Tracing the Autobiographical Marlene Kadar, Susanna Egan, 2009-10-22 The essays in Tracing the Autobiographical work with the literatures of several nations to reveal the intersections of broad agendas for example national ones with the personal the private and the individual Attending to ethics exile tyranny and hope the contributors listen for echoes and murmurs as well as authoritative declarations They also watch for the appearance of auto biography in unexpected places tracing patterns from materials that have been left behind Many of the essays return to the question of text or traces of text demonstrating that the language of autobiography as well as the textualized identities of individual persons can be traced in multiple media and sometimes unlikely documents each of which requires close textual examination These unlikely documents include a deportation list an art exhibit reality TV Web sites and chat rooms architectural spaces and government memos as well as the more familiar literary genres a play the long poem or the short story Interdisciplinary in scope and contemporary in outlook Tracing the Autobiographical is a welcome addition to autobiography scholarship focusing on non traditional genres and on the importance of location and place in life writing Read the chapter Gender Nation and Self Narration Three Generations of Dayan Women in Palestine Israel by Bina Freiwald on the Concordia University Library Spectrum Research Repository website

Cathedrals of Bone John C. Waldmeir, 2009-08-25 The metaphor of the Church as a body has shaped Catholic thinking since the Second Vatican Council Its influence on theological inquiries into Catholic nature and practice is well known less obvious is the way it has shaped a generation of Catholic imaginative writers Cathedrals of Bone is the first full length study of a cohort of Catholic authors whose art takes seriously the themes of the Council from novelists such as Mary Gordon Ron Hansen Louise Erdrich and J F Powers to poets such as Annie Dillard Mary Karr Lucia Perillo and Anne Carson to the Pulitzer Prize winning playwright John Patrick Shanley Motivated by the inspirational yet thoroughly incarnational rhetoric of Vatican II each of these writers encourages readers to think about the human body as a site perhaps the most important site of interaction between God and human beings Although they represent the body in different ways these late twentieth century Catholic artists share a sense of its inherent value Moreover they use ideas and terminology from the rich tradition of Catholic sacramentality especially as it was articulated in the documents of Vatican II to describe that value In this way they challenge the Church to take its own tradition seriously and to reconsider its relationship to a relatively recent apologetics that has emphasized a narrow view of human reason and a rigid sense of orthodoxy

Common Threads Sally Dwyer-McNulty,2014-04-15 A well illustrated cultural history of the apparel worn by American Catholics Sally Dwyer McNulty s Common Threads reveals the transnational origins and homegrown significance of clothing in developing identity unity and a sense of respectability for a major religious group that had long struggled for its footing in a Protestant dominated society often openly hostile to Catholics Focusing on those who wore the most visually distinct clothes priests women religious and schoolchildren the story begins in the 1830s when most American priests were foreign born and wore a variety of clerical styles Dwyer McNulty tracks and analyzes changes in Catholic clothing all the way through the twentieth century and into the present which finds the new Pope Francis choosing to wear plain black shoes rather than ornate red ones Drawing on insights from the study of material culture and of lived religion Dwyer McNulty demonstrates how the visual lexicon of clothing in Catholicism can indicate gender ideology age and class Indeed clothing itself has become a kind of Catholic language whether expressing shared devotional experiences or entwined with debates about education authority and the place of religion in American society

Textual Intimacy Wesley A. Kort,2012-05-23 Given its affinity with questions of identity autobiography offers a way into the interior space between author and reader especially when writers define themselves in terms of religion In his exploration of this textual intimacy Wesley Kort begins with a theorization of what it means to say who one is and how one s self account as a religious person stands in relation to other forms of self identification He then provides a critical analysis of autobiographical texts by nine contemporary American writers including Maya Angelou Philip Roth and Anne Lamott who give religion a positive place in their accounts of who they are Finally in disclosing his own religious identity Kort concludes with a meditation on several meanings of the word assumption

Graceful Exits Debra Campbell,2003-11-27 The personal narratives of nine 20th century Catholic female authors Monica Baldwin Antonia White Mary McCarthy Mary Gordon Mary Daly Barbara Ferraro Patricia Hussey Karen Armstrong and Patricia Hampl speak eloquently about the process of departure from the church and its institutions This study explores each author s breaking of the taboo associated with women leaving their proper place It locates five themes at the heart of all of their narratives reversal boundary crossing diaspora renaming and recycling Debra Campbell grapples with the spirituality of departure depicted by all nine women for whom the very process of leaving Catholic institutions is a Catholic enterprise These narratives support the popular maxim that no one ever really leaves the church In the final chapter Campbell examines narratives of return confirming the book s overarching theme that neither departure nor return is ever finished
