Medway A Plantation And Its People:

A New Plantation World Daniel J. Vivian, 2018-03-01 In the era between the world wars wealthy sportsmen and sportswomen created more than seventy large estates in the coastal region of South Carolina By retaining select features from earlier periods and adding new buildings and landscapes wealthy sporting enthusiasts created a new type of plantation In the process they changed the meaning of the word plantation with profound implications for historical memory of slavery and contemporary views of the South A New Plantation World is the first critical investigation of these sporting plantations By examining the process that remade former sites of slave labor into places of leisure Daniel J Vivian explores the changing symbolism of plantations in Jim Crow era America History of Penobscot County, Maine W. Chase, History of Penobscot County Maine with Illustrations and Biographical Sketches History of the Town of Milford, Worcester County, Massachusetts, from its First Settlement to 1881 Adin Ballou, 2025-08-09 Reprint of the original first published in 1882 The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints of historical books We make sure that these works are made available to the public in good condition in order to preserve their cultural heritage The Charleston Museum Quarterly Laura Mary Bragg, E. Milby Burton, 1923 History of the Town of Milford, Worcester County, Massachusetts Adin Ballou, 1882 Legends and Lore of South Carolina Sherman Carmichael, 2012-07-31 This new collection of eighty strange and unusual South Carolina legends is rooted in the state s deep history Some originated centuries ago such as the Agnes of Glasgow story in Camden and that of the ghostly dwarf jester Gauche said to haunt a Beaufort mansion Certain places hold secrets from different eras including White Wolf Road in Blacksburg and the state s numerous historic cemeteries like the one at Salem Black River Church in Mayesville These pages also contain simple explanations for local lore like the Gullah tradition behind blue bottle trees that still decorate Carolina gardens today These and many more crowd pleasing yarns can be found in this volume from the desk of master storyteller author and researcher Sherman Carmichael

Transactions of the Huguenot Society of South Carolina Huguenot Society of South Carolina, 1924 Ghosts of Berkeley County, South Carolina Bruce Orr, 2011-09-20 Berkeley County just like its sister county of Charleston is steeped in history and rich in legend and lore With Native American beginnings and later infused with colonial and Gullah cultures Berkeley has seen many people come to reside And with each of these diverse cultures came the eerie tales of ghosts ghouls and goblins Now for the first time Berkeley County ghost stories have been collected in a single volume bound to frighten and chill even the bravest of readers Join local author and investigator Bruce Orr as he recounts the spine tingling stories behind these apparitions including the spirits of early colonists that still linger in the pines the feared Cymbee water spirits of the Gullah culture and the dreaded Cherokee witch Spear Finger who craves the livers of unsuspecting victims The Publishers Weekly , 1997 Middlesex County and Its People Edwin P. Conklin, 1927 The Architectural Forum , 1923 Making a Literary Life Carolyn See, 2007-12-18 As Carolyn See says writing guides are like preachers on Sunday there may be a lot of them but you can't have too many and there's always an audience of the faithful And while Making a Literary Life is ostensibly a book that teaches you how to write it really teaches you how to make your interior life into your exterior life how to find and join that community of like minded souls you're sure is out there somewhere Carolyn See distills a lifetime of experience as novelist memoirist critic and creative writing professor into this marvelously engaging how to book Partly the nuts and bolts of writing plot point of view character voice and partly an inspirational guide to living the life you dream of Making a Literary Life takes you from the decision to become a writer to three months after the publication of your first book A combination of writing and life strategies do not tell everyone around you how you yearn to be a writer send a charming note to someone you admire in the industry five days a week every week for the rest of your life find the perfect characters right in front of you Making a Literary Life is for people not usually considered part of the literary loop the non East Coasters the secret scribblers With sagacity a magical sense of humor and an abiding belief in the possibilities offered to ordinary people living ordinary lives Carolyn See has summed up her life's work in a book so beguiling irreverent and giddily inspiring that you won't even realize it's changing your life until it already has

On the Rim of the Caribbean Paul M. Pressly, 2013-03-01 How did colonial Georgia an economic backwater in its early days make its way into the burgeoning Caribbean and Atlantic economies where trade spilled over national boundaries merchants operated in multiple markets and the transport of enslaved Africans bound together four continents In On the Rim of the Caribbean Paul M Pressly interprets Georgia s place in the Atlantic world in light of recent work in transnational and economic history He considers how a tiny elite of newly arrived merchants adapting to local culture but loyal to a larger vision of the British empire led the colony into overseas trade From this perspective Pressly examines the ways in which Georgia came to share many of the characteristics of the sugar islands how Savannah developed as a Caribbean town the dynamics of an emerging slave market and the role of merchant planters as leaders in forging a highly adaptive economic culture open to innovation The colony s rapid growth holds a larger story how a frontier where Carolinians played so large a role earned its own distinctive character Georgia s slowness in responding to the revolutionary movement Pressly maintains had a larger context During the colonial era the lowcountry remained oriented to the West Indies and Atlantic and failed to develop close ties to the North American mainland as had South Carolina He suggests that the American Revolution initiated the process of bringing the lowcountry into the orbit of the mainland a process that would extend well beyond the Revolution

Hunting and Fishing in the New South Scott E. Giltner, 2008-12-01 This innovative study re examines the dynamics of race relations in the post Civil War South from an altogether fresh perspective field sports In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries wealthy white men from Southern cities and the industrial North traveled to the hunting and fishing lodges of the old Confederacy escaping from the office to socialize among like minded peers These sportsmen depended on local black guides who knew the land and fishing holes and could ensure a successful outing For whites the ability to hunt and fish freely and employ black laborers became a conspicuous display of their wealth and social standing But hunting and fishing had been a way of life for all Southerners blacks included since colonial times After the war African Americans used their mastery of these sports to enter into market activities normally denied people of color thereby becoming more economically independent from their white employers Whites came to view black participation in hunting and fishing as a serious threat to the South s labor system Scott E Giltner shows how African American freedom developed in this racially tense environment how blacks sense of competence and authority flourished in a Jim Crow setting Giltner s thorough research using slave narratives sportsmen s recollections records of fish and game clubs and sporting periodicals offers a unique perspective on the African American struggle for independence from the end of the Civil War to the 1920s Maine, Resources, Attractions, and Its People Harrie Badger Coe, 1928
