Bonnie Smith,2020-07-31 A better sister novel for To Kill a Mockingbird this southern bildungsroman Black Eyed Peas and Turnip Greens written by 92 year old first time author Bonnie Smith plants our imaginations vividly in the soil of her poverty stricken childhood and develops in us not pity but endearing admiration Both a raw confessional and tale of triumph Smith s voice is as fresh and flourishing as her first day of school amid violent bullies and shaming teachers whose relentless taunting only serve to fertilize a bounty of inner strength that will see her from coast to coast through decades of anti female working conditions failed marriages and drug abusing children What most amazes and inspires in this sometimes funny always generous and deeply soul searching autobiography is that Smith remains thankful for the scarlet P that poverty etched upon her mind I want all my high school students to read it as soon as possible while the author lives to receive our thank you notes Lauren Graham English Writing Instructor

Running on Red Dog Road Drema Hall Berkheimer,2016-04-12
Mining companies piled trash coal in a slag heap and set it ablaze The coal burned up but the slate didn t The heat turned it rose and orange and lavender The dirt road I lived on was paved with that sharp edged rock We called it Red Dog My grandmother always told me Don t you go running on that Red Dog road But oh I did Gypsies faith healers moonshiners and snake handlers weave through Drema s childhood in 1940s Appalachia after Drema s father is killed in the coal mines her mother goes off to work as a Rosie the Riveter and she is left in the care of devout Pentecostal grandparents What follows is a spitfire of a memoir that reads like a novel with intrigue sweeping emotion and indisputable charm Drema s coming of age is colored by tent revivals with Grandpa jitterbug lessons and traveling carnivals and though it all she serves witness to a multi generational family of saints and sinners whose lives defy the stereotypes Just as she defies her own Running On Red Dog Road is proof that truth is stranger than fiction especially when it comes to life and faith in an Appalachian childhood
