Singapore Souchow Yao, 2007-02-12 Taking ideas and frameworks from philosophy psychology political science cultural studies and anthropology this book tells the larger truth about the Singapore state This book argues that this strong hegemonic state achieves effective rule not just from repressive policies but also through a combination of efficient government good standard of living tough official measures and popular compliance Souchow Yao looks at the reasons behind the hegemonic ruling examining key events such as the caning of American teenager Michael Fay the judicial ruling on fellatio and unnatural sex and Singapore's war on terror to show the ways in which the State manages these events to ensure the continuance of its power and ideological ethos Lively and well written this book discusses key subject areas such as leftist radicalism and communist insurgency nation building as trauma Western yellow culture and Asian Values judicial caning and the meaning of pain the law and oral sex food and the art of lying cinema as catharsis Singapore after September 11

Neoliberal Morality in Singapore Youyenn Teo, 2013-11-11 Using the case study of Singapore this book examines the production of a set of institutionalized relationships and ethical meanings that link citizens to each other and the state It looks at how questions of culture and morality are resolved and how state society relations are established that render paradoxes and inequalities acceptable and form the basis of a national political culture The Singapore government has put in place a number of policies to encourage marriage and boost fertility that has attracted much attention and are often taken as evidence that the Singapore state is a social engineer The book argues that these policies have largely failed to reverse demographic trends and reveals that the effects of the policies are far more interesting and significant As Singaporeans negotiate various rules and regulations they form a set of ties to each other and to the state These institutionalized relationships and shared meanings referred to as neoliberal morality render particular ideals about family natural Based on extensive field work the book is a useful contribution to studies on Asian Culture and Society Globalisation as well as Development Studies

New Directions and Trends in Parenting Research Nicolette Vanessa Roman, Yosi Yaffe, Dorit Alt, 2024-08-28 For many decades parenting has been at the center of interest for practitioners and researchers interested in child social and psychological development The body of research on children s socialization has primarily focused on traditional parenting styles and their related practices in the spirit of Baumrind s and others conceptualization of parental control and power assertion e g authoritative authoritarian and permissive This research has revealed many domains of children s and adolescents adjustment and wellbeing that are affected by and affecting parenting quality but intriguing new parental approaches and types have recently emerged in research literature such as digital parenting transcendent parenting parental alienation overparenting helicopter parenting tiger parenting and several others about which more is yet to be learned Likewise in recent years our understanding of the role played by factors such as culture ethnicity environmental and familial background in the relationship between parenting styles and children s psychological wellbeing and mental health has greatly improved However the question of whether or not there is a global uniform optimal parenting remains controversial as more studies are required to better understand the varying impacts of parenting on the child s well being within different demographic and familial contexts This is especially true for families with special needs children i e children and adolescents with developmental and psychological disabilities where research on parenting styles in particular is understudied Additionally in the present digital era there is growing interest in relatively new behavioral outcomes in children and adolescents such as sedentary behaviors including eating and nutrition habits online behaviors and digital activity vs physical activity These and other important contemporary aspects in children's functioning and behaviors contribute to developmental mental health and further establishing our knowledge regarding the parental role in these contexts is essential Sex, Family, and the Culture Wars Mark J.

Cherry, 2016-07-31 Extraordinary social and moral shifts have taken place in Western societies Sex is no longer the exclusive province of husband and wife set within monogamous married family life The world is awash in sex advertising books magazines movies sex clubs internet pornography etc Parents traditionally responsible for guiding their children's moral and social development have been effectively sidelined by commercial and governmental interests This volume pursues a detailed study of how changes in social life dating from the sexual revolution of the 1960s have affected the family Cherry shows that attempts to redefine the family away from the marital union of husband and wife come with real costs social emotional psychological and financial He argues that while political campaigns have fueled attempts to undermine the traditional family to pretend it possesses no basic biological social or moral reality such ideologically driven undertakings are injurious to society Acting as if there are no consequential differences between traditional marriage and other sexual lifestyles ignores significant data demonstrating the importance of the traditional biological family to the well being of men and women and the successful raising of children The family possesses a biological and moral being that is foundational an essential building block of society Cherry argues that the family is the most incontrovertible field of conflict in the culture wars others might conclude that it is the decisive battleground A Kaleidoscope of Malaysian Indian Women's Lived Experiences Premalatha

Karupiah, Jacqueline Liza Fernandez, 2022-10-22 This book presents a compilation of chapters relating to the socio cultural experiences of Malaysian Indian women It includes a historical background covering Indian women's migration to Malaya and explores the lived realities of contemporary Indian women who are members of this minority ethnic group in the country The authors cover a wide range of issues such as gender inequality poverty the involvement of women in performing arts work inter personal relationships and well being and happiness drawing on substantial empirical data through a gendered lens This book addresses the gap in the intersectional gender studies literature on minority groups of women in Malaysia while simultaneously highlighting the multiple forms of subordination minority women particularly Indian women experience in society including those that arise from gender ethnic intersectionality In examining the case of Indian women in Malaysia it also speaks to and enriches existing literature on the lives of minority groups of women in the Global South more broadly This anthology is beneficial to researchers and students in the social sciences particularly in disciplines related to gender studies and minority studies In addition it is also useful for policy makers and social activists working with minority women in the Global South
