Witnessing Australian Stories Kelly Jean Butler, 2013 The Australian Nation shows

how British and Irish settlers and their descendants have combined to create a distinctive Australian nationality Partington ranges widely and easily over politics religion education literature art music and sport He identifies blemishes as well as merits in the Australia created by British and Irish immigrants and values the legacy derived from their efforts This work is a meditation on the shaping of time and its impact on living with and understanding atrocity in South Africa in the wake of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission TRC It is an examination of the ways that the institutionalization of memory has managed perceptions of transition of events and happenings of violence and recovery of the past and the new The politics of historical truth of memory and of justice play out in unintended ways There is not only the ongoing struggle for survivors of state terror but also the ways that the ongoing sense of injustice the emptiness of reconciliation and the fracturing of hope remain embedded in everyday life Book jacket Vulnerability and Resilience Jione Havea, 2020-01-28 In Vulnerability and Resilience vulnerability is not the final word Rather resilience provides the cutting edge and living breath in the stories of subjects who are vulnerable And they have many stories stories of being trapped in bodies teachings and or situations that make them and others like them vulnerable to discrimination hatred and rejection stories of being trapped because of their bodies theologies and or cultures and stories of being trapped for no good reason For subjects who are vulnerable life is like a maze of traps and stories of resilience keep them going The contributors to Vulnerability and Resilience refuse to be trapped At the intersection of body and liberation theologies they tell their stories in the hope that they will expose cultures that make individuals and communities vulnerable and that those stories will encourage vulnerable subjects to be resilient and bring change to theological institutions that conserve vulnerability Because of the location of the contributors the Americas Africa Asia Europe Caribbean and Oceania this book is a testimony that vulnerability is present all over the world and that resilience is a liberating alternative An Immigrant Nation Seeks Cohesion James Jupp, 2018-04-10 An Immigrant Nation Seeks Cohesion presents Australian traditions myths and legends in an understanding but often critical light in the belief that such devices have often been used by interested parties and even governments to maintain social solidarity and to mould a very complex people into a coherent and obedient whole Australia is not and never has been an equal society It has not always been a peaceful and tolerant society but it is more so than most other states and especially many of those sending immigrants It is not a perfect democracy Many have been mistreated and even persecuted but that most of those suffering at present are either indigenous or refugees should not be a cause of indifference Australians may be suspicious of foreigners and social and political deviants But they have passed a whole series of reforming laws since the Federation in 1901 not all of which have been as racist as the White Australia policy An Immigrant Nation Seeks Cohesion attempts to get a little bit closer to the truth of two hundred years of creating a liveable society in what was a remote and unknown part of the world

Looking for Elizabeth Helen Trinca, 2025-07-15 The full story of an Australian literary enigma Why did Elizabeth Harrower one of Australia's most important postwar authors stop writing at the height of her powers After publishing four books that earned the admiration of Patrick White Shirley Hazzard and Christina Stead Harrower published no more novels She faded from the literary landscape until being rediscovered decades later to international acclaim In Looking for Elizabeth Helen Trinca unravels this mystery Exploring the personal and artistic forces that shaped Harrower's writing she draws a sensitive portrait of a wounded divorced child and the legacy of abandonment she carried throughout her life She probes the contradictions of a woman who wielded extraordinary insight into others' lives but guarded her own fiercely And she vividly brings to life the literary circles of this fascinating era in Australian culture Based on interviews with Harrower and full access to her archive Looking for Elizabeth is the first full biography of this significant figure in Australian letters A masterful deep dive into the enigmatic life of a writer who stunned and then stopped This is a monumental addition to Australian literary biography that's destined to become a classic Nikki Gemmell A biography that is every bit as beguiling and complex as its towering subject Exacting exhaustive and utterly essential The more I read the more compelled I felt to cut out a picture of Elizabeth Harrower and stick it above my writing desk Trent Dalton

The history and spirituality of the region is the glue that binds this alluring memoir together and turns it into a journey through Australia unlike any other. World Literature Today Jan/Feb 2015

Outback and Out West Tom Lynch, 2022-11. Outback and Out West examines the ecological consequences of a settler colonial imaginary by comparing expressions of settler colonialism in the literature of the American West and Australian Outback. Tom Lynch traces exogenous domination in both regions which resulted in many similar means of settlement including pastoralism, homestead acts, afforestation efforts, and bioregional efforts at belonging. Lynch pairs the two nations' texts to show how an analysis at the intersection of ecocriticism and settler colonialism requires a new canon that is responsive to the social, cultural, and ecological difficulties created by settlement in the West and Outback. Outback and Out West draws out the regional Anthropocene dimensions of settler colonialism considering such pressing environmental problems as habitat loss, groundwater depletion, and mass extinctions. Lynch studies the implications of our settlement heritage on history, art, and the environment through the cross-national comparison of spaces. He asserts that bringing an ecocritical awareness to settler colonial theory is essential for reconciliation with dispossessed Indigenous populations as well as reparations for ecological damages as we work to decolonize engagement with and literature about these places.

Sisters in Peace Kate Laing, 2023-11-03. Is preparing for war the best means of preserving peace? In Sisters in Peace, Kate Laing contends that this question has never been solely the concern of politicians and strategists. She maps successive generations of twentieth-century women who were eager to engage in political debate even though legislative and cultural barriers worked to exclude their voices. In 1915, during the First World War, the Women's International Congress at The Hague was convened after alarmed and bereaved women from both sides of the conflict insisted that their opinions on war and the pathway to peace be heard. From this gathering emerged the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom (WILPF), which to this day campaigns against militarism and nuclear weapons. In Australia, the formation of a section of WILPF connected political women to a worldwide network that sustained their anti-war activism throughout the last century. In examining the rise of WILPF in Australia, Sisters in Peace provides a gendered history of this country's engagement with the politics of internationalism. This is a history of WILPF women who committed to peace activism even as Australia's national identity and military allegiances shifted over time, a history that has until now been an overlooked part of the Australian peace movement.

From Antebellum Light Skinned Slaves to the Globalization of Skin Whitening Biotechnology Amina Mire, 2025-03-15. From Antebellum Light Skinned Slaves to the Globalization of Skin Whitening Biotechnology takes a historically grounded analysis and delineates how the skin whitening industry has become a contemporary site that facilitates commodification of unregulated whiteness on a global scale. Amina Mire investigates the extent to which antebellum South anti-miscegenation racial purity laws facilitated unofficial interracial reproduction of light-skinned slaves, resulting primarily from a systemic rape of enslaved Black women by white slave masters This is because while different in terms of historical context what the unregulated globalization of the skin whitening industry and the antebellum unofficial reproduction and trade in light skinned slaves have in common is the unofficial and unregulated nature of the accumulation of economic symbolic and aesthetic investment in whiteness The central argument of this book is that commodifiable whiteness is a form of racial capital with profound health social and political implications Consequently as long as whiteness remains a salient ideological force that shapes global understanding of standards of beauty and desirability commodification of whiteness will continue to further entrench systems of racism and colorism The author argues this requires taking seriously the resilience and malleability of white supremacy and its ability to rebrand itself endlessly
