Nineteenth-Century British Periodicals E. M. Palmegiano,2013-10-15 This annotated bibliography of nineteenth century British periodicals complete with a detailed subject index reveals how Victorian commentaries on journalism shaped the discourse on the origins and contemporary character of the domestic imperial and foreign press Drawn from a wide range of publications representing diverse political economic religious social and literary views this book contains over 4 500 entries and features extracts from over forty nineteenth century periodicals The articles cataloged offer a thorough and influential analysis of their journalistic milieu presenting statistics on sales and descriptions of advertising passing judgment on space allocations pinpointing different readerships and identifying individuals who engaged with the press either exclusively or occasionally Most importantly the bibliography demonstrates that columnists routinely articulated ideas about the purpose of the press yet rarely recognized the illogic of prioritizing public good and private profit simultaneously thus highlighting implicitly a universal characteristic of journalism its fractious ambiguous conflicting behavior Catalogue Maggs

The Spectacular Past Maurice Samuels,2018-08-06 Struggling to make sense of the Revolution of 1789 the French in the nineteenth century increasingly turned to visual forms of historical representation in a variety of media Maurice Samuels shows how new kinds of popular entertainment introduced during and after the Revolution transformed the past into a spectacle The wax display in which visitors circulated amid life size statues of historical figures the phantasmagoria show in which images of historical personages were projected onto smoke or invisible screens and the panorama in which spectators viewed giant circular canvases depicting historical scenes employed new optical technologies to entice crowds of spectators

Such entertainments Samuels asserts provided bourgeois audiences with an illusion of mastery over the past allowing them to picture their new role as historical agents Samuels demonstrates how the spectacular mode of historical representation pervaded historiography drama and the novel during the Romantic period He then argues that the early Realist fiction of Balzac and Stendhal emerged as a critique of the spectacular historical imagination By investigating how postrevolutionary France envisioned the past Samuels illuminates a vital moment in the cultural history of modernity
