Africans in Global Migration John A. Arthur, Joseph Takougang, Thomas Owusu, 2012-08-31 Four overarching themes underscore the essays in this book These are the creation of African diaspora community and institutional structures the structured and shared relationships among African immigrants host and homeland societies the construction and negotiation of diaspora spaces and domains racial ethnic class consciousness including identity politics and finally African migrant economic integration occupational and labor force roles and statuses and impact on host societies Each of the thematic themes has been chosen with one specific goal in mind to depict and represent the critical components in the reconstitution of the African diaspora in international migration We contextualized the themes in the African diaspora as a dynamic process involving what Paul Zeleza called the diasporization of African immigrant settlement communities in global transnational spaces These themes also reflect the diversities inherent in the diaspora communities and call attention to the fluid and dynamic boundaries within which Africans create diffuse and engage host and home societies In this context the themes outlined in this book embody the diaspora tapestries woven by the immigrants to center African social and cultural forms in their host societies and communities Collectively the themes represent pathways for the elucidation of understanding African immigrant territorialization Our purpose is to map out and identify the sources and sites for the contestations of the myriad of cultural manifestations of the new African diaspora and its depictions within the totality of the shared meanings and appropriations of the essences of African ness or African blackness The vulnerabilities struggles threats internal or external to the immigrant community and opportunities emanating from the diasporic relationships that these immigrants create are accentuated within the nexus of African global migrations We view the African diaspora in terms of spatial and geographic constructions and propagations of African cultural identities and institutional forms in global domains whose boundaries are not static but rather dynamic complex and multidimensional Simply stated we approach the African diaspora from a perspective that incorporates the historical as well as contemporary postmodern constructions of the Africa s dispersed communities and their associated transnational identity forms
