God I have attempted to enable the reader to form his own opinion of the subject of the memoir by setting before him his own words in letters and in speeches I have also given many reminiscences and appreciations from the hands of people who knew him at different periods of his life This appeared to me likely to bring out the historic reality more truthfully than summaries or descriptions of mine would do it and with greater variety and freshness I have departed largely from chronological sequence in certain parts of the book in order to display more clearly particular portions of his life for instance his relations with Archbishop Benson and with the Community of the Epiphany and at a later time his work for South Africa and for the cause of Unity in Scotland It has been my desire to show the Bishop not only nor mainly in his public capacity His home life his relations with his family and with his friends the happy environment in which he worked have seemed to me at least as important as anything of a more outward character About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Memoir of George Howard Wilkinson, Vol. 2 of 2 Arthur James Mason, 2016-09-02 Excerpt from Memoir of George Howard Wilkinson Vol 2 of 2 Bishop of St Andrews Dunkeld and Dunblane and Primus of the Scottish Church Formerly Bishop of Truro I have not touched on considerations arising from health family and income because your decision would not hinge on these but it is material that they all bear in one direction I would rather talk on such a matter than write but I shall not be in London again this week and today is all engaged and I fear you have not much opportunity of reaching Fulham where however I shall be at home at luncheon time to morrow and Saturday About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
