

The background is a complex collage. At the top, there's a purple and blue abstract shape that resembles a woman's face. Below it, the word 'REAL' is in white. The word 'KNOCKOUTS' is in large, bold, black letters with a yellow outline. In the bottom right, there's a green-tinted image of a person in a suit, possibly a boxer or a person in a protective suit, in a dynamic pose.

Men's Intrusion, Women's Embodiment Fiona Vera-Gray, 2016-07-01 Research on violence against women tends to focus on topics such as sexual assault and intimate partner violence arguably to the detriment of investigating men's violence and intrusion in women's everyday lives The reality and possibility of the routine intrusions women experience from men in public space from unwanted comments to flashing following and frottage are frequently unaddressed in research as well as in theoretical and policy based responses to violence against women Often at their height during women's adolescence such practices are commonly dismissed as trivial relatively harmless expressions of free speech too subjective to be legislated against Based on original empirical research this book is the first of its kind to conduct a feminist phenomenological analysis of the experience for women of men's stranger intrusions in public spaces It suggests that intrusion from unknown men is a fundamental factor in how women understand and enact their embodied selfhood This book is essential reading for academics and students involved in the study of violence against women feminist philosophy applied sociology feminist criminology and gender studies

Punching Back Jasmijn Rana, 2022-11-11 In the Netherlands girls and young women are increasingly active in women only kickboxing The general assumption in the Netherlands and in western Europe more broadly is that women's sport is a form of secular feminist empowerment Muslim women's participation would then exemplify the incongruence of Islam with the modern secular nation state Punching Back provides a
