 The Poetics of Plants in Spanish American Literature Lesley Wylie, 2020-12-08 The Poetics of Plants in Spanish American Literature examines the defining role of plants in cultural expression across Latin America particularly in literature From the colonial georgic to Pablo Neruda's Canto general Lesley Wylie's close study of botanical imagery demonstrates the fundamental role of the natural world and the relationship between people and plants in the region Plants are also central to literary forms originating in the Americas such as the New World Baroque described by Alejo Carpentier as nacido de rboles The book establishes how vegetal imaginaries are key to Spanish American attempts to renovate European forms and traditions as well as to the reconfiguration of the relationship between humans and nonhumans Such a reconfiguration which persistently draws on indigenous animist ontologies to blur the boundaries between people and plants anticipates much contemporary ecological thinking about our responsibility towards nonhuman nature and shows how environmental thinking by way of plants has a long history in Latin American literature Transamerican Literary Relations and the Nineteenth-Century Public Sphere Anna Brickhouse, 2004-09-02 This wide ranging comparative study argues for a fundamental reassessment of the literary history of the nineteenth century United States within the transamerican and multilingual contexts that shaped it Drawing on an array of texts in English French and Spanish by both canonical and neglected writers and activists Anna Brickhouse investigates interactions between US Latin American and Caribbean literatures Her many examples and case studies include the Mexican genealogies of Nathaniel Hawthorne the rewriting of Uncle Tom's Cabin by a Haitian dramatist and a French Caribbean translation of the poetry of Phillis Wheatley Brickhouse uncovers lines of literary influence and descent linking Philadelphia and Havana Port au Prince and Boston Paris and New Orleans She argues for a new understanding of this most formative period of literary production in the United States as a transamerican renaissance a rich era of literary border crossing and transcontinental cultural exchange The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History Bonnie G. Smith, 2008 The Encyclopedia of Women in World History captures the experiences of women throughout world history in a comprehensive 4 volume work Although there has been extensive research on women in history by region no text or reference work has comprehensively covered the role women have played throughout world history The past thirty years have seen an explosion of research and effort to present the experiences and contributions of women not only in the Western world but across the globe. Historians have investigated women's daily lives in virtually every region and have researched the leadership roles women have filled across time and region. They have found and demonstrated that there is virtually no historical social or demographic change in which women have not been involved and by which their lives have not been affected. The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History benefits greatly from these efforts and experiences and illuminates how women worldwide have influenced and been influenced by these historical social and demographic changes. The Encyclopedia contains over 1,250 signed articles arranged in an A-Z format for ease of use. The entries cover six main areas: biographies, geography and history, comparative culture and society, including adoption, abortion, performing arts, organizations and movements such as the Egyptian Uprising and the Paris Commune, women's and gender studies, and topics in world history that include slave trade, globalization and disease. With its rich and insightful entries by leading scholars and experts, this reference work is sure to be a valued go-to resource for scholars, college and high school students, and general readers alike.

Concise Encyclopedia of Latin American Literature Verity Smith, 2014-01-14. The Concise Encyclopedia includes all entries on topics and countries cited by many reviewers as being among the best entries in the book: entries on the 50 leading writers in Latin America from colonial times to the present and detailed articles on some 50 important works in this literature, those who read and studied in the English speaking world.

Why Slavery Endures David W. Bulla, 2020-11-09. This book examines slavery, an antiquated, ugly, inhumane practice seemingly abolished in the nineteenth century yet never eradicated. The legacies of historical slavery have become increasingly subject to public debate, manifested in calls for reparations, the UNESCO Slave Route Project, and in the dismantling of Confederate monuments in the United States. NGOs have researched and publicized the extent of contemporary slavery, which some of the essays in this collection discuss. This area of inquiry intersects with wider debates about the legacies of colonialism and structural racism, which could be seen in the Rhodes Must Fall campaigns in South Africa. Oxford NGOs estimate that there are between 21 and 46 million slaves worldwide today. The essays gathered here critically examine the historical roots of slavery, the issue of reparations, and deconstruct contemporary human trafficking.

Critical Essays on World Literature, Comparative Literature and the "Other" Jüri Talvet, 2019-09-18. The book offers coherent theoretical treatment of the conceptions of World Literature and Comparative Literature in parallel with their practical application to the research of different literary phenomena: Renaissance and Baroque creativity, literary canons, philosophy of translation, etc., especially as viewed from the point of view of the other, peripheral, minor, minority, national, linguistic cultures. Envisaging womankind's historical liberation and a budding comparative world sensibility has been seen as one of the greatest merits of European creative humanists. To explain the deep sources of creativity and image authenticity, the notions of the aesthetic, the other, and philosophical transgeniality have been introduced. The proposed aim would be to transcend monologues of ideological cultural centres as well as formalistic and sociological trends in cultural and literary research and teaching The book advocates a plurality of creative dialogues and a mutually enriching symbiotic relationship between centres and peripheries A Comparative Literary History of Modern Slavery Madeleine Dobie, Mads Anders Baggesgaard, Karen-Margrethe Simonsen, 2024-12-15 The first volume of A Comparative Literary History of Modern Slavery explores literary representations of enslavement with a focus on the emotions The contributors consider how the diverse emotions generated by slavery have been represented over a historical period stretching from the 16th century to the present and across regions languages media and genres The seventeen chapters explore different framings of emotional life in terms of sentiments and affects and consider how emotions intersect with literary registers and movements such as melodrama and realism They also examine how writers including some formerly enslaved people sought to activate the feelings of readers notably in the context of abolitionism In addition to obvious psychological responses to slavery such as fear sorrow and anger they explore minor key affects such as shame disgust and nostalgia and address the complexity of depicting love and intimacy in situations of domination Two forthcoming volumes explore the literary history of slavery in relation to memory and to practices of authorship Latinx Revolutionary Horizons Renee Hudson, 2024-05-07 A necessary reconceptualization of Latinx identity literature and politics In Latinx Revolutionary Horizons Renee Hudson theorizes a liberatory latinidad that is not yet here and conceptualizes a hemispheric project in which contemporary Latinx authors return to earlier moments of revolution Rather than viewing Latinx as solely a category of identification she argues for an expansive historicized sense of the term that illuminates its political potential Claiming the x in Latinx as marking the suspension and tension between how Latin American descended people identify and the future politics the x points us toward Hudson contends that latinidad can signal a politics grounded in shared struggles and histories rather than merely a mode of identification In this way Latinx Revolutionary Horizons reads against current calls for cancelling latinidad based on its presumed anti Black and anti Indigenous framework Instead she examines the not yet here of latinidad to investigate the connection between the revolutionary history of the Americas and the creation of new genres in the hemisphere from conversion narratives and dictator novels to neoslave narratives and testimonios By comparing colonialisms she charts a revolutionary genealogy across a range of movements such as the Mexican Revolution the Filipino People Power Revolution resistance to Trujillo in the Dominican Republic and the Cuban Revolution In pairing nineteenth century authors alongside contemporary Latinx ones Hudson examines a longer genealogy of Latinx resistance while expanding its literary canon from the works of Jos Rizal and Martin Delany to those of Julia Alvarez Jessica Hagedorn and Leslie Marmon Silko In imagining a truly transnational latinidad Latinx Revolutionary Horizons thus rewrites our understanding of the nationalist formations that continue to characterize Latinx Studies Nineteenth-Century Literature Criticism Lynn M.
