Kid Food Bettina Elias Siegel,2019-10-04 Most parents start out wanting to raise healthy eaters Then the world intervenes In Kid Food nationally recognized writer and food advocate Bettina Elias Siegel explores one of the fundamental challenges of modern parenting trying to raise healthy eaters in a society intent on pushing children in the opposite direction Siegel dives deep into the many influences that make feeding children healthfully so difficult from the prevailing belief that kids will only eat highly processed kid food to the near constant barrage of special treats Written in the same engaging relatable voice that has made Siegel s web site The Lunch Tray a trusted resource for almost a decade Kid Food combines original reporting with the hard won experiences of a mom to give parents a deeper understanding of the most common obstacles to feeding children well How the notion of picky eating undermines kids diets from an early age and how parents anxieties about pickiness are stoked and exploited by industry marketing Why school meals can still look like fast food even after well publicized federal reforms Fact twisting nutrition claims on grocery products including how statements like made with real fruit can actually mean a product is less healthy The aggressive marketing of junk food to even the youngest children often through sophisticated digital techniques meant to bypass parents oversight Children s menus that teach kids all the wrong lessons about what their food looks like The troubling ways adults exploit kids love of junk food including to cover shortfalls in school budgets control classroom behavior and secure children's love With expert advice time tested advocacy tips and a trove of useful resources Kid Food gives parents both the knowledge and the tools to navigate their children's unhealthy food landscape and change it for the better

Real Food for Mother and Baby Nina Planck, 2016-05-10 Ten years ago Nina Planck changed the way we think about what we eat with the groundbreaking Real Food And when Nina became pregnant she took the same hard look at the nutritional advice for pregnancy and newborns finding a tangle of often contradictory guidelines that seemed at odds with her own common sense In Real Food for Mother and Baby Nina explains why some commonly held ideas about pregnancy and infant nutrition are wrongheaded and why real food is good for growing minds and bodies While her general concept isn't surprising some of the details might be For expecting mothers and babies up to two years old the body's overwhelming requirements are fat and protein not vegetables and low fat dairy which is why for example cereals aren't right for babies but meat and egg yolks are excellent Nina shares tips and advice like a trusted friend and in this updated edition her afterword presents the latest findings and some newly won wisdom from watching her three children grow on real food
