Mehmed the Conqueror (1432-1481) and His Time Halil İnalcık, 1960

The Race for Paradise Paul M. Cobb, 2014-07-24 In 1099 when the first crusaders arrived triumphant and bloody before the walls of Jerusalem they carved out a Christian European presence in the Islamic world that remained for centuries bolstered by subsequent waves of new crusades and pilgrimages But how did medieval Muslims understand these events What does an Islamic history of the Crusades look like The answers may surprise you In The Race for Paradise we see medieval Muslims managing this new and long lived Crusader threat not simply as victims or as victors but as everything in between on all shores of the Muslim Mediterranean from Spain to Syria This is not just a straightforward tale of warriors and kings clashing in the Holy Land of military confrontations and enigmatic heroes such as the great sultan Saladin What emerges is a more complicated story of border crossers and turncoats of embassies and merchants of scholars and spies all of them seeking to manage this new threat from the barbarian fringes of their ordered world When seen from the perspective of medieval Muslims the Crusades emerge as something altogether different from the high flying rhetoric of the European chronicles as a diplomatic chess game to be mastered a commercial opportunity to be seized a cultural encounter shaping Muslim experiences of Europeans until the close of the Middle Ages and as so often happened a political challenge to be exploited by ambitious rulers making canny use of the language of jihad

Great Powers and Geopolitical Change Jakub J. Grygiel, 2007-02-01 Named by Foreign Affairs as a book to read on geopolitics In an era of high technology and instant communication the role of geography in the formation of strategy and politics in international relations can be undervalued But the mountains of Afghanistan and the scorching sand storms of Iraq have provided stark reminders that geographical realities continue to have a profound impact on the success of military campaigns Here political scientist Jakub J. Grygiel brings to light the importance of incorporating geography into grand strategy He argues that states can increase and maintain their position of power by pursuing a geostrategy that focuses on control of resources and lines of communication Grygiel examines case studies of Venice the Ottoman Empire and China in the global fifteenth century all great powers that faced a dramatic change in geopolitics when new routes and continents were discovered The location of resources the layout of trade networks and the stability of state boundaries played a large role in the success or failure of these three powers Grygiel asserts that though many other aspects of foreign policy have changed throughout history strategic response to geographical features remains one of the most salient factors in establishing and maintaining power in the international arena

Islamic Empires Justin Marozzi, 2020-02-04 Islamic civilization was once the envy of the world From a succession of glittering cosmopolitan capitals Islamic empires lorded it over the Middle East North Africa Central Asia and swathes of the Indian subcontinent while Europe cowered feebly at the margins For centuries the caliphate was both ascendant on the battlefield and triumphant in the battle of ideas its cities unrivaled powerhouses of artistic grandeur commercial power spiritual sanctity and forward looking thinking in which nothing was off limits Islamic Empires is a history of this rich and diverse civilization told through its greatest cities over the fifteen centuries of Islam from its earliest beginnings in Mecca in the seventh century to the astonishing rise of Doha in the twenty first Marozzi brilliantly connects the defining moments in Islamic history from the Prophet Mohammed receiving his divine revelations in Mecca and the First Crusade of 1099 to the conquest of Constantinople in 1453 and the phenomenal creation of the merchant republic of Beirut in the nineteenth century and how this world is continuing to change today

The Fall of Constantinople to the Ottomans Michael Angold, 2014-06-11 The fall of Constantinople to the Ottomans in 1453 marked the end of a thousand years of the Christian Roman Empire Thereafter world civilisation began a process of radical change The West came to identify itself as Europe the Russians were set on the path of autocracy the Ottomans were transformed into a world power while the Greeks were left exiles in their own land The loss of Constantinople created a void How that void was to be filled is the subject of this book Michael Angold examines the context of late Byzantine civilisation and the cultural negotiation which allowed the city of Constantinople to survive for so long in the face of Ottoman power He shows how the devastating impact of its fall lay at the centre of a series of interlocking historical patterns which marked this time of decisive change for the late medieval world This concise and original study will be essential reading for students and scholars of Byzantine and late medieval history as well as anyone with an interest in this significant turning point in world history

Philosophy and the Abrahamic Religions Rahim Acar, Bilal Bas, Torrance Kirby, 2013-01-15 From Greco Roman Antiquity through to the European Enlightenment philosophy and religious thought were inseparably interwoven This was equally the case for the popular natural or pagan religions of the ancient world as it was for the three pre eminent religions of the book namely Judaism Christianity and Islam The lengthy and involved encounter of the Greek philosophical tradition and especially of the Platonic Aristotelian and Neoplatonic strands of that tradition initially with the Hellenistic cults and subsequently with the three Abrahamic religions played a critical role in shaping the basic contours of Western intellectual history from Plato to Philo of Alexandria Plotinus Porphyry Augustine and Proclus from Aristotle to al F r b Avicenna al az l Aquinas and the medieval scholastics and eventually to Meister Eckhart and Nicholas Cusanus and such modern philosophers and theologians as Richard Hooker the Cambridge Platonists Jacob Boehme and G W F Hegel to name but a few The aim of the twenty four essays comprising this volume is to explore the intellectual worlds of the three Abrahamic religious traditions their respective approaches to scriptural hermeneutics and their interaction over many centuries on the common ground of the inheritance of classical Greek philosophy The shared goal of the contributors is to demonstrate the extent to which the three Abrahamic religions have created similar shared patterns of thought in dealing with crucial religious concepts such as the divine creation providence laws both natural and revealed such problems as the origin of evil and the possibility of salvation as well as defining hermeneutics that is to say the manner of interpreting their sacred writings An American Voltaire E.
