Seeing Anthropology W Video:

Seeing Anthropology Karl G. Heider, 2004 Seeing Anthropology continues to be the only cultural anthropology text available that allows for easy integration of ethnographic films into the introductory cultural anthropology course. This text truly incorporates films within the text by blending textbook content with fourteen ethnographic film clips that are put in the hands of students. More flexible ordering options are available with the new edition. See New to this Edition section below. One reviewer says: "The greatest strengths of this text are its unique and skillful use of film clips to enhance student learning. I can think of no better way to extend student learning in anthropology than the use of films and there is no one more qualified to select and present anthropological films than the author of this book." Seeing and Being Seen Hilary E.

Kahn, 2010-01-01 The practice of morality and the formation of identity among an indigenous Latin American culture are framed in a pioneering ethnography of sight that attempts to reverse the trend of anthropological fieldwork and theory overshadowing one another. In this vital and richly detailed work, methodology and theory are treated as complementary partners as the author explores the dynamic Mayan customs of the Q'eqchi' people living in the cultural crossroads of Livingston, Guatemala. Here Q'eqchi' Ladino and Garifuna Caribbean coast Afro-Indians societies interact among themselves and with others ranging from government officials to capitalists to contemporary tourists. The fieldwork explores the politics of sight and incorporates a video camera operated by multiple people: the author and the Q'eqchi' people themselves, to watch unobtrusively the traditions, rituals, and everyday actions that exemplify the long-standing moral concepts guiding the Q'eqchi' in their relationships and tribulations. Sharing the camera lens as well as the lens of ethnographic authority allows the author to slip into the world of the Q'eqchi' and capture their moral, social, political, economic, and spiritual constructs shaped by history, ancestry, external forces, and time itself. A comprehensive history of the Q'eqchi' illustrates how these former plantation laborers migrated to lands far from their Mayan ancestral homes to co-exist as one of several competing cultures and what impact this had on maintaining continuity in their identities, moral codes of conduct, and perception of the changing outside world. With the innovative use of visual methods and theories, the author's reflexive, sensory-oriented ethnographic approach makes this a study that itself becomes a reflection of the complex set of social structures embodied in its subject.

Seeing South Asia Dev Nath Pathak, Biswajit Das, Ratan Kumar Roy, 2022-04-11 This book critically examines the cultural politics of visuals in South Asia. It makes a key contribution to the study of visuals in the social sciences in South Asia by studying the interplay of the seen and unseen and the visual and nonvisual. The volume explores interrelated themes including the vernacular visual and visuality, ways of seeing in South Asia, and the methodology of hermeneutic sensorium, anxiety, and politics of the visuals across the region and the trajectory of visual anthropology, significance of visual symbols and representations in contemporary performances and folk art, visual landscapes of loss and recovery, and representation of refugees, visual public in South Asia, and making of visuals for contemporary consumptions. The chapters unravel the concepts of visual visibility visuality while attending to determinant meta ideas such as memory and modernity trajectories of tradition fluidity and hybridity and visual performative politics Based on interdisciplinary resources the chapters in this volume present a wide array of empirical findings across India Pakistan Sri Lanka Nepal and Bangladesh along with analytical readings of the visual culture of the subcontinent across borders The book will be useful to scholars and researchers of visual and cultural studies social and cultural anthropology sociology political studies media and communications studies performance studies art history television and film studies photography studies and South Asian studies It will also interest practitioners including artists visual artists photographers filmmakers and media critics Writing and Seeing Rui Manuel G. de Carvalho Homem, Maria de Fátima Lambert, 2006 The essays in this volume are informed by a variety of theoretical assumptions and of critical methodologies but they all share an interest in the intersections of word and image in a variety of media This unifying rationale secures the present collection's central position in the current critical context defined as it predominantly is by ways of reading that are based on a relational nexus The intertextual the intermedial the intersemiotic are indeed foregrounded and combined in these essays conceptually as much as in the critical practices favoured by the various contributions Studies of literature in its relation to pictorial genres enjoy a relative prominence in the volume but the range of media and of approaches considered is broad enough to include photography film video television comic strips animated film public art material culture The backgrounds of contributors are likewise diverse culturally academically linguistically The volume combines contributions by prominent scholars and critics with essays by younger scholars from a variety of backgrounds The resulting plurality of perspective is indeed a source of new insights into the relations between writing and seeing and it contributes to making this collection an exciting new contribution to word and image studies films and videos and serves as a comprehensive resource for social scientists looking to better understand and appreciate the unique ways in which film and video can serve as ways of knowing and as tools of knowledge mobilization Comprised of 31 chapters authored by some of the world's leading experts in their respective fields the book's contributors synthesize existing literature introduce the historical and conceptual dimensions of the field illustrate innovative methodologies and techniques survey traditional and new technologies reflect on ethics and moral imperatives outline ways to work with people objects and tools and shape the future agenda of the field With a particular focus on making ethnographic film and video as opposed to analyzing or critiquing it from a variety of methodological approaches and styles the Handbook provides both a comprehensive introduction and up to date survey of the field for a vast variety of audiovisual researchers such as scholars and students in sociology anthropology geography communication and media studies education cultural studies film studies visual arts and related social science and humanities As such it will appeal to a multidisciplinary and international audience and features a dynamic forward thinking innovative and contemporary focus oriented toward the very latest developments in the field as well as future possibilities

Visual Research Jerome W. Crowder, Jonathan S. Marion, 2020-06-11 Visual Research A Concise Introduction to Thinking Visually is the first text to present a concise overview of the significant ethical theoretical and practical considerations for conducting research with images The capacity to take photos and video on handheld devices and the ability to store post and share such imagery online all offer tremendous opportunities for social research The rapid development and popularity of such technology means that little technological proficiency is required and even less theoretical and ethical consideration This book provides an accessible introduction to doing visual research in the social sciences Beginning with ethical considerations this book highlights the importance of thinking visually before engaging in visual research Further themes involve creating organizing and using images and are presented so as to help readers think about and work with their own visual data Boxed case studies and further reading suggestions enhance the utility of this primer Concise and highly focused Visual Research will be an invaluable resource for visual media and communications students and researchers and others interested in visual research in the social sciences

SAGE Visual Methods Jason Hughes, 2012-07-23 In contemporary Western societies the visual domain has come to assume a hitherto unprecedented cultural centrality Daily life is replete with a potentially endless stream of images and other visual messages from the electronic and paper based billboards of the street to the TV and Internet feeds of the home The visual has become imbued with a symbolic potency a signifying power that seemingly eclipses that of all other sensory data The central aim of this four volume collection is to explore key approaches to visual research methods and to consider some of the core principles issues debates and controversies surrounding the use of visual techniques in relation to three key enterprises 1 documentation and representation 2 interpretation and classification and 3 elicitation and collaboration Volume One Principles Issues Debates and Controversies in Visual Research serves as a theoretical backdrop to the field as a whole It introduces core epistemological ethical and methodological debates that effectively cut across the four volume collection as a whole Volume Two Documentation and Representation illustrates approaches to visual documentation and representation from classical documentaries to contemporary state of the art modes of visual anthropology and ethnography Volume Three Interpretation and Classification examines core debates surrounding and approaches to visual analysis Volume Four Elicitation and Collaboration explores participative approaches to visual inquiry

Seeing Things Kartik Nair, 2024-02-13 In 1980s India the Ramsay Brothers and other filmmakers produced a wave of horror movies about soul sucking witches knife wielding psychopaths and dark caped vampires Seeing Things is about the sudden cuts botched makeup effects continuity errors and celluloid damage found in these movies Kartik Nair reads such failures as clues to the conditions in which the films were made censored and seen offering a view from below of the world's largest film culture By combining close analysis with extensive archival research and original interviews Seeing Things reveals the spectral materialities informing the genre's haunted houses grotesque bodies and graphic violence

Child's Play Re-envisaged through Virtual Reality Rene Novak, 2025-06-12 In this book Dr Rene Novak reveals new ways of understanding children's play by liberating it from the constraints of standardised educational agendas Drawing on Heidegger's concepts of Enframing and poiesis and phenomenological inquiry this innovative study explores how immersive virtual reality VR videos can serve as metaphysical laboratories Through vivid embodied experiences early childhood educators cross the cybernetic looking glass to become one with play and discover transformative insights for holistic child development Dr Rene Novak investigates the potential of immersive pedagogy by merging visual pedagogy with embodiment theory to highlight the critical role of teacher presence in educational phenomena Educators become invisible observers stepping inside the flow of play while relinquishing preconceived enframed discourses and misconceptions The result is a reshaping of pedagogy and policy steering away from prescriptive goals toward play as a self actualising educational experience By reconceptualising how free play unfolds this book challenges educators policymakers and parents to embrace the true essence of play in early learning This book is an essential resource for anyone seeking to understand how to foster creativity social emotional growth and deeper engagement in a play based curriculum

Seeing Religion Roman Williams, 2015-05-13 The potential of visual research methods in the sociology of religion is vast but largely untapped This comes as a surprise however given the visual symbolic and material nature of religion and spirituality Evidence of religious faith and practice is materially present in everything from clothing and jewelry to artifacts found in people's homes and workplaces Not only is religion's symbolic and material presence palpable throughout society it also informs attitudes beliefs and behaviors of countless people worldwide Words and numbers approaches to social research however sometimes miss important dimensions of religion and spirituality in the contemporary world Seeing Religion is an invitation to a visual sociology of religion Contributors draw from their current research to discuss the application of visual methods to the study of religion and spirituality Each chapter stimulates the sociological imagination through examples of research techniques analytical approaches and methodological concerns The Interview Association of Social Anthropologists of the UK and the Commonwealth.
