Introduction by Stephen Spender Philip O'Connor, Stephen Spender, 1958 Quentin and Philip Andrew Barrow, 2011-08-19 This remarkable double biography celebrates the interlocking lives of two of the greatest eccentrics of the 20th century: the brilliant and bizarre Quentin Crisp and the outlandish Philip O'Connor, whose careers first became entwined in Fitzrovia during the Second World War. This is the first authoritative account of the personalities behind their artful facades, told by novelist Andrew Barrow, whose life was profoundly affected by both men. It is not often that one comes across a truly original book, but here is one. Independent O'Connor was a histrionic Withnail to Crisp's Ziggy Stardust. In Barrow's deft and cleverly constructed text, the two dance in and out of each other's lives and his own imagination. Guardian Beautifully tuned writing, a work of love. Daily Telegraph An affectionate and scrupulous portrait of the kind of lives which will never be seen again. Daily Mail New Selected Journals, 1939-1995 Stephen Spender, 2012-07-03 Private faces in public places. Are wiser and nicer. Than public faces in private places. W. H. Auden dedication to Stephen Spender. 1932 Stephen Spender wrote almost a million words of journal entries between his September Journal in 1939 and his death in 1995. In choosing from these voluminous journals for the new edition, the editors have tried to provide a picture of the various lives Spender brought together in autobiographical form. The earlier 1985 edition of the Journals was overseen by the author and it privileged his thoughts about poetry, his own and other people's. The new edition includes the final ten years of Spender's life and provides access to the more intimate thoughts and feelings of the private man, but equally documents his life as a public intellectual who played a part in shaping the European literary and intellectual culture of his age. As we look back on the dramatic events of the twentieth century, we find that Spender was involved in many of them: the reconstruction of Germany and the construction of Europe as UNESCO's first Literary Councillor, the development of the cultural Cold War as editor of Encounter, the founding of Israel, the anti-Vietnam movement in America. The Journals provide a personal version of sixty turbulent years of the twentieth century, hovering between diary, autobiography, and history. Literary Outlaw: The Life and Times of William S. Burroughs Ted Morgan, 2012-07-31 Almost indecently readable captures Burroughs's destructive energy his ferocious pessimism and the renegade brilliance of his style Vogue With a new preface as well as a final chapter on William S Burroughs s last years the acclaimed Literary Outlaw is the only existing full biography of an extraordinary figure Anarchist heroin addict alcoholic and brilliant writer Burroughs was the patron saint of the Beats His avant garde masterpiece Naked Lunch shook up the literary world with its graphic descriptions of drug abuse and illicit sex and resulted in a landmark Supreme Court ruling on obscenity Burroughs continued to revolutionize literature with novels like The Soft Machine and to shock with the events in his life such as the accidental shooting of his wife which haunted him until his death Ted Morgan captures the man his work and his friends Allen Ginsberg and Paul Bowles among them in this riveting story of an iconoclast

Words in Air Elizabeth Bishop,Robert Lowell,2024-05-01 Three decades of correspondence between two great twentieth century American poets A brilliant testament to the pleasure and power of good company These two lifetimes of mutual admiration make for irresistible reading Oprah com Words in Air takes its place amid the letters of Keats and Hopkins and Owen as one of the great poetic correspondences The Atlantic Robert Lowell once remarked in a letter to Elizabeth Bishop You have always been my favorite poet and favorite friend The feeling was mutual Bishop said that conversation with Lowell left her feeling picked up again to the proper table land of poetry and she once begged him Please never stop writing me letters they always manage to make me feel like my higher self I've been re-reading Emerson for several days Neither ever stopped writing letters from their first meeting in 1947 when both were young newly launched poets until Lowell's death in 1977 Presented in Words in Air is the complete correspondence between Bishop and Lowell The substantial revealing and often very funny interchange that they produced stands as a remarkable collective achievement notable for its sustained conversational brilliance of style its wealth of literary history its incisive snapshots and portraits of people and places and its delicious literary gossip as well as for the window it opens into the unfolding human and artistic drama of two of America's most beloved and influential poets The pleasures of this remarkable correspondence lie in the untiring way these poets entertained each other with the comic inadequacies of the world The New York Times Book Review Words in Air may be the only book of its precise kind ever published the lifelong correspondence between two artists of equal genius The New Yorker This volume takes its place along with the correspondence between Edmund Wilson and Vladimir Nabokov or Kingsley Amis and Philip Larkin as consummated examples of wit affection and indeed in the case of Bishop and Lowell love Boston Sunday Globe

The Disabled Child Amanda Apgar, 2023-01-10 When children are born with disabilities or become disabled in childhood parents often experience bewilderment they find themselves unexpectedly in another world without a roadmap without community and without narratives to make sense of their experiences The Disabled Child Memoirs of a Normal Future tracks the narratives that have emerged from the community of parent memoirists who since the 1980s have written in resistance of their children's exclusion from culture Though the disabilities represented in the genre are diverse the memoirs share a number of remarkable similarities they are generally written by white heterosexual middle or upper middle class able-bodied parents and they depict narratives in which the disabled child overcomes barriers to a normal childhood and adulthood Apgar demonstrates that in the process of telling these stories which recuperate their children as productive members of society parental memoirists write their children into dominant cultural narratives about gender race and class By reinforcing and buying into these norms Apgar argues special needs parental memoirs reinforce ableism at the same time that they re writing against it The Great War and Modern Memory Paul Fussell, 2013-05-15 Winner of both the National Book Award and the National Book Critics Circle Award and named by the Modern Library one of the twentieth century's 100 Best Non Fiction Books Paul Fussell's The Great War and Modern Memory was universally acclaimed on publication in 1970 Today Fussell's landmark study remains as original and gripping as ever a literate literary and unapologetic account of the Great War the war that changed a generation ushered in the modern era and revolutionized how we see the world This brilliant work illuminates the trauma and tragedy of modern warfare in fresh revelatory ways Exploring the work of Siegfried Sassoon Robert Graves Edmund Blunden David Jones Isaac Rosenberg and Wilfred Owen Fussell supplies contexts both actual and literary for those writers who with conspicuous imaginative and artistic meaning most effectively memorialized World War I as an historical experience Dispensing with literary theory and elevated rhetoric Fussell grounds literary texts in the mud and trenches of World War I and shows how these poems diaries novels and letters reflected the massive changes in every area including language itself brought about by the cataclysm of the Great War For generations of readers this work has represented and embodied a model of accessible scholarship huge ambition hard minded research and haunting detail Restored and updated this new edition includes an introduction by historian Jay Winter that takes into account the legacy and literary career of Paul Fussell who died in May 2012 Books and Bookmen ,1958
