Severe Head Injuries:

Severe Head Injuries Bernhard L. Bauer, Thomas J. Kuhn, 1997 Severe head injuries are a frequent occurrence in the life of every emergency care specialist, traumatologist, neurosurgeon and rehabilitation specialist. For example, between 30 000 to 40 000 such injuries occur annually in Germany while over 75 000 Americans die each year after suffering a severe head injury. Survival and long term outcome depends to a great extent on timely and appropriate diagnosis and treatment. Thus all physicians involved must be aware of the current management procedures and this reference based on the experience of international experts provides an up to date and practical guideline. Head Injuries Reinhold A. Frowein, Mario

Brock, Margareta Klinger, 2012-12-06 The 17th volume of the Advances in Neurosurgery contains a selection of the scientific reports of the 39th annual meeting of the German Society for Neurosurgery which was held in Cologne from May 8-11 1988. The first section deals in particular with the long term results of severe head injuries as well as with problems of the acute traumatic hematomas and brain edema. The second section covers microsurgical experiences. Attention is focused on the anatomy and operative technique for lesions in and around the jugular foramen and the craniospinal transition. The third section describes the special new results of brain death determination. Beyond this, numerous contributions on clinical and research results were presented in a poster exhibition which was systematically studied in order to give younger neurosurgeons the opportunity for extensive discussion. The volume contains new information which will bring specialists up to date on the latest clinical and research developments in the field. Handbook of Head Trauma Charles J. Long, Leslie K. Ross, 2013-06-29 Providing a thorough collection of information regarding clinical aspects of head injury from acute care to recovery, this treatise interrelates a variety of neural specialties and broadens the rehabilitation process to include the family. Tamura, 2012-02-02 The International Brain Hypothermia Symposium 2004 held in Tokyo was a forum for many of the world's leading researchers and clinicians to present and discuss developments on the cutting edge of this most promising of neurological therapies. With a view to sharing this knowledge and encouraging the spread of new techniques, the editors have compiled these proceedings covering the latest technology and methods. Topics include brain thermo pooling, hemoglobin dysfunction, associated neuronal hypoxia, intensive care management of brain hypothermia for severely brain injured patients, new findings not yet recorded in animal models and control of hypothermia associated immune crises. Also included are advanced clinical results from trauma, stroke and cardiac arrest patients. The result is a volume that will be a valuable resource for professionals in the fields of emergency treatment, critical medicine and neurosurgery. Prevention of Head Injuries in Skiing S.
