Reading in the Dark Jessica R. McCort, 2016-04-28 Contributions by Rebecca A Brown Justine Gieni Holly Harper Emily L Hiltz A Robin Hoffman Kirsten Kowalewski Peter C Kunze Jorie Lagerwey Nick Levey Jessica R McCort and Janani Subramanian Dark novels shows and films targeted toward children and young adults are proliferating wildly It is even more crucial now to understand the methods by which such texts have traditionally operated and how those methods have been challenged abandoned and appropriated Reading in the Dark fills a gap in criticism devoted to children s popular culture by concentrating on horror an often neglected genre These scholars explore the intersection between horror popular culture and children s cultural productions including picture books fairy tales young adult literature television and monster movies Reading in the Dark looks at horror texts for children with deserved respect weighing the multitude of benefits they can provide for young readers and viewers Refusing to write off the horror genre as campy trite or deforming these essays instead recognize many of the texts and films categorized as scary as among those most widely consumed by children and young adults In addition scholars consider how adult horror has been domesticated by children s literature and culture with authors and screenwriters turning that which was once horrifying into safe funny and delightful books and films Scholars likewise examine the impetus behind such re envisioning of the adult horror novel or film as something appropriate for the young The collection investigates both the constructive and the troublesome aspects of scary books movies and television shows targeted toward children and young adults It considers the complex mechanisms by which these texts communicate overt messages and hidden agendas and it treats as well the readers experiences of such mechanisms Reading in the Dark Seamus Deane, 1998-02-24 A New York Times Notable Book Winner of the Guardian Fiction Prize Winner of the Irish Times Fiction Award and International Award A swift and masterful transformation of family griefs and political violence into something at once rhapsodic and heartbreaking If Isaac Babel had been born in Derry he might have written this sudden brilliant book Seamus Heaney Hugely acclaimed in Great Britain where it was awarded the Guardian Fiction Prize and short listed for the Booker Seamus Deane s first novel is a mesmerizing story of childhood set against the violence of Northern Ireland in the 1940s and 1950s The boy narrator grows up haunted by a truth he both wants and does not want to discover The matter a deadly betrayal unspoken and unspeakable born of political enmity As the boy listens through the silence that surrounds him the truth spreads like a stain until it engulfs him and his family And as he listens and watches the world of legend the stone fort of Grianan home of the warrior Fianna the Field of the Disappeared over which no gulls fly reveals its transfixing reality Meanwhile the real world of adulthood unfolds its secrets like a collection of folktales the dead sister walking again the lost uncle Eddie present on every page the family house as cunning and articulate as a labyrinth closely designed with someone sobbing at the heart of it Seamus Deane has created a luminous tale about how childhood fear turns into fantasy and fantasy turns into fact Breathtakingly sad but vibrant and unforgettable Reading in the Dark is one of the finest books about growing up in Ireland or anywhere that has ever been written Reading Rainbow Readers: Scary Stories to Read When It's Dark SeaStar Publishing Staff,2000-06 A collection of stories about ghosts monsters and scary creatures Reading the Gospels in the Dark Richard Walsh,2003-10-01 Films with Jesus or Jesus like characters have been part of movies since the earliest days and Walsh explores just what kind of impact they have had on their audiences

Haunted historiographies Matthew Schultz,2016-05-16 The spectres of history haunt Irish fiction In this compelling study Matthew Schultz maps these rhetorical hauntings across a wide range of postcolonial Irish novels and defines the spectre as a non present presence that simultaneously symbolises and analyses an overlapping of Irish myth and Irish history By exploring this exchange between literary discourse and historical events Haunted historiographies provides literary historians and cultural critics with a theory of the spectre that exposes the various complex ways in which novelists remember represent and reinvent historical narrative It juxtaposes canonical and non canonical novels that complicate long held assumptions about four definitive events in modern Irish history the Great Famine the Irish Revolution the Second World War and the Northern Irish Troubles to demonstrate how historiographical Irish fiction from James Joyce and Samuel Beckett to Roddy Doyle and Sebastian Barry is both a product of Ireland s colonial history and also the rhetorical means by which a post colonial culture has emerged
