Sublime Visions Susanne Stacher, 2018-10-08 In the eighteenth century the Alps became the subject of a new view of nature which crystallized in the sublime Oscillating between fear and fascination this sensual experience triggered a thrilling borderline experience travelers ventured to the mountain world full of longing and projected a variety of different dreams onto the wild nature that had yet to be explored To what extent has the sublime influenced architecture in the Alps from the early days of tourism to the present Prompted by this question the author analyzes Alpine architecture in its historical context and offers a critical assessment of contemporary tourism This is a book that inspires us to reflect on the future of building in the Alps and on our relationship with nature Histoire du Mont-Blanc et de la vallée de Chamonix

Stéphen d' Arve,1878 Mountains Figured and Disfigured in the English-Speaking World Françoise Besson,2020-06-01 The essays in this book written by poets novelists mountain climbers and academics from all over the world evoke the representation of mountains in the English speaking world as artists writers philosophers or mountain climbers have represented them from the sixteenth to the twenty first centuries From the Alps to the Pyrenees from Mount Fuji to Mount Shasta from the Himalayas to the Scottish Highlands from Ikere in Nigeria to Devil s Tower in the United States from Uluru in Australia to the most northern mountain of the Arctic the shapes of the world speak the same language and tell the world its own story This interdisciplinary book weaving together mountaineering literature philosophy painting cinema ecology history palaeontology geography geopolitics toponymy law religion and myth invites people to an innovative reading of mountains it reveals the close relationship existing between the shapes of the world and all forms of writing and at the same time it shows how the representations of the imagination may be instrumental in protecting the natural world The story told by the landscape inscribes a broken line in the shapes of the world tearing the landscape like a fragile page whenever historical and political events wars mining or deforestation leave scars in the landscape but writers and artists representations of mountains constitute a path to awareness as they are not only a painting of beauty but an image of our link to nature and a warning as well For centuries the image of the mountain has conveyed a symbolism telling the story of human thought and this book shows to what extent literature and art play an essential part in our awareness of nature

Ordering Africa Helen Tilley,Robert Gordon,2017-03-01 African research played a major role in transforming the discipline of anthropology in the twentieth century Ethnographic studies in turn had significant effects on the way imperial powers in Africa approached subject peoples Ordering Africa provides the first comparative history of these processes With essays exploring metropolitan research institutes Africans as ethnographers the transnational features of knowledge production and the relationship between anthropology and colonial administration this volume both consolidates and extends a range of new research questions focusing on the politics of imperial knowledge Specific chapters examine French West Africa the Belgian and French Congo the Anglo Egyptian Sudan Italian Northeast Africa Kenya and Equatorial Africa Gabon as well as developments in Britain France Germany Italy and Switzerland A major collection of essays that will be welcomed by scholars interested in imperial history and the history of Africa Art of the Landscape Raffaele Milani,2009-04-01 Aesthetics deals with art a human construction but what one experiences when placed before nature is also an aesthetic feeling the countryside is a place of reflection like no other In The Art of the Landscape Raffaele Milani interprets natural landscapes as an aesthetic category Drawing from philosophical traditions literature and art he calls the reader's attention to a special consciousness originally established during the pre Romantic age that has become a distinctive feature of contemporary spirituality Focusing on the definition of landscapes in relation to the concepts of nature environment territory and man made settings such as gardens and cities Milani examines the origins of the predilection for natural scenery in the works of landscape painters and in travel literature He addresses the distinctness of the aesthetic experience of landscapes analyses the role of aesthetic categories and explores landscape art as a medium of contemplation What emerges is an original morphology of natural beauty derived from the scrutiny of landscape elements most frequently associated with aesthetic emotion the colour of water and the sky earth and stones fire and volcanic eruptions ruins and the mountains an analysis especially relevant given the increasing fragility of our natural environment
