Preserving The Past

James M. Lindgren

Preserving The Past :

Preserving the Old Dominion James Michael Lindgren,1993 In 1889 tradition minded women including many from Virginia's most prominent families formed the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities APVA the first state preservation organization in the United States And where better After all who else could so readily claim both colonial and Confederate heritage both Jamestown and the White House of the Confederacy In Preserving the Old Dominion cultural historian James Lindgren shows how the preservation movement strove to rebuild a revered past upon the foundations of its historic structures While vividly capturing entertaining incidents white gloved pilgrimages a Richmond costume ball even a search for a Jamestown Rock to set back those arriviste New Englanders and introducing battling often with each other preservationists Lindgren also explores the serious consequences of these sometimes amusing efforts He shows how the reinvention of the past shaped contemporary Virginia and the South In a very real sense the battle between North and South was replayed at the end of the nineteenth century in a contest to control the nation's past The AVPA's significance lies not only in the fact that it played a major role in the resurgence of conservatism in the late nineteenth century South but that it fits into a larger American picture where tradition minded Americans tapped their history whether imagined or real to shape their identity Preserving the Old Dominion incorporates history anthropology architecture archaeology religion and politics it will be of interest to historians in all fields as well as women's studies scholars Preserving the Past, Protecting the Future Historic Documents Preservation Program (Conn.),Connecticut State Library. Office of the Public Documents Administrator and State Archives,2003* Preserving the Past E R Chamberlin,2023-01-16 A wide ranging and readable book that explores how our attitudes to physical remnants of the past have changed through time Ideal for everyone interested in learning more about how heritage conservation has evolved Preserving the Past focuses attention on the global preoccupation with preservation of the past and the many ways in which various governments organizations and individuals have attempted to resurrect recreate or retain ancient buildings and artefacts E R Chamberlin discusses topics as diverse as the removal of London Bridge to the Arizona desert the cleaning of Westminster Abbey the excavation of Masada the survival of the stately home Colonial Williamsburg the raising of Abu Simbel and the delicate craft of preserving works of art We have a glimpse too of some of the pioneers of preservation of William Morris the Shah of Persia and Henry Ford Interviews linked with documentary evidence are used to throw light on the questions surrounding such subjects as the reconstruction of Warsaw the Persepolis celebrations in Iran the Elgin Marbles the Crown of St Stephen and the Benin Bronzes and the amazing growth of the antiques trade In all this book is a fascinating view not of the world we have lost but of the world so many people are struggling to keep A pleasant and humane ramble through the highways and byways of conservation June A Sheppard A Journal of Historical Geography Preserving the Past with Oral History Emily Pennel,Arkansas Historic Preservation Program. Education Program,2002 Preserving Historic New England James M. Lindgren,1995-11-09 By the first years of the twentieth century the memory of old time New England was in danger What had once been a land of small towns populated by tradition minded Yankees was now becoming almost unrecognizable with a floodtide of immigrants and the constant change of a modernizing society At the same time cities such as Boston Portsmouth and Salem were bursting at the seams with factories high rises and uncontrollable growth During a period when the Colonial Revival and progressive movements held sway Yankees asserted their influence through campaigns to redefine the meaning of their Anglo American forebears As part of the reaction the modern preservation movement was founded by William Sumner Appleton Jr a privileged old blooded Bostonian Resisting not simply this avalanche of change but the amateurish romanticism of fellow antiquaries Appleton founded the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities in 1910 While examining SPNEA in the context of progressivism Preserving Historic New England focuses on its redefinition of preservation to fit the methodology of science the economy of capitalism and the aestheticism of architecture In so doing preservation not only became a profession defined by those male worlds but remade Yankee memory to accord with the modern corporate order

Homes of the Past William Henry Helm,1921 Transformative Preservation Sara Neyman,2017 Adapting Historic Campus Structures for Accessibility Margaret Milner,1980 The Past is a Foreign Country David Lowenthal,1985-11-14 Lowenthal looks at the benefits and burdens of the past how we study the past and how we change it

Ancestor Worship Rohan Singh,AI,2025-05-06 Ancestor Worship explores the widespread practice of honoring deceased relatives across diverse cultures and throughout history It examines how ancestor reverence shapes cultural identity religious beliefs and social structures revealing the profound ways societies connect with mortality family and the past One intriguing aspect covered is how mortuary rituals like elaborate burial sites and offerings reflect a society s understanding of death and the afterlife The book also examines how ancestor veneration reinforces kinship ties and legitimizes social hierarchies providing continuity and meaning in the face of death The book adopts a comparative approach drawing on archaeological findings religious texts historical accounts and anthropological studies to analyze ancestor reverence in regions like ancient China ancient Egypt and pre Columbian Americas It highlights both common themes and variations in these practices emphasizing the enduring relevance of ancestor veneration in modern societies The book progresses by first introducing key concepts then exploring specific case studies and finally synthesizing the findings to identify overarching patterns

The Monumental Challenge of Preservation Michele Valerie Cloonan,2023-08-15 The enormous task of preserving the world s heritage in the face of war natural disaster vandalism neglect and technical obsolescence The monuments movable immovable tangible and intangible of the world s shared cultural heritage are at risk War terrorism natural disaster vandalism and neglect make the work of preservation a greater challenge than it has been since World War II In The Monumental Challenge of Preservation Mich le Cloonan makes the case that at this critical juncture we must consider preservation in the broadest possible contexts Preservation requires the efforts of an increasing number of stakeholders In order to explore the cultural political technological economic and ethical dimensions of preservation Cloonan examines particular monuments and their preservation dilemmas The massive Bamiyan Buddhas blown up by the Taliban in 2001 are still the subject of debates over how or whether to preserve what remains and the U S National Park Service has undertaken the complex task of preserving the symbolic and often ephemeral objects that visitors leave at the Vietnam Veterans Memorial to take just two of the many examples described in the book Cloonan also considers the ongoing genocide and cultural genocide in Syria the challenges of preserving our digital heritage the dynamic between original and copy efforts to preserve the papers and architectural fragments of the architect Louis Sullivan and the possibility of sustainable preservation In the end Cloonan suggests we are what we preserve and don t preserve Every day we make preservation decisions individually and collectively that have longer term ramifications than we might expect Past Meets Future Antoinette J. Lee,1995-07-19 Emanating from a special National Preservation Conference leading experts present 33 essays on future trends in the historic preservation field Topics range from cultural diversity to the future of American communities This book will guide preservations and anyone concerned about our built environment into the next quarter century

Asian Revitalization Katie Cummer,2021-01-11 Adaptive reuse refers to reusing an old building for a purpose other than which it was originally built or designed This conservation approach has become increasingly popular around the world However there are few publications that focus on its application in Asia This book fills this gap by looking at both unique and shared aspects of adaptive reuse in three Asian urban centers Hong Kong Shanghai and Singapore Building on government policy documents and extensive field work this book contextualizes adaptive reuse in each city and reveals the impetus behind a wide range of projects from revitalization in Hong Kong commercial development in Shanghai to community building in Singapore The introductory chapter sets adaptive reuse within an international perspective noting salient differences and similarities between Asia and other parts of the world It also anchors the discussion within a regional perspective focusing on the similarities and differences between Hong Kong Shanghai and Singapore Each of the following four essays addresses a specific topic about adaptive reuse including its relationship to urban development and sustainability how it benefits heritage buildings and how it reveals best practices in heritage conservation in Asia The subsequent three essays one for each city supplemented with timelines set out a clear framework for understanding the city specific case studies that follow the essays Afterwards fifteen representative projects across the three cities are presented as in depth case studies The pairing of essays and case studies provides a detailed understanding of each city s approach to adaptive reuse in the twenty first century a time when the need for sustainable development solutions are at the forefront Intended for classroom use and professional readership this book will be of considerable value in Asia as well as elsewhere providing material for stimulating and worthwhile discussion Asian Revitalization is a highly practical and accessible volume on the long established conservation practice of adaptive reuse in East Asia Its focus on real life issues examples and challenges posed by revitalization programs in the region is extremely relevant to researchers and practitioners in architectural conservation urban design and urban studies Miles Glendinning University of Edinburgh Scotland This is a superb well documented and original book written by some of the best known and highly respected authors in the field of heritage conservation The carefully examined case studies illustrate a wide variety of solutions that highlight the work of some of the best minds of the next generations Alastair Kerr University of Victoria Canada This is a most interesting set of essays informative and thought provoking The best way to save any heritage building is by keeping it in beneficial use and how to achieve this in a sensitive manner is what these essays are about They should be vital reading for anyone considering an adaptive reuse project in Asia Michael Morrison Purcell UK With cultural heritage firmly ensconced in the global development agendas of the United Nations this well grounded volume draws upon the experience of Hong Kong SAR Shanghai and Singapore to demonstrate to scholars and practitioners alike how historic properties can be sustained through savvy adaptive reuse in the midst of tremendous urban redevelopment pressures Montira Horayangura Unakul UNESCO Bangkok Thailand

Caring for Your Old House Judith L. Kitchen,1991-04 Gives advice to old house owners on rehabilitation and restoration

Preserving New York Anthony Wood,2013-10-28 Preserving New York is the largely unknown inspiring story of the origins of New York City s nationally acclaimed landmarks law The decades of struggle behind the law its intellectual origins the men and women who fought for it the forces that shaped it and the buildings lost and saved on the way to its ultimate passage span from 1913 to 1965 Intended for the interested public as well as students of New York City history architecture and preservation itself over 100 illustrations help reveal a history richer and more complex than the accepted myth that the landmarks law sprang from the wreckage of the great Pennsylvania Station Images include those by noted historic photographers as well as those from newspaper accounts of the time Forgotten civic leaders such as Albert S Bard and lost buildings including the Brokaw Mansions are unveiled in an extensively researched narrative bringing this essential episode in New York s history to future generations tasked with protecting the city s landmarks For the first time the story of how New York won the right to protect its treasured buildings neighborhoods and special places is brought together to enjoy inform and inspire all who love New York

Reconstructing the Past Sian Nicholas,Tom O'Malley,Kevin Williams,2013-09-13 Bringing together a team of history and media researchers from across Britain and Europe this volume provides readers with a themed discussion of the range and variety of the media s engagement with history and a close study of the relationship between media history and national identity

Women Defying Hitler Nathan Stoltzfus,Mordecai Paldiel,Judy Baumel-Schwartz,2021-08-12 This timely volume brings together an international team of leading scholars to explore the ways that women responded to situations of immense deprivation need and victimization under Hitler s dictatorship Paying acute attention to the differences that gender made Women Defying Hitler examines the forms of women s defiance the impact these women had and the moral and ethical dilemmas they faced Several essays also address the special problems of the memory and historiography of women's history during World War II and the book features standpoints of historians as well as the voices of survivors and their descendants. Notably, this book also serves as a guide for human behaviour under extremely difficult conditions. The book is relevant today for challenging discrimination against women and for its nuanced exploration of the conditions minorities face as outspoken protagonists of human rights issues and as resisters of discrimination. From this perspective, the voices being empowered in this book are clear examples of the importance of protest by women in forcing a totalitarian regime to pause and reconsider its options for the moment. In revealing so, Women Defying Hitler ultimately foregrounds that women rescuers and resisters were and are of great continuing consequence.

Old-House Journal, 1980-05 Old House Journal is the original magazine devoted to restoring and preserving old houses. Lene Asp, 2024-09-24 This dissertation challenges the conventional narrative of Danish colonial history by critiquing the predominant reliance on textual records and archives as primary carriers of historical knowledge. Through case studies focused on landscape and landscaping practices, it offers an alternative approach to understanding the past by actively engaging with material heritage in what is conceptualized as a vibrant archive. Utilizing interdisciplinary and practice-led methodologies from cultural and memory studies to ecocriticism, the research examines and engages with colonial history through case studies in dialog with contemporary interlocutors. Emphasizing the dynamic nature of landscapes as vibrant archives in the making, building on Jane Bennett's concept of vibrant matter, the dissertation underscores their capacity to both shape and be shaped by diverse actors and forces. This perspective prioritizes ethical considerations in preserving and interpreting cultural heritage, aiming to foster inclusivity and resilience in shaping future landscapes. As landscapes embody multiple pasts that transcend national borders, they reveal a global network of interconnected material heritage. However, prevailing historical understandings often prioritize certain discursive national formations, limiting a comprehensive grasp of global connectivity. By exploring contemporary investments in constructing new relational pasts, the dissertation seeks to broaden the analytical scope and challenge such dominant narratives. Through an exploration of colonial trauma and the enduring impacts of historical violence, the research delves into the entangled relationships between past, present, and future. Additionally, the dissertation investigates the role of sound recordings in creating immersive narratives and enhancing the communication of findings, offering insights into preservation efforts, cultural revitalization projects, and community-led initiatives in a contemporary context. Throughout the research, there is a consistent advocacy for a more just and inclusive approach to caring for the colonial archive within the context of colonial exploitation and ecological crisis. This emphasis on interconnectedness across social, environmental, and cultural dynamics highlights the urgent need to reckon with colonial

legacies to promote social and environmental justice Denna avhandling utmanar den konventionella berättelsen om dansk kolonialhistoria genom att kritisera den rådande skrivna dokument och arkiv har i förmedlingen av historisk kunskap Via fallstudier som fokuserar på landskap och landskapspraktiker erbjuder den ett alternativt tillvägagångssätt för att förstå det förflutna genom att aktivt engagera sig med materiellt arv i det som conceptualiseras som ett vibrerande arkiv Med hjälp av tvärvetenskapliga och praxisbaserade metoder från kultur och minnesstudier till ekokritik undersöks kolonialhistorien i fallstudier i dialog med samtida samtalspartner Genom att betona landskapens dynamiska natur som vibrerande arkiv under uppbyggnad med utgångspunkt i Jane Bennetts begrepp vibrerande materia framhåller avhandlingen deras förmåga att bilda forma och formas av olika aktörer och krafter Detta perspektiv lyfter fram etiska överväganden i bevarandet och tolkningen av kulturellt arv med målet att främja inkludering och resiliens i utformningen av framtida landskap Eftersom landskap förkroppsligar flera skepnader av det förflutna som verskrider nationsgränser vittnar de om ett globalt nätverk av sammanlänkade materiellt arv Emellertid betonar rådande historiska förståelser ofta vissa diskursiva nationella formationer vilket begränsar en heltäckande förståelse av en global sammanlänkning Genom att utforska samtida ansatser att konstruera det förflutna som multipelt och relationellt strävar avhandlingen efter att bredda den analytiska ramen och utmana sådana dominerande berättelser Koloniala trauman och de bestående effekterna av historiskt våld utforskas vilket leder till en förtydligad förståelse av de sammanflätade relationerna mellan förflutet nutid och framtid Dessutom undersöker avhandlingen ljudinspelningars roll i att skapa immersiva berättelser och förbättra kommunikationen av forskningsresultat och erbjuder insikter i bevarandeinsatser kulturella revitaliseringsprojekt och samhällsledda initiativ i en samtida kontext Genomgående förstås i avhandlingen ett mer rättvist och inkluderande tillvägagångssätt när det gäller omsorgen om det koloniala arkivet inom ramen för kolonial exploatering och ekologisk kris Denna betoning på sammanlänkning av sociala miljöer och kulturella dynamiker framhåller det akuta behovet av att hantera det koloniala arvet för att främja social och miljömedvetenhet The Fabric of History Diana Vikander Edelman, 1991-09-01 Six scholars explore the nature of history and historical reconstruction and the place of history within biblical studies The uncritical use of both text and artifact that continues to dominate histories of Israel and Judah testifies to the need for a wider grassroots awareness of the basic issues involved in doing history as a biblical scholar A growing number of scholars are questioning the theoretical underpinnings of the main schools of research and are calling for an approach that makes a more critical evaluation of both textual and artifactual material before using it in historical reconstruction These essays were first presented at the annual SBL ASOR meeting in 1989 in a symposium entitled The Role of History and Archaeology in Biblical Studies
