Academic Presenting and Presentations Averil Bolster, Peter Levrai, 2016-08-01 This Teacher s Book is the companion to Academic Presenting and Presentations ISBN 978 3 7347 8367 8 a training course designed to help students cultivate academic presentation skills and deal with the various presentation tasks they may be required to fulfil during the course of their university studies The material is suitable for a global audience and can be used in a wide range of contexts in the fields of Communication Skills English Language Teaching and English for Academic Purposes In addition to providing valuable notes on each unit the Teacher s Book contains key information on the underlying principles concept and structure of the course and sets out the rationale behind its design Teachers and through them their students can benefit from the depth of the insights presented here making the classroom experience a rewarding and enjoyable one Academic presentations can be particularly challenging for non native English speakers and consequently the print material and the accompanying video recordings dovetail neatly to provide linguistic support and guidance as well as

enhancing presentation skills and providing a forum for practice feedback and ongoing improvement However broader topics of interest appropriate to a study oriented context such as research and plagiarism are also dealt with in a unique balance of content that goes beyond the treatment of discrete language points and emphasises high level task achievement whilst at the same time focusing attention on the specific requirements of addressing an audience in an academic environment

Deeper Learning, Dialogic Learning, and Critical Thinking Emmanuel Manalo, 2019-09-12 Deeper learning dialogic learning and critical thinking are essential capabilities in the 21st century environments we now operate Apart from being important in themselves they are also crucial in enabling the acquisition of many other 21st century skills capabilities such as problem solving collaborative learning innovation information and media literacy and so on However the majority of teachers in schools and instructors in higher education are inadequately prepared for the task of promoting deeper learning dialogic learning and critical thinking in their students This is despite the fact that there are educational researchers who are developing and evaluating strategies for such promotion The problem is bridging the gap between the educational researchers work and what gets conveyed to teachers and instructors as evidence based usable strategies This book addresses that gap in it leading scholars from around the world describe strategies they have developed for successfully cultivating students capabilities for deeper learning and transfer of what they learn dialogic learning and effective communication and critical thought They explore connections in the promotion of these capabilities and they provide in accessible form research evidence demonstrating the efficacy of the strategies They also discuss answers to the questions of how and why the strategies work A seminal resource this book creates tangible links between innovative educational research and classroom teaching practices to address the all important question of how we can realize our ideals for education in the 21st century It is a must read for pre service and in service teachers teacher educators and professional developers and educational researchers who truly care that we deliver education that will prepare and serve students for life

Student Empowerment in Higher Education. Reflecting on Teaching Practice and Learner Engagement Anjoom A. Mukadam , 2020-05-04 Student Empowerment in Higher Education brings together the accumulated knowledge and experience of many accomplished teachers and students from higher education institutions around the world and has much to offer those who are engaged in higher education as students teachers or support staff The authors offer personal reflections in teaching learning mentoring assessment hands on activities course design and student identities in higher education across the globe supported by academic research and scholarship Readers are provided with a window into tried and tested empowering practices in varying contexts enabling them to see what works and what does not alongside the challenges and possibilities A distinctive feature of this book and its paramount strength is that it explores best practices in student empowerment whilst reflecting on matters of teaching and learning that are familiar to students and teachers alike and also explores practices in a variety of disciplines The intention of these volumes therefore is not only to inform readers about the diverse learning and teaching approaches of the authors but most importantly to facilitate processes of student empowerment and promote reflection on teaching and learning practices In recent decades higher education policy discourse has persistently implied that a university education is delivered to students under the impersonal banner of the student experience Not only does this commodify the diverse individual experiences of students into one marketable product it also creates false barriers and power dynamics between students and their teachers In Student Empowerment in Higher Education the students and lecturers who collaborated to write this important volume have literally blown such misleading notions out of the window I highly recommend each varied and autonomous chapter to learn what really inspires confidence and success in university students Professor Sarah Hayes Professor of Higher Education Policy University of Wolverhampton The two volumes of Student Empowerment in Higher Education offer the reader rich and varied examples and understandings of student empowerment from around the world The authors provide reflective accounts of learning and teaching from diverse perspectives and disciplines which focus on many different areas of practice in higher education It is this variety that will appeal to many readers as the source of ideas and inspiration for numerous possible routes to empowerment With many chapters co authored by students and staff the book models the collective responsibility students and staff have for enhancing student empowerment Dr Catherine Bovill Senior Lecturer in Student Engagement University of Edinburgh Fulbright Scholar Elon University North Carolina USA Visiting Fellow Knowledge Exchange University of Winchester
