Rolland, 2025-07-15 Adopting an actors focused approach this Research Handbook engages with complex dynamics between states people and businesses with respect to trade law and development Sonia E Rolland brings together scholarly and policy experts who articulate contemporary research on the linkages between trade sustainability food security intellectual property industrial policy and the digital economy amongst many others      Proceedings of the International Conference on Business, Economics, Social Sciences, and Humanities - Humanities and Social Sciences Track (ICOBEST-HSS 2024) Lia Warlina, Senny Luckyardi, 2024-07-22 This is an Open Access Book The International Conference on Business Economics Social Sciences and Humanities ICOBEST is hosted annually by Universitas Komputer Indonesia UNIKOM ICOBEST aims to facilitate the exchange of knowledge and experiences among academia researchers and scholars fostering optimism and revitalization within the scientific framework ICOBEST provides a unique opportunity for participants to network share ideas and present their research findings to an international audience Encouraging discussions on the latest innovations emerging trends and practical challenges in business economics social sciences and humanities This year UNIKOM will held the conference in hybrid format which means interested authors can participate in this conference either in person or through online means      Regional Financial Cooperation Jose Antonio Ocampo, 2007-08-29 A Brookings Institution Press and Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean ECLAC publication Using the experience of postwar Western Europe as a benchmark Jos Antonio Ocampo and his colleagues assess how regional financial institutions can help developing countries often at a disadvantage within the global financial framework finance their investment needs counteract the volatility of private capital flows and make their voices heard The 1997 Asian financial crisis generated extensive debate on the international financial architecture Through this discussion it became clear that services by financial institutions including adequate mechanisms for preventing and managing financial crises and instruments for safeguarding global macroeconomic and financial stability are undersupplied Furthermore private international capital markets provide finance to developing countries in a way that effectively reduces the ability of those nations to undertake countercyclical macroeconomic policies International capital markets ration out many developing countries particularly the poorest from private global capital markets While these deficiencies in the financial architecture are clear the post 1997 debate has done little to evaluate the role that regional institutions could play in improving global financial arrangements Regional Financial Cooperation aims to fill that important gap Contributors include Ernest Aryeetey Institute of Statistical Social and Economic Research University of Ghana Georges Corm Saint Joseph University Beirut Roy Culpeper North South Institute Ottawa Ana Teresa Fuzzo de Lima Institute of Development Studies University of Sussex Stephany Griffith Jones Institute of Development Studies University of Sussex Julia Leung Hong Kong Monetary Authority Jos Luis Machinea ECLAC Jae Ha Park Korean Institute of Finance Yung Chul Park Korea University Fernando Prada FORO Nactional International Lima Guillermo Rozenwurcel School of Politics and Government University of San Martin Argentina

Asia-Pacific Region Muhammed Abu B. Siddique, 2007-01-01 The editor of this book is to be congratulated for providing us with the works of a group of authors who combine proficient technical skills with elegant and lucid writing capabilities This book would make excellent recommended reading for both undergraduate and graduate classes in international trade and finance Herb Thompson Journal of Contemporary Asia This book is based on the premise that Regional Trade Agreements RTAs in the Asia Pacific significantly impact on the material progress of the peoples of this region These impacts in terms of the benefits and costs associated with RTAs will vary greatly from country to country The internationally acclaimed contributors examine the theoretical perspective of RTAs in relation to exchange rates the role and goals of the WTO and agriculture The tensions and trade frictions resulting from the formation of trade blocs and their conflicts with the roles and goals of the WTO are also examined in the book Those economies that are considered the economic powerhouses of the region including China Japan South Korea major ASEAN countries and Australia are discussed in depth The findings of the book suggest that RTAs are becoming increasingly popular in the Asia Pacific region However the associated costs and benefits depend on a number of complex factors including exchange rates negotiation skills the sectors included or excluded from the RTA and the level of economic development of the nations signing the RTAs The book will be particularly useful to academics researchers consultants students policy makers including trade negotiators and practitioners involved in trade and development in the Asia Pacific region

The Periphery of the Euro Philippe De Lombaerde, 2017-11-30 This book analyzes the monetary and exchange rate policies in Eastern European countries not covered by the current EU enlargement process Specifically the book examines the major CIS countries Belarus Kazakhstan Russia and the Ukraine The new Eastern European EU members are also frequently referenced for comparison purposes Current and prospective monetary policy options are considered and the applicability of the EU monetary integration experience for the CIS countries and the prospects of a monetary re unification around the Russian Federation are assessed This is the first book to formally deal with many of these questions

Preferential Trade Agreements between the Monetary Community of Central Africa and the European Union Guylain K. Ngeleza, Andrew Muhammad, Structured Finance in Latin America Hela

Cheikhrouhou, 2007 Structured Finance in Latin America explores how structured finance mechanisms can channel pension savings to support projects in underserved sectors deepen capital markets and contribute to investment and economic growth Private pension funds have been accumulating assets rapidly in the wake of pension system reforms in many Latin American countries Strict investment regulations to protect workers savings have limited their investment in highly creditworthy domestic securities yet pension fund demand for new securities has outstripped issuance of eligible traditional corporate debt instruments This has contributed to a high concentration of pension fund assets in public debt Innovative structured finance mechanisms can help bring to the market a new set of creditworthy securities backed by pools of loans to small borrowers mortgage loans or the expected proceeds of large infrastructure projects These mechanisms create new investment opportunities for pension funds while establishing additional sources of funding for underserved market segments Policy makers and regulatory authorities have a catalytic role to play in the development of structured finance securities by establishing a conducive legal regulatory and tax framework Structured Finance in Latin America serves as a practical guide for development practitioners policy makers and others working in government international or nongovernmental organizations and financial institutions who focus on finance and investment infrastructure transport and urban development housing finance small and medium sized enterprise development and pension reform Annual Report United Nations. Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific,2003 Marketing Tourist Destinations in Emerging Economies Ishmael Mensah,Kandappan Balasubramanian,Mohd Raziff Jamaluddin,Gina Alcoriza,Vanessa Gaffar,S. Mostafa Rasoolimanesh,2021-11-27 While tourism is a key economic generator for many countries emerging economies are confronted with additional challenges that those well established destinations in North America Australia and Europe normally don t have to contend with The potential for terrorism political unrest natural disasters accidents not to mention epidemics have the potential to derail tourism in emerging economies To mitigate these risks emerging destinations need well coordinated management and marketing strategies However most texts on tourism destination marketing reflect destinations in more advanced countries This book acknowledges the fact that emerging tourist destinations have unique characteristics and challenges which have implications for destination marketing Highlighting the marketing challenges best practices and strategies relevant to emerging economies this book covers core topics such as image creation and branding destination marketing during crises and pandemics market segmentation and the travel decision making process among others Providing up to date knowledge on an otherwise under explored topic this collection is ideal reading for upper level students researchers and policymakers
