Bildung and Paideia Marie-Élise Zovko, John M. Dillon, 2021-06-23 Bildung and Paideia examines traditional humanistic ideals in light of philosophical reflection on the need for education of the whole human being The study of what it is to be human is traditionally the task of the humanities In recent years however the humanities have been increasingly subordinated to technological economic and utilitarian aims Do the humanities still have a fundamentally distinct task to fulfil in education Today's reduction of educational outcomes to measurable competencies and economically exploitable skills is opposed to traditional ideals like that of Greek paideia and the German Romantic concept of Bildung which emphasized formation of the whole human being The present volume takes as its point of departure the conviction that the study of the human experience whether through philosophy literature religion art music history or languages has something specific to offer in the realm of education today The individual contributions examine the specific role of philosophy and the humanities in education from ancient times to the present and explore possibilities for conceiving philosophical models of education The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Educational Philosophy and Theory

Slavoj Žižek and Christianity Sotiris Mitralaxis, Dionysios Skliris, 2018-07-18 Slavoj Žižek's critical engagement with Christian theology goes much further than his seminal The Fragile Absolute 2000 or his The Puppet and the Dwarf 2003 or even his discussion with noted theologian John Milbank in The Monstrosity of Christ 2009 His reading of Christianity utilising his signature elements of Lacanian psychoanalysis and Hegelian philosophy with modern philosophical currents can be seen as a genuinely original contribution to the philosophy of religion This book focuses on these aspects of Žižek's thought with either philosophy and cultural theory or Christian theology serving as starting points of enquiry Written by a panel of international contributors each chapter teases out various strands of i ek s thought concerning Christianity and religion and brings them into a wider conversation about the nature of faith These essays show that far from being an outright rejection of Christian thought and intellectual heritage i ek s work could be seen as a perverse affirmation thereof Thus what he has to say should be of direct interest to Christian theology itself Touching on thinkers such as Badiou Lacan Chesterton and Schelling this collection is a dynamic reading and re reading of i ek s relationship to Christianity As such scholars of theology the philosophy of religion and i ek more generally will all find this book to be of great interest

Mystical Theology and Continental Philosophy David Lewin, Simon D. Podmore, Duane Williams, 2017-05-18

Exploration of the interface between mystical theology and continental philosophy is a defining feature of the current intellectual and even devotional climate But to what extent and in what depth are these disciplines actually speaking to one another or even speaking about the same phenomena This book draws together original contributions by leading and emerging international scholars delineating emerging debates in this growing and dynamic field of research and spanning mystical and philosophical traditions from the ancient to the medieval modern and contemporary At the heart of which lies Meister Eckhart perhaps the single most influential Christian mystic for modern times The book is organised around significant historical and contemporary figures who speak across the intersections of philosophy and theology offering new insights into key interlocutors such as Pseudo Dionysius Augustine Isaac Luria Eckhart Hegel Heidegger Marion Kierkegaard Deleuze Laruelle and i ek Designed both to contribute to current trends in mystical theology and philosophy and elicit dialogue and debate from further afield this book speaks within an emerging space exploring the retrieval of the mystical within a post secular context
