Simplified What Color Is My Ribbon? : an Ovarian Cancer Success Story Carole McCaskill, 2009-05-21 What Colour is My Ribbon is a living journal that takes a courageous woman and her network of friends through her journey fighting ovarian cancer. It's a humorous insightful look at chemotherapy surgery and recovery. Stories told from one girlfriend to another things you'd be afraid to ask and humour where you would not expect to find it. It's a story about a woman's growing understanding and appreciation for her friendships and credits those friendships with helping her beat cancer. This is a true story that needs to be told and offers hope and humour to those touched by cancer.

Disability, Sport and Society Nigel Thomas, Andy Smith, 2008-12-05 Disability sport is a relatively recent phenomenon yet it is also one that particularly in the context of social inclusion is attracting increasing political and academic interest. The purpose of this important new text the first of its kind is to introduce the reader to key concepts in disability and disability sport and to examine the complex relationships between modern sport disability and other aspects of wider society. Drawing upon original data from interviews surveys and policy documents the book examines how disability sport has developed and is currently organised and explores key themes issues and concepts including disability theory and policy the emergence and development of disability sport disability sport development in local authorities mainstreaming disability sport disability physical education and school sport elite disability sport and the Paralympic Games disability sport and the media. Including chapter summaries seminar questions and lists of key websites and further reading throughout Sport Disability and Society provides both an easy to follow introduction and a critical exploration of the key issues surrounding disability sport in the twenty first century.
