Turning the Page Fiona M. Collins, Jeremy Ridgman, 2006 Since the nineteenth century children's literature has been adapted for both the stage and the screen As the twentieth century progressed children's books provided the material for an increasing range of new media from radio to computer games from television to cinema blockbuster Although such adaptations are now recognised as a significant part of the culture of childhood and popular culture in general little has been written about the range of products and experiences that they generate This book brings together writers whose work offers contrasting perspectives on the process of adaptation and the varying transformations social historical and ideological that take place when a text moves from the page to another medium Linking all these contributions is an interest in the changing definition of children s literature and its target audience within an increasingly media rich society

Captured Landscape Kate Baker,2018-03-20 The enclosed garden or hortus conclusus is a place where architecture and landscape come together. It has a long and varied history ranging from the early paradise garden and cloister, the botanic garden and giardino segreto, the kitchen garden and as a stage for social display. The enclosed garden has continued to develop into its many modern forms: the city retreat, the redemptive garden, the deconstructed building. As awareness of climate change becomes increasingly important, the enclosed garden, which can mediate so effectively between interior and exterior, provides opportunities for sustainable design and closer contact with the natural landscape. By its nature, it is ambiguous. Is it an outdoor room or captured landscape? Is it architecture or garden? Kate Baker discusses the continuing relevance of the typology of the enclosed garden to contemporary architects by exploring influential historical examples and the concepts they generate alongside some of the best of contemporary designs brought to life with vivid photography and detailed drawings taken primarily from Britain, the Mediterranean, Japan and North and South America. She argues that understanding the potential of the enclosed garden requires us to think of it as both a design and an experience. Captured Landscape provides a broad range of information and design possibilities for students of architectural and landscape design, practising architects, landscape designers and horticulturalists and will also appeal to a wider audience of all those who are interested in garden design. This second edition of Captured Landscape is enriched with new case studies throughout the book. The scope has now been broadened to include an entirely new chapter concerning the urban condition with detailed discussions on issues of ecology, sustainability, economy of means, well-being and the social pressures of contemporary city life.

In the Garden Angelica Shirley Carpenter, 2006

This book is a collection of articles about the life and work of Frances Hodgson Burnett. The broad range of subjects and the varied backgrounds of the contributing authors are a tribute to Burnett's wide and international appeal. The book includes articles by three Burnett biographers, criticism of Burnett's works and literary and social analysis of her books by scholars from several countries. These range from Pulitzer Prize winner Alison Lurie to new scholars who are being published here for the first time. The articles range from essays to transcripts of interviews and speeches and a filmography. The book presents new research on films and plays based on Burnett books. The primary organization of the essays is chronological, but the book is also arranged to reflect the structure of the Frances Hodgson Burnett Beyond the Secret Garden Conference held at California State University, Fresno, April 25-27, 2003.

Baden-Powell Tim Jeal, 2001-08-11

R S S Baden Powell, who founded the Boy Scouts movement in 1908, was a British military hero during the Boer War and an author, actor, artist, spy, sportsman and female impersonator. In this absorbing and humane account of Baden Powell's extraordinary life, Tim Jeal reveals for the first time the complex figure behind the saintly public mask, showing him to be a man of both dazzling talents and crippling secret fears. Reviews of the earlier edition: Baden Powell's life story is as rich and engrossing as any of his memorable campfire yarns; a monumental biography. Zara Steiner, New York Times Book Review. In an age of good biographies, here is one that deserves to be called great; a magnificent book. Piers Brendon, Mail on Sunday. Jeal's Baden Powell is brave and self-seeking devious and honorable a domestic paragon whose repressed homosexuality fired his career a soldier of genius who ultimately rejected militarism The story that Tim Jeal has to tell is epic funny and touching Philip Oakes New Statesman
