Memoirs Of The Blind The Self Portrait And Other Ruins:

Memoirs of the Blind Jacques Derrida, Musée du Louvre, 1993-01 Twentieth century French philosopher Jacques Derrida critiques famous and lesser known works of art discussing the history and philosophy of art along with the ways that vision blindness and self representation relate to drawing

Memoirs of the Blind Jacques Derrida, Musée du Louvre, 1993-01 In this brilliant essay Jacques Derrida explores issues of vision blindness self representation and their relation to drawing while offering detailed readings of an extraordinary collection of images Selected by Derrida from the prints and drawings department of the Louvre the works depict blindness fictional historical and biblical From Old and New Testament scenes to the myth of Perseus and the Gorgon and the blinding of Polyphemus Derrida uncovers in these images rich provocative layers of interpretation For Derrida drawing is itself blind as an act rooted in memory and anticipation drawing necessarily replaces one kind of seeing direct with another mediated Ultimately he explains the very lines which compose any drawing are themselves never fully visible to the viewer since they exist only in a tenuous state of multiple identities as marks on a page as indicators of a contour Lacking a pure identity the lines of a drawing summon the supplement of the word of verbal discourse and in doing so obscure the visual experience Consequently Derrida demonstrates the very act of depicting a blind person undertakes multiple enactments and statements of blindness and sight

Memoirs of the Blind is both a sophisticated philosophical argument and a series of detailed readings Derrida provides compelling insights into famous and lesser known works interweaving analyses of texts including Diderot's Lettres sur les aveugles the notion of mnemonic art in Baudelaire's The Painter of Modern Life and Merleau Ponty's The Visible and the Invisible Along with engaging meditations on the history and philosophy of art Derrida reveals the ways viewers approach philosophical ideas through art and the ways art enriches philosophical reflection An exploration of sight representation and art Memoirs of the Blind extends and deepens the meditation on vision and painting presented in Truth and Painting Readers of Derrida both new and familiar will profit from this powerful contribution to the study of the visual arts

Memoirs of the Blind: the Self-portrait and Other Ruins Jacques Derrida, 1993 An exploration of issues of vision blindness self representation and their relation to drawing which offers detailed readings of a collection of images from the prints and drawings department of the Louvre The works under consideration depict blindness fictional historical and biblical

Taking on the Tradition Michael Naas, 2003 In this volume the author focuses on how the work of Derrida has helped rework the themes of tradition legacy and inheritance in Western philosophy It includes readings of Derrida's texts that demonstrate the claims he makes cannot be understood without considering the way in which he makes those claims

Tragedy and the Witness Fred Parker, 2025-04-15 As he dies Hamlet pleads with Horatio to report me aright tell my story This book deals with the task of bearing witness to anguish atrocity and madness as these are staged in the tragic theatre Focusing on the relationship between the protagonist and the onlooker or witness it explores how the tragic figure often and understandably viewed as alien or culpable or profoundly strange struggles to be understood Centred on Shakespeare its wide ranging approach also introduces works by among others the Greeks Racine Ibsen Pirandello Kafka Beckett and Kane The discussion intersects with trauma studies and with psychoanalytic theory especially around how subjective experience is held by others The challenge of entering into such difficult experience is likened to the offering of hospitality to the foreigner or stranger the challenge of overcoming xenophobia Another large concern is with how tragedy represents madness and how far such states of mind may be shared with an audience particularly through the lens of King Lear Written in an accessible style this book grounds tragedy in matters that resonate in common experience from mental breakdown and our need to be heard to questions around grieving trauma and the ethics of telling someone s story

The Lyric Poem Marion Thain, 2013-11-07 As a study of lyric poetry in English from the early modern period to the present this book explores one of the most ancient and significant art forms in Western culture as it emerges in its various modern incarnations Combining a much needed historicisation of the concept of lyric with an aesthetic and formal focus this collaboration of period specialists offers a new cross historical approach Through eleven chapters spanning more than four centuries the book provides readers with both a genealogical framework for the understanding of lyric poetry within any particular period and a necessary context for more general discussion of the nature of genre

A literature of restitution Jeannette Baxter, Valerie Henitiuk, Ben Hutchinson, 2015-11-01 This book investigates the crucial question of restitution in the work of W G Sebald Written by leading scholars from a range of disciplines with a foreword by his English translator Anthea Bell the essays collected in this volume place Sebald s oeuvre within the broader context of European culture in order to better understand his engagement with the ethics of aesthetics Whilst opening up his work to a range of under explored areas including dissident surrealism Anglo Irish relations contemporary performance practices and the writings of H G Adler the volume notably returns to the original German texts The recurring themes identified in the essays from Sebald s carefully calibrated syntax to his self consciousness about genre from his interest in liminal spaces to his literal and metaphorical preoccupation with blindness and vision all suggest that the attempt at restitution constitutes the very essence of Sebald s understanding of literature

The Reel Shakespeare Lisa S. Starks, Courtney Lehmann, 2002 This collection models an approach to Shakespeare and cinema that is concerned with the other side of Shakespeare s Hollywood celebrity taking the reader on a practical and theoretical tour through important non mainstream films and the oppositional messages they convey The collection includes essays on early silent adaptations of Hamlet Greenway s Prospero s Books Godard s King Lear Hall s A Midsummer Night s Dream Taymor s Titus Polanski s Macbeth Welles Chimes at Midnight and Van Sant s My Own Private Idaho

Insister of Jacques Derrida Helene Cixous, 2007-11-21 Exciting passionate writing A refusal to mourn her very close friend Derrida s death it begins with a telling of a dream in which Derrida and Cixous feature as footballing mice Tom Boncza Tomaszewski The Independent In 2003 Derrida had promised to attend a colloquium on Reading Cixous and Derrida Reading Each Other Themselves His untimely death in 2004 meant that it was as Cixous writes Impossible to keep one's word on this subject Insister of Jacques Derrida is Cixous poignant and compelling response to his unfulfilled promise and a moving tribute to the colleague collaborator and friend with whom she created some of the most memorable meditations on literature and philosophy of the last century Written in lucid poetic style Cixous uses powerful and evocative recollections to closely read explicate and speculate on their intensely productive relationship as well as on Derrida's legacy demonstrating the profound commitment that formed the cornerstone of both their friendship and their life's works To Follow Peggy Kamuf, 2012-10-12 This book collects ten years of Peggy Kamuf's writing on the work and friendship of Jacques Derrida The majority of the chapters discuss a key aspect of Derrida's thought either from a single work or across several texts Kamuf engages with a broad array

Milton in France Christophe Tournu, 2008 This volume contains a selection of essays presented at the 8th International Milton Symposium Milton Rights and Liberties which was held in Grenoble France 7-11 June 2005 It was the first time ever that such a major event was organized in France hence the volume's title Moreover Milton's writings influenced key figures of the French Revolution The essays presented in this volume were written by emerging as well as confirmed Milton scholars from around the world Topics range from Romanticism Milton and Wordsworth to a psychoanalytic reading of Milton from the iconography of the garden in Paradise Lost to the prosody of Samson Agonistes from Derridean readings of Milton to Milton's presence in Brazil and China Another volume of essays entitled Milton Rights and Liberties was published in 2007

Art Theory as Visual Epistemology Harald Klinke, 2014-06-26 How can we know What does knowledge mean These were the fundamental questions of epistemology in the 17th century In response to continental rationalism the British empiricist John Locke proposed that the only knowledge humans can have is acquired a posteriori In a discussion of the human mind he argued the source of knowledge is sensual experience mostly vision Since vision and picture making are the realm of art art theory picked up on questions such as are pictures able to represent knowledge about the world How does the production of images itself generate knowledge How does pictorial logic differ from linguistic logic How can artists contribute to a collective search for truth Questions concerning the epistemic potential of art can be found throughout the centuries up until the present day However these are not questions of art alone but of the representational value of images in general Thus the history of art theory can contribute much to recent discussions in Visual Studies and Bildwissenschaften by showing the historic dimension of arguments about what images are or should be What is knowledge is as much a philosophic question as What is an image Visual epistemology is a new and promising research field that is best investigated using an interdisciplinary approach that addresses a range of interconnected areas such as internal and external images and the interplay of producer and perceiver of images This publication outlines this territory by gathering together several approaches to visual epistemology by many distinguished authors Thinking About Love Diane Enns, Antonio Calcagno, 2015-11-10 Does love command an ineffability that remains inaccessible to the philosopher Thinking About Love considers the nature and experience of love through the writing of well known Continental philosophers such as Hannah Arendt Simone de Beauvoir Jacques Derrida and Maurice Merleau Ponty Evolving forms of social organization rapid developments in the field of psychology and novel variations on relationships demand new approaches to and ways of talking about love Rather than offering prescriptive claims this volume explores how one might think about the concept philosophically without attempting to resolve or alleviate its ambiguities paradoxes and limitations The essays focus on the contradictions and limits of love manifested in such phenomena as trust abuse grief death violence politics and desire An erudite examination of the many facets of love this book fills a lacuna in the philosophy of this richly complicated topic Along with the editors the contributors are Sophie Bourgault John Caruana Christina M Gschwandtner Marguerite La Caze Alphonso Lingis Christian Lotz Todd May Dawne McCance Dorothea Olkowski Felix Murchadha Fiona Uteley and M lanie Walton Figuring Redemption Tila L. Kellman, Michael Snow, 2002-10-29 How then can it remain objective BOOK JACKET

Re-Imagining Nature Alfred Kentigern Siewers, 2013-12-24 Re Imagining Nature Environmental Humanities and Ecosemiotics explores new horizons in environmental studies which consider communication and meaning as core definitions of ecological life essential to deep sustainability It considers landscape as narrative and applies theoretical frameworks in eco phenomenology and ecosemiotics to literary historical and philosophical study of the relationship between text and landscape It considers in particular examples and lessons to be drawn from case studies of medieval and Native American cultures to illustrate in an applied way the promise of environmental humanities today In doing so it highlights an environmental future for the humanities on the cutting edge of cultural endeavor today The Picture in Question Mark C. Taylor, 2010-01-15 A rich exploration of the possibilities of representation after Modernism Mark Taylor s new study charts the logic and continuity of Mark Tansey s painting by considering the philosophical ideas behind Tansey s art Taylor examines how Tansey uses structuralist and poststructuralist thought as well as catastrophe chaos and complexity theory to create paintings that please the eye while provoking the mind Taylor s clear accounts of thinkers ranging from Plato Kant and Hegel to Merleau Ponty Derrida and de Man will be an invaluable contribution to students and teachers of art Sub-versions of the Archive Carlos Riobó, 2010-12-29 Sub Versions of the Archive Manuel Puig s and Severo Sarduy s Alternative Identities analyzes recent theories of the archive to examine how Manuel Puig and Severo Sarduy reformulate the Latin American literary tradition This study focuses on eclectic theories of the archive as both repository and danger drawing from an array of sources both within and outside the Hispanic literary tradition from Borges Foucault Arrom Derrida Gonz lez Echevarra and Guillory to digital media and biotechnology This book also applies theories of cultural contamination Maria Lugones and symbolic capital Pierre Bourdieu to the novels of Puig and Sarduy to explore the representation of marginal cultures within a body of literature that previously altered or elided these subaltern cultures from the tradition Through close readings and critical theoretical applications this book demonstrates how archival fiction continues to be one of the most popular strategies among Latin American novelists and most importantly how they have successfully managed to find new ways to inscribe their alternative fictions within this tradition Puig's and Sarduy's novels reproduce discourses popular culture and the mass media that lack prestige within the traditional archive These discourses mirror realities of marginal groups gay people children the poor the illiterate women and racial minorities Their cultural variants sub versions of hegemonic masterstories are endowed with truth bearing power for them but were previously left out of the archive as legitimate novelistic models To date this is the only study of contemporary Latin American fiction that puts current theories of the archive especially that of Roberto Gonz lez Echevarr a to practice in such a systematic way Riob's analysis of how Puig and Sarduy reformulate the Latin American canon is both a necessary complement of Gonz lez Echevarr a's work and an intelligent answer to the first of his projected masterstories Riob's multidisciplinary approach The Unspeakable

Failures of David Foster Wallace Clare Hayes-Brady,2017-08-24 A critical overview of the writing of David Foster Wallace taking his persistent interests in philosophy language and plurality as points of departure Education and the Limits of Reason Peter Roberts,Herner Saeverot,2017-07-06 In recent decades a growing body of educational scholarship has called into question deeply embedded assumptions about the nature value and consequences of reason Education and the Limits of Reason extends this critical conversation arguing that in seeking to investigate the meaning and significance of reason in human lives sources other than non fiction educational or philosophical texts can be helpful Drawing on the work of Dostoevsky Tolstoy and Nabokov the authors demonstrate that literature can allow us to see how reason is understood and expressed contested and compromised by distinctive individuals under particular circumstances in complex and varied relations with others Novels plays and short stories can take us into the workings of a rational or irrational mind and show how the inner world of cognitive activity is shaped by external events Perhaps most importantly literature can prompt us to ask searching questions of ourselves it can unsettle and disturb and in so doing can make an important contribution to our educational formation An original and thought provoking work Education and the Limits of Reason offers a fresh perspective on classic texts by Dostoevsky Tolstoy and Nabokov and encourages readers to reconsider conventional views of teaching and learning This book will appeal to a wide range of academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of education literature and philosophy Faith & the Life of the Intellect Curtis L. Hancock,Brendan Sweetman,2003 Many of the contributions offer personal reflections on those events and experiences that helped shape their response to the general issue of faith seeking understanding BOOK JACKET
