Readings In African American History:

Readings in Us History Keith Henningburg, 2003-08-28 Readings in African-American History Thomas R. Frazier, 2001
This reader contains historical documents representing the contributions to American history from a wide range of African American life and thought. The material is arranged chronologically from the colonial period to the present. Readings in US History: African-American Emphasis Keith Henningburg, 2015-07-14 Readings in African-American History Roberta Arney, Ronald Lee Arney, 1992 African American History & Devotions Dr. Teresa L. Fry Brown, 2018-01-02
Foreword by Sharma D Lewis. Twenty-eight devotions for individuals, families, or small groups, including a scripture verse, a reflection on the scripture, related activities for each day, and a prayer. This intergenerational devotional is great for use during Black History Month but can be used at any time. From Timbuktu to Katrina: Sources in African-American History Volume 2 Quintard Taylor, 2007-07-30. Taylor's two-volume SOURCES IN AFRICAN AMERICAN HISTORY is a compilation of primary and secondary source readings using historical documents to peer into the African American community. The two volumes cover five centuries, beginning with the medieval West African city of Timbuktu in Volume I and addressing such current events as Hurricane Katrina in Volume II. The selections chosen cover the history of politics, culture, gender, social life, religion, racial identity, education, social class, sports, music, the environment, medicine, immigration, and even crime, representing an unprecedented attempt to span what historians now recognize as the enormous breadth and range of documents that reflect on African American life in the United States. Important Notice: Media content referenced within the product description or the product text may not be available in the ebook version. A Turbulent Voyage Floyd W. Hayes, 2000-05. This anthology is designed to introduce the reader to the contours and content of African American Studies. The text and readings included here not only impart information but seek as their foremost goal to precipitate in the reader an awareness of the complex and changing character of the African American experience, its origins, developments, and future challenges. The book aims to engage readers in the critical analysis of a broad spectrum of subjects, themes, and issues: ancient and medieval Africa; Western European domination and African enslavement; resistance to oppression; African American expressive culture; family and educational policies; economic and political matters; and the importance of ideas. The materials included in this anthology comprise a discussion of some of the fundamental problems and prospects related to the African American experience that deserve attention in a course in African American Studies. African American Studies is a broad field concerned with the examination of the black experience both historically and presently. Hence, the subjects, themes, and issues included in this text transcend the narrow confines of traditional academic disciplinary boundaries. In selecting materials for this book, Floyd W. Hayes was guided by a developmental or historical approach in the general compilation of each section's readings. By doing so, the author hopes that the reader will be enabled to arrive at a critical understanding of the conditions and forces that have influenced the African American experience. A Collegiate Press book.

Get it Together, 2003 Get It Together is a thematically organized reader that focuses on issues and events that concern African Americans and promotes critical thinking about how these issues impact the lives of all Americans. An underlying notion of the book is that the key issues for African Americans have not substantially changed through American history. The readings were chosen to assert a need for initiative on the part of the student writer and encourage change through analysis, research, discussion, and involvement. Students are presented with the opportunity to formulate their own initiatives to get it together.

Readings in African American Culture Angela Schwendiman, 2015-12-29 African American: Readings in History and Identity Al Smith, 2000

African-American Philosophy Tommy Lee Lott, 2002 This anthology brings together a selection of historical and contemporary writings on topics in African American Philosophy. Questions regarding a wide range of issues including slavery and freedom, social progress, self-respect, alienation, sexuality, cultural identity, nationalism, feminism, Marxism, and violence are critically examined from different perspectives by well-known philosophers and by non-philosophers from many disciplines. It emphasizes the historical significance of the philosophical arguments within very specific social and political contexts. Features substantial extracts and in some cases complete works by important 19th and 20th-century social and political thinkers organized under sections on Antebellum Critical Thought, Emigrationist and Diaspora Thought, Assimilation and Social Uplift, Contemporary Black Feminist Thought, Civil Rights and Civil Disobedience, Marxism and Social Progress, Rebellion and Radical Thought, Social Activism Reconsidered, Black Women Writers on Rape and Alienation, and Self-Respect. For anyone interested in the African American experience and American history.

Selected Readings to Accompany the Journey Dorothy C. Salem, 1997-08-01 African American History Ronald Goodwin, Michael Hucles, 2018-12-21 African American History: The Development of a People provides students with diverse, concise essays that explore the experiences, traditions, and culture of African Americans in the United States from the nation's early years to today. The readings center on the collective and individual experiences of African Americans and explore the cultural and historical contexts in which they live their lives. Part I of the anthology features readings that correspond

African American Readings of Paul Lisa M. Bowens, 2020-10-13 The letters of Paul, especially the verse in Ephesians directing slaves to obey their masters, played an enormous role in promoting slavery and justifying it as a Christian practice. Yet despite this reality, African Americans throughout history still utilized Paul extensively in their own work to protest and resist oppression, responding to his theology and teachings in numerous, often starkly divergent and liberative ways. In the first book of its kind, Lisa Bowens takes a historical, theological, and biblical approach to explore interpretations of Paul within African American communities over the past few centuries. She surveys a wealth of primary sources from the early 1700s to the mid-twentieth century, including sermons, conversion stories, slave petitions, and autobiographies of ex-slaves, many of which introduce readers to previously unknown names in the history of New Testament interpretation. Along with their hermeneutical value, these texts also provide fresh documentation of Black religious life through wide swaths of American history African American Readings of Paul promises to change the landscape of Pauline studies and fill an important gap in the rising field of reception history

The New Negro Henry Louis Gates Jr., Gene Andrew Jarrett, 2007-10-28 When African American intellectuals announced the birth of the New Negro around the turn of the twentieth century they were attempting through a bold act of renaming to change the way blacks were depicted and perceived in America By challenging stereotypes of the Old Negro and declaring that the New Negro was capable of high achievement black writers tried to revolutionize how whites viewed blacks and how blacks viewed themselves Nothing less than a strategy to re create the public face of the race the New Negro became a dominant figure of racial uplift between Reconstruction and World War II as well as a central idea of the Harlem or New Negro Renaissance Edited by Henry Louis Gates Jr and Gene Andrew Jarrett The New Negro collects more than one hundred canonical and lesser known essays published between 1892 and 1938 that examine the issues of race and representation in African American culture These readings by writers including W E B Du Bois Paul Laurence Dunbar Alain Locke Carl Van Vechten Zora Neale Hurston and Richard Wright discuss the trope of the New Negro and the milieu in which this figure existed from almost every conceivable angle Political essays are joined by essays on African American fiction poetry drama music painting and sculpture More than fascinating historical documents these essays remain essential to the way African American identity and history are still understood today

Major Problems in African American History Barbara Krauthamer, Chad Williams, 2018-07-12 This text introduces you to both primary sources straight from the frontlines of history and analytical essays and is designed to encourage critical thinking about the history and culture of African Americans The carefully selected readings give you many opportunities to evaluate primary sources test the interpretations of distinguished historians and draw your own conclusions

Down by the Riverside Larry Murphy, Larry George Murphy, 2000-11 An introductory overview of the development of African American religion and theology Down by the Riverside provides an expansive introduction to the development of African American religion and theology Spanning the time of slavery up to the present the volume moves beyond Protestant Christianity to address a broad diversity of African American religion from Conjure Orisa and Black Judaism to Islam African American Catholicism and humanism This accessible historical overview begins with African religious heritages and traces the transition to various forms of Christianity as well as the maintenance of African and Islamic traditions in antebellum America Preeminent contributors include Charles Long Gayraud Wilmore Albert Raboteau Manning Marable M Shawn Copeland Vincent Harding Mary Sawyer Toinette Eugene Anthony Pinn and C Eric Lincoln and Lawrence Mamiya They consider the varieties of religious expression emerging from migration from the rural South to urban areas African American women's participation in Christian missions Black religious nationalism and the development of Black Theology from its nineteenth century precursors to its formulation by James Cone and later articulations by black feminist and womanist theologians They also draw on case studies to provide a profile of the Black Christian church today This thematic history of the unfolding of religious life in African America provides a window onto a rich array of African American people practices and theological positions Bible Witness in Black Churches G. Baker-Fletcher, 2009-08-03 Baker Fletcher explores the Bible as a uniquely authoritative text within the context of Black church worship and service to the world as well as analysing the Bible's central role in three forms of witness translation proclamation and empowerment Many Rivers to Cross Andrew Rosa, 2015-07-02 Richard Wright Keneth Kinnamon, 2014-11-04 African American writer Richard Wright 1908-1960 was celebrated during the early 1940s for his searing autobiography Black Boy and fiction Native Son By 1947 he felt so unwelcome in his homeland that he exiled himself and his family in Paris But his writings changed American culture forever and today they are mainstays of literature and composition classes He and his works are also the subjects of numerous critical essays and commentaries by contemporary writers This volume presents a comprehensive annotated bibliography of those essays books and articles from 1983 through 2003 Arranged alphabetically by author within years are some 8 320 entries ranging from unpublished dissertations to book length studies of African American literature and literary criticism Also included as an appendix are addenda to the author's earlier bibliography covering the years from 1934 through 1982 This is the exhaustive reference for serious students of Richard Wright and his critics
