Total Quality Management Peratec Ltd, 2012-12-06 Quality is a customer issue It arises because customers require products and services which not only meet their performance requirements but are satisfactory in terms of safety length of working life and pride of ownership In a manufacturing organization therefore the achievement of quality standards is not restricted to the production departments It extends to all parts of the business from conceptual design to marketing from order processing and distribution A quality product is not just a solidly made item dating from the days when Made in Britain distinguished goods from all the inferior products coming out of the emerging industries of the Far East It is a product which ranks high against all the criteria which sophisticated consumers now use to evaluate the things they buy If you agree with the argument that a company is much more likely to produce high quality if all departments are motivated to achieve high quality results then you already have a good understanding of the basic principles of Total Quality Management TQM But TQM is not a quick fix or a magic cure It is a management technique designed to involve all parts of the business in the pursuit of and commitment to the highest quality result By involving everyone from the Chief Executive to the most junior employee in the company's objectives in a way which means something in their particular job the company is well on the way to achieving the best results its workforce can achieve

Ayres,Stefan Gößling-Reisemann,2007-01-16 What s in a name What in particular is metals management all about I suspect that my colleagues assumed that I would have a good answer given that the endowed Sandoz Chair I occupied from 1992 until my retirement in 2000 was entitled Environment and Management and at INSEAD I created a Center for Management of Environmental Resources CMER Metals are a subset of resources et voila However in all honesty management as such was never my core competence to use another phrase popularized by business schools Here comes the shocking secret We used the word management in those titles because INSEAD is a business school where everything has to have an application to business For my colleagues at INSEAD management is what we supposedly teach Good management they we think distinguishes successful enterprises from unsuccessful ones For some of our graduates management is what they give professional advice to corporate clients about For the rest of our graduates it is the umbrella word that describes their choice of career The implication conveyed by our choice of words is that metals can be regarded as one category of environmental resources and that resources including environmental resources can be managed in somewhat the same way that a corporation can be managed It is not even too far fetched to suggest that long run sustainability might be a management problem
