Security And Politics In South Africa The Regional Dimension:

Security and Politics in South Africa Peter Vale,2023 In this analysis of South Africa s postapartheid security system Peter Vale moves beyond a realist discussion of interacting states to examine southern Africa as an integrated whole Vale argues that despite South Africa s manipulation of state structures and elites in the region for its own ends the suffering endured under the apartheid regime drew the region together at the popular level and economic factors such as the use of migrant labor reinforced the process of integration Exploring how the region is changing today as transnational solidarity and a single regional economy remove the distinctions between national and international politics he asks whether South African domination can finally be overcome and considers what sort of cosmopolitan political arrangement will be appropriate for southern Africa in the new century

Theory of World Security Ken Booth, 2007-12-20 What is real What can we know How might we act This book sets out to answer these fundamental philosophical questions in a radical and original theory of security for our times Arguing that the concept of security in world politics has long been imprisoned by conservative thinking Ken Booth explores security as a precious instrumental value which gives individuals and groups the opportunity to pursue the invention of humanity rather than live determined and diminished lives Booth suggests that human society globally is facing a set of converging historical crises He looks to critical social theory and radical international theory to develop a comprehensive framework for understanding the historical challenges facing global business as usual and for planning to reconstruct a more cosmopolitan future Theory of World Security is a challenge both to well established ways of thinking about security and alternative approaches within critical security studies

Towards a Common Defence and Security Policy in the Southern African Development Community Hussein Solomon, 2004 From a historical post apartheid perspective this book argues that apartheid destabilisation in the Southern African sub region resulted in a particular form of regionalisation which favoured state security over human security stressed solidarity and regarded external intervention as inimical to its own interests It

argues that this stance was fundamentally anti democratic and that its legacy haunts the organs SADC and the SADC Organ on Politics Defence and Security as the premier vehicles for security cooperation in the region The book argues that a further legacy of apartheid destabilisation was to foster national sovereignties at the expense of a collective regional identity the present challenge being for SADC to decide how best to move to considerations of regional security It then addresses issues such as the need to develop a common military doctrine command training and control The book is divided into three parts The first provides historical background to the current developments outlining the challenges facing the region s policymakers and citizens The second part focuses on the nuts and bolts of defence cooperation among the SADC states The final part addresses the SADC Organ on Politics Defence and Security its institutional problems and outlines possible mechanisms for correcting them The contributors are mostly connected with the Africa Institute of South Africa and the University of Pretoria

Civil Society Regionalization in Southern Africa Andréas Godsäter, 2016-05-12 This book investigates civil society regionalization in Southern Africa The point of departure is the study of new regionalism which refers to the wave of regional integration globally since the 1980s However whilst the current regionalism studies undoubtedly contributes to a deeper understanding of regional processes important gaps remain in particular the relatively scant emphasis given to civil society This particularly relates to regions in the global South including Southern Africa The overarching aim of this book is therefore to analyse the dynamics of civil society regionalization in Southern Africa both empirically and from a theoretical perspective through analysing the cases of trade and HIV AIDS The study finds that CSOs can be more active in regional governance than has previously been conceptualized and are also highly active in terms of constructing regionalization through framing issues and to a less extent making identities regional Furthermore the book enhances knowledge of the heterogeneous nature of civil society regionalization Lastly it is demonstrated that going regional is only partly an autonomous process and also has to be understood as under the influence of the deeper statist and capitalist social structures marking the regional order in Southern Africa Politics and Pan-Africanism Dawn Nagar, 2019-12-12

Offering an examination of the diplomatic and economic regional power structures in Africa and their relationships with each other Dawn Nagar discusses the potential and future of pan Africanism The three primary regional economic communities RECs that are recognised by the African Union as the key building blocks of a united Africa are examined these are the Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa COMESA the East African Community EAC and the Southern African Development Community SADC These RECS include Africa s major economies Egypt South Africa and Kenya but are also home to Africa s most conflict prone and volatile states the Democratic Republic of the Congo DRC Burundi South Sudan Somalia and Lesotho Providing a detailed overview of the current relationship between these power blocs this book provides insight into the current state of diplomatic and economic relations within Africa and shows how far there is to go for a future of Pan Africanism
