Bukofzer, 1942 Songs and Musicians in the Fifteenth Century David Fallows, 2024-10-28 The essays in this volume are concerned with song repertoires and performance practice in 15th century Europe The first group of studies arises from the author's long term fascination with the widely dispersed traces of English song and in particular with the most successful song by any English composer O rosa bella This leads to a set of enquiries into the distribution and international currents of the song repertory in Italy and Spain The essays in the final section taken together represent an extended discussion of the problems of performance both of voice and instrument what they performed and how Music at the Aragonese Court of Naples Allan W. Atlas, 2008-10-30 This book deals with various aspects of musical life at the Aragonese court of Naples from its establishment in 1442 to its demise in the opening years of the sixteenth century An opening chapter gives a general historical cultural background of the court The author then discusses the royal chapel and its most important members as well as other important musicians who were in Naples but who had no known ties with the court in an official sense He goes on to describe the various types of secular music at the court and the music manuscripts compiled in and around Naples The importance of the book lies in its attempt to synthesize all that is known about music at Naples both from discovered archival sources and from the scholarly literature of specialized studies The second part of the book contains a collection of 18 pieces edited from Neapolitan manuscripts which illustrate the earlier chapter on the repertory Guillaume Du Fay Alejandro Enrique Planchart, 2018-09-06 This volume explores the work of one of medieval music's most important figures and in so doing presents an extended panorama of musical life in
