A History of English Laughter Manfred Pfister,2002 Is there a history of laughter Or isn t laughter an anthropological constant rather and thus beyond history a human feature that has defined humanity as homo ridens from cave man and cave woman to us The contributors to this collection of essays believe that laughter does have a history and try to identify continuities and turning points of this history by studying a series of English texts both canonical and non canonical from Anglosaxon to contemporary As this is not another book on the history of the comic or of comedy it does not restrict itself to comic genres some of the essays actually go out of their way to discover laughter at the margins of texts where one would not have expected it all in Beowulf or Paradise Lost or the Gothic Novel Laughter at the margins of texts which often coincides with laughter from the margins of society and its orthodoxies is one of the special concerns of this book This goes together with an interest in impure forms of laughter in laughter that is not the serene and intellectually or emotionally distanced response to a comic stimulus which is at the heart of many philosophical theories of the comic but emotionally disturbed and troubled aggressive and transgressive satanic and sardonic laughter We do not ask then what is comic but who laughs at and with whom where when why and how The Story of Creation Gibson Callaway Andrews,1900 Letters to Young Scholars, Second Edition William Carey Ringenberg,2018-04-05 Letters to Young Scholars is designed primarily for college students advanced high school students and church and parachurch study groups on spiritual development As a college text the book introduces beginning students to the general education or liberal arts portion of a Christian college education It gives major emphasis to the humanities and social science disciplines the integration of the Christian faith with those disciplines and the application of Christian thought to daily living applied Christianity It seeks to challenge the students to become broader in perspective and appreciation more compassionate toward all of God s creatures and more confident and committed as they develop their worldviews and personal values
