The Mediterranean debt crescent Clement M . Henry,2000      The Force of Obedience Beatrice Hibou,2011-06-27

The events that took place in Tunisia in January 2011 were the spark igniting the uprisings that swept across North Africa and the Middle East toppling dictators and leading to violent conflict and tense stand offs What was it about this small country in North Africa that enabled it to play this exceptional role This book is a deeply informed account of the exercise of power in Tunisia in the run up to the revolt that forced its authoritarian ruler Ben Ali into exile It analyses the practices of domination and repression that were pervasive features of everyday life in Tunisia showing how the debt economy and the systems of social solidarity and welfare created forms of subjection and mutual dependence between rulers and ruled enabling the reader to understand how a powerful protest movement could develop despite tight control by police and party For those wishing to understand the extraordinary events unfolding across the Arab world this rich subtle and insightful book is the indispensable starting point

Islamic Finance in the Global Economy Ibrahim Warde,2014-03-11 A second edition of Islamic Finance in the Global Economy substantially revised and updated to take into account the recent developments in the field

Revolution and Authoritarianism in North Africa Frédéric Volpi,2017-06-15 This book offers a much needed corrective to dominant approaches to understanding political causality during episodes of intense social mobilisation in North Africa Drawing on analyses of routine governance and of revolutionary mobilisation in four countries of the Maghreb Morocco Algeria Tunisia and Libya before during and after the 2011 uprisings Volpi explains the different trajectories of these uprisings by showing how specific acts of protest created new arenas of contention that provided actors with new rationales practices and ultimately identities The book illustrates how the dynamics of revolutionary episodes are characterised by the social and political de institutionalisation of routine mechanisms of authoritarian governance It also details how post uprising re institutionalisation and or conflict are shaped by reconstructed understandings of the uprisings by actors who are themselves partially the products of these episodes of phenomena

Foreign Investments and Political Regimes Oksan Bayulgen,2010 Political democratization and economic globalization have been two of the most important global trends of the past few decades But how are they connected Do the domestic political institutions affect a country s attractiveness to foreign investors Can countries that democratize attract relatively more foreign investments Drawing on three in depth case studies of oil rich countries and statistical analyses of 132 countries over three decades Oksan Bayulgen demonstrates that the link between democratization and FDI is nonlinear Both authoritarian regimes and consolidated democracies have institutional capabilities that though different are attractive to foreign investors Democracies can provide long term stability and authoritarian regimes can offer considerable flexibility The regimes that have started on the road to democracy but have not yet completed it tend to have political institutions that provide neither flexibility nor stability These hybrid regimes then also find it relatively more difficult to construct a policy environment that is attractive to foreign investments These findings have deep implications for the link between democratization and globalization but also how globalization may affect political social and economic development Provided by publisher

Crony Capitalism in the Middle East Ishac Diwan,Adeel Malik,Izak Atiyas,2019-05-23 The popular uprisings in 2011 that overthrew Arab dictators were also a rebuke to crony capitalism diverted against both rulers and their allied businessmen who monopolize all economic opportunities While the Middle East has witnessed a growing nexus between business and politics in the wake of liberalization little is discussed about the nature of business cronies the sectors in which they operate the mechanisms used to favour them and the possible impact of such crony relations on the region s development Combining inputs from leading scholars in the field Crony Capitalism in the Middle East Business and Politics from Liberalization to the Arab Spring presents a wealth of empirical evidence on the form and function of this aspect of the region Crony Capitalism in the Middle East is unique in both its empirical focus and comparative scale Analysis in individual chapters is empirically grounded and based on fine grained data on the business activities of politically connected actors furnishing for the first time information on the presence numerical strength and activities of politically connected entrepreneurs It also substantially enhances our understanding of the mechanisms used to privilege connected businesses and their possible impact on undermining the growth of firms in the region It offers a major advance on our prior knowledge of Middle Eastern political economy and constitutes a distinct contribution to the global literature on crony capitalism and the politics of development The book will be an essential resource for students researchers and policymakers alike

Politics of Islamic Finance Clement Henry,2019-07-30 Can the contemporary Islamic finance movement be shown to meet the requirements of modern commerce In the wake of the terrorist attacks on America the UN Security Council passed a resolution targeting transnational sources of terrorist funds The United States and the International Monetary Fund are encouraging the governments of the Middle East to adopt policies of economic liberalism and a new type of capitalism based on Islamic values and beliefs is emerging The aims of the book are to explore the political implications of the slow but steady accumulation of Islamic capital to analyse the connections between Islamic finance and Islamic political movements in Middle Eastern and North African countries to show that the commonly perceived connection between Islamic finance and money laundering and terrorism is by no means the complete picture Readers will learn to appreciate the various political contexts in which Islamic finance operates in the Middle East and North Africa and will acquire some understanding of its political as well as economic constraints Hopefully possible misunderstandings about Islamic banking and finance will be corrected The book is divided into two parts part one is thematic and lays the ground for the country specific case studies in part two covering the Sudan Kuwait Jordan Turkey Tunisia and Egypt The contributors include political scientists economists and historians Key Features A major topical issue Written by the world's leading experts on Islamic Political Economy Explores the connections between Islamic finance and Islamic political movements Includes country specific case studies

The Arab Uprisings James Gelvin, 2015-01-19 Employing an engaging question and answer format The Arab Uprisings explores the revolutionary protests that have rocked the Arab world since late 2010 In this updated and revised second edition James L Gelvin explores the varied paths taken by the uprisings and assesses their historical and global significance Gelvin begins with an overview What were the conditions in the Arab world that led to the uprisings Where did the demands for human and democratic rights and social and economic justice come from before turning to specific countries in the region He examines how the long history of state building in Tunisia and Egypt ultimately determined the paths taken by uprisings there He explains why the weakness of state institutions in Libya and Yemen led to violence and chaos He explores the commonalities of the coup proofed states Bahrain and Syria and the tragic course of their uprisings In the final chapter he discusses the implications of the uprisings What do they mean for the United States al Qaeda and the balance of power in the region What do they say about the viability of the Arab state system What effects have they had on the Israel Palestine conflict What conclusions might we draw from the uprisings so far When will we know their historical meaning What Everyone Needs to Know is a registered trademark of Oxford University Press

Globalization and the Politics of Development in the Middle East Clement Moore Henry, Robert Springborg, 2010-09-06 In this 2010 edition of their book on the economic development of the Middle East and North Africa Clement Henry and Robert Springborg reflect on what has happened to the region's economy since 2001 How have the various countries in the Middle East responded to the challenges of globalization and to the rise of political Islam and what changes for better or for worse have occurred Utilizing the country categories they applied in the previous book and further elaborating the significance of the structural power of capital and Islamic finance they demonstrate how over the past decade the monarchies as exemplified by Jordan Morocco and those of the Gulf Cooperation Council and the conditional democracies Israel Turkey and Lebanon continue to do better than the military dictatorships or bullies Egypt Tunisia and now Iran and the bunker states Algeria Iraq Libya Sudan Syria and Yemen      Encyclopedia of the Developing World Thomas M. Leonard, 2013-10-18 A RUSA 2007

Global Capital Markets to Information-Shy Regimes Clement M. Henry, 1998-06-09 The evolution of the global economy since the end of the Cold War poses special challenges to the Middle East and North Africa MENA Official development assistance has diminished whereas private capital flows to developing countries have dramatically increased Little of the new private capital goes to MENA The region received only US 6.9 billion in 1996 barely more than its quota of official development assistance Most of the MENA countries are now in need of infusions of external private capital yet seem to be at a major disadvantage in competition with other regions notably East Asia Europe Central Asia and Latin America Many reasons can be given for MENA's economic plight Arguably the region tends now to be at a disadvantage precisely because of its earlier affluence relative to other regions of the developing world However other factors may also be at work In this paper political factors will be examined using Tunisia as the case study The paper suggests that political structures may be inhibiting economic growth and reform by constraining information flows and thereby deterring private investment This paper attempts to specify relationships between flows of information and investment flows Other facts may also inhibit investment flows but the free flow of information is becoming a requisite in the globalizing economy for certain forms of foreign and local investment      Worst of the Worst Robert I. Rotberg, 2008-03-01 Repressive regimes tyrannize their own citizens and threaten global stability and order These repositories of evil systematically oppress their own people deny human rights and civil liberties severely truncate political freedom and prevent meaningful individual economic opportunity Worst of the Worst identifies and characterizes the world's most odious states and singles out which repressors are aggressive and hence can truly be called rogues Previously determinations have been based on inexact impressionistic criteria In this volume Robert Rotberg and his colleagues define the actions that constitute repression and propose a method of measuring human rights violations They offer an index of nation state repressiveness classifying gross repressors high repressors and aggressive repressors or rogues on a ten point scale Based on arms and drug trafficking support of terror possession of weapons of mass destruction and crossborder attacks this valuable diagnostic tool will guide the international community in crafting effective policies to deal with injustice in the developing world The repressors and rogues profiled include Belarus Burma Equatorial Guinea NorthKorea Syria Togo Tunisia Turkmenistan Uzbekistan and Zimbabwe Worst of the Worst offers a transparent way to decide which repressive and rogue states are most deserving of strong policy attention Explicitly measuring and labeling these highly repressive states is the first step toward improving the well being of millions of the poorest and most abused peoples of the globe Contributors include Margarita M Balmaceda Seton Hall University Mary Caprioli University of Minnesota Duluth Priscilla A Clapp Safe Ports LLC Yi Feng Claremont Graduate University Gregory Gleason University of New Mexico John Heilbrunn Colorado School of Mines Clement M Henry University of Texas at Austin David W Lesch Trinity University Marcus Noland Peterson Institute for International Economics and International Food Policy Research Institute Martha Brill Olcott Carnegie Endowment for International Peace Saumik Paul Claremont Graduate University and Peter F Trumbore Oakland University

Willis (Lecturer), Rory McCarthy, Timothy Garton Ash, 2016 This volume is a lively and scholarly illustrated account of the tumultuous events in key countries in the Middle East and North Africa during and since the period of the Arab Spring that began in December 2010

Privatizing the State Béatrice Hibou, 2004 In the new global political economy privatization names a transformation of the roles of public and private actors with the goal of reforming government policies and economic aid programs It is an objective a slogan a fetish But what does it signify On the one hand it refers to the process of changing industries businesses and services from governmental or public ownership to private agencies But privatization now also extends to what are normally the prerogatives of national states taxation customs internal security national defense and peace negotiations In much of the literature privatization is associated with the retreat decline or even demise of the state Using Max Weber's concept of delegation or discharge as a point of departure Hibou and the contributors of this volume propose an alternative view interpreting the contemporary restructuring of economic and political relations in much of the world as the privatization of the state This book challenges received ideas about the process of globalization and its presumed homogenization by suggesting that rather than weakening the powers of the state privatization actually strengthens it With examples from Russia Poland China Taiwan Indonesia North Africa and sub Saharan Africa the book questions the supposed inefficiency of states in regulating capitalism and the role economic and financial knowledge play as substitutes for political and social analysis
