for parents for those who work in the helping professions education and the criminal justice system and for students of sociological theory social psychology human development and race relations Understanding Human Behavior James V. McConnell,1983 Modelling Learners and Learning in Science Education Keith S. Taber,2013-12-11 This book sets out the necessary processes and challenges involved in modeling student thinking understanding and learning The chapters look at the centrality of models for knowledge claims in science education and explore the modeling of mental processes knowledge cognitive development and conceptual learning The conclusion outlines significant implications for science teachers and those researching in this field This highly useful work provides models of scientific thinking from different field and analyses the processes by which we can arrive at claims about the minds of others The author highlights the logical impossibility of ever knowing for sure what someone else knows understands or thinks and makes the case that researchers in science education need to be much more explicit about the extent to which research onto learners ideas in science is necessarily a process of developing models Through this book we learn that research reports should acknowledge the role of modeling and avoid making claims that are much less tentative than is justified as this can lead to misleading and sometimes contrary findings in the literature In everyday life we commonly take it for granted that finding out what another knows or thinks is a relatively trivial or straightforward process We come to take the mental register the way we talk about the contents of minds for granted and so teachers and researchers may readily underestimate the challenges involved in their work Readings on Human Nature Peter Loftson,1998-02-04 This anthology brings together 45 selections by a wide range of philosophers and other thinkers and provides a representative sampling of the approaches to the study of human nature that have been taken within the western tradition The selections range in time from the ancient Greeks to the 1990s and in political orientation from the conservative individualism of Ayn Rand to the liberalism of John Rawls Classic writings from the sixteenth through nineteenth centuries are here Descartes Machiavelli Hobbes Rousseau and so on but so are a wide range of twentieth century writings including a number of feminist voices the biological theory of Edward O Wilson and the cultural materialist theory of Marvin Harris A substantial selection of Christian views of human nature is a central part of the anthology The anthology is as notable for its depth as it is for its breadth an important editorial principle has been to include a variety of substantial selections thus allowing the reader to engage more readily with some of the complexities of each approach Cases on Research-Based Teaching Methods in Science Education de Silva, Eugene,2014-08-31 While the great scientists of the past recognized a need for a multidisciplinary approach today s schools often treat math and science as subjects separate from the rest This not only creates a disinterest among students but also a potential learning gap once students reach college and then graduate into the workforce Cases on Research Based Teaching Methods in Science Education addresses the problems currently facing science education in the USA and the UK and suggests a new hands on approach to learning This book is an essential reference source for policymakers academicians researchers educators
