Melanoma Research Genetics Growth Factors Metastases And Antigens:

Melanoma Research: Genetics, Growth Factors, Metastases, and Antigens Larry Nathanson, 2012-12-06 Where do you begin to look for a recent authoritative article on the diagnosis or management of a particular malignancy The few general oncology text books are generally out of date Single papers in specialized journal are informative but seldom comprehensive these are more often preliminary reports on a very limited number of patients Certain general journals frequently publish good in depth reviews of cancer topics and published symposium lectures are often the best overviews available Unfortunately these reviews and supplements appear sporadically and the reader can never be sure when a topic of special interest will be covered Cancer Treatment and Research is a series of authoritative volumes that aim to meet this need It is an attempt to establish a critical mass of oncology literature covering virtually all oncology topics revised frequently to keep the coverage up to date and easily available on a single library shelf or by a single personal subscription We have approached the problem in the following fashion first by dividing the oncology literature into specific subdivisions such as lung cancer genitourinary cancer pediatric oncology etc and second by asking eminent authorities in each of these areas to edit a volume on the specific topic on an annual or biannual basis Each topic and tumor type is covered in a volume appearing frequently and predictably discussing current diagnosis staging markers all forms of treatment modalities basic biology and more Biochemical and Molecular Aspects of Selected Cancers Thomas G. Pretlow, Theresa P.

Pretlow, 2014-05-10 Biochemical and Molecular Aspects of Selected Cancers Volume I provides an overview of important topics and prototypes in cancer research The book consists of papers provided by outstanding investigators in diverse disciplines in different areas of cancer research This volume focuses on topics relevant to cancers in humans It covers such topics as tumor suppressor genes and human neoplasia protein kinase C in neoplastic cells and extracellular matrix interactions with tumor progressing cells tumor versus cell type specific mechanisms Structural and functional characteristics of human melanoma steroid hormones and hormone receptors in neoplastic diseases and patterns and significance of genetic changes in neuroblastomas are expounded as well Oncologists biochemists cytologists and other researchers in allied fields will find the book invaluable Annual Reports in Medicinal Chemistry, 1993-10-05 Annual Reports in Medicinal Chemistry Basic Mechanisms of Physiologic and Aberrant Lymphoproliferation in the Skin W. Clark Lambert, Benvenuto Giannotti, Willem A. van Vloten, 2012-12-06 This book is based upon a series of papers originally presented at a NATO Advanced Studies Workshop of the same title held at the study Center HI Cappuccini a converted monastery in San Miniato a small village located between Pisa and Florence Italy in October 1991 Authors were asked to submit their completed chapters by the following February these were then scanned onto computer disks edited and returned to the authors for final revision and updating with a final deadline of February 1993 The authors were encouraged to make whatever modifications they wanted especially regarding updating their chapters with an eye to making the final product both comprehensive and current In this we succeeded beyond our expectations with most chapters extensively altered and many completely re written and significantly expanded Thus although the original meeting was held in 1991 the chapters in this volume may be regarded as current from at least February 1993 with some of the final updated revisions received as late as July 1993 This book as agreed in our original contract has been delivered to the publisher camera ready This means that all of the scanning editing proofing and typesetting were done here by the office of the Department of Dermatology at the New Jersey Medical School We essentially produced the book which the publisher for the most part then photocopied This has been an enormous burden borne mainly by my colleague in this division Robert A National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1991 Journal of the National Cancer Institute ,1994

Tumor Models in Cancer Research Beverly A. Teicher,2010-12-01 The past 6 years since the first edition of this book have seen great progress in the development of genetically engineered mouse GEM models of cancer These models are finding an important role in furthering our understanding of the biology of malignant disease A comfortable position for GEM models in the routine conduct of screening for potential new therapeutics is coming more slowly but is coming Increasing numbers of genetically engineered mice are available some with conditional activation of oncogenes some with multiple genetic changes providing mouse models that are moving closer to the human disease Skin Carcinogenesis in Man and in Experimental Models Erich Hecker,E.G. Jung,F. Marks,W. Tilgen,2012-12-06 The detection of cancer risk factors and their possible avoid ance would most effectively contribute to the fight against cancer Research in these areas depends to a substantial degree on in vivo experimental animal models and on epide miologic studies including data from cancer registries When the Deutsches Krebsforschungszentrum was founded in 1964 its division Mechanisms of Tumorigenesis and a number of other divisions became engaged in research on chemical carcinogenesis of the skin mainly using the mouse skin as an experimental model Their interest orig inated in part from investigations of the new and at that time controversial pathogenic principle of conditional car cinogens as represented by certain tumor promoters which are per se noncarcinogenic During the past 25 years conditional carcinogens in terms of tumor promoters were established as anew nonclassical category of cancer risk factors besides the classical solitary carcinogens In the course of this exciting period scientists of our center started cooperative programs with clinical dermato logists of the University of Heidelberg at the Clinics of Dermatology in Heidelberg and Mannheim to extend the scope of their investigations into clinical oncology and to contribute by experimental approaches to solving problems in clinical oncology This led to a gradual shift from mere animal studies to the more direct analyses of human tumors and opened up for us a new phase of research Research Awards Index ,1989 Cumulated Index Medicus ,1995 Biomedical Index to PHS-supported Research: pt.
