Real Matilda Women And Identity In Australia 1788 To Present:

Identity, Community and Australian Artists, 1890-1914 Kate R. Robertson, 2019-09-19 An irresistible call lured Australian artists abroad between 1890 and 1914 a transitional period immediately pre and post federation Travelling enabled an extension of artistic frontiers and Paris the centre of art and London the heart of the Empire promised wondrous opportunities These expatriate artists formed communities based on their common bond to Australia enacting their Australian ness in private and public settings Yet they also interacted with the broader creative community fashioning a network of social and professional relationships They joined ateliers in Paris such as the Acad mie Julian clubs like the Chelsea Arts Club in London and visited artist colonies including St Ives in England and tapes in France Australian artists persistently sought a sense of belonging negotiating their identity through activities such as plays balls tableaux parties dressing up and of course the creation of art While individual biographies are integral to this study it is through exploring the connections between them that it offers new insights Through utilising extensive archival material much of which has limited or no publication history this book fills a gap in existing scholarship It offers a vital exploration re consideration of the fluidity of identity place and belonging in the lives and work of Australian artists in this juncture in British Australian history The Real Matilda Miriam Dixon, 1976 Convict women Irish women The frontier woman frontier woman — The Real Matilda Miriam Dixon, 1999 The Real Matilda book investigates the Australian experience of women in colonial times and asks how far Australians have moved beyond formative influences elites convicts the Irish which have led to discriminatory attitudes towards women The Europeans in Australia Alan Atkinson, 2016-07-01 It is the duty of historians to be wherever they can accurate precise humane imaginative using moral imagination above all and even handed Alan Atkinson The second of three volumes of the landmark award winning series The Europeans in Australia gives an account of early settlement by Britain It tells of the political and intellectual origins of this extraordinary undertaking that began during the 1780s a decade of extraordinary creativity and the climax of the European Enlightenment Volume Two Democracy takes the story from around 1815 to the early 1870s By exploring the nineteenth century communications revolution Atkinson casts new light on the way Australia first found its place in a global world This volume is more than a story of geography and politics It describes the way people thought and felt Throughout the trilogy Atkinson traces subtle and sudden shifts of common imagination by analysing the lives of both powerful and ordinary Australians He sets out the ideas and the imagery that moved and marked the people This book like all his work is grounded in thorough and rigorous scholarship yet imbued with compassion and insight Written from the inside it is as he says history caught up with the flesh and memory it describes The culmination of an extraordinary career in the writing and teaching of Australian history The Europeans in Australia grapples with the Australian historical experience as a whole from the point of view of the settlers from Europe Ambitious and unique it is the first such large single author account since Manning Clark s A History of Australia National Identity and

Education in Early Twentieth Century Australia Jan Keane, 2018-10-12 This book explores the inculcation of an Australian national identity through a deconstruction of the content of the required reading curriculum for children in schools in the state of Victoria during the first two decades after Federation in 1901 The Cambridge Handbook of Social Sciences in Australia Ian McAllister, Steve Dowrick, Riaz Hassan, 2003-08-07 First published in 2003 The Cambridge Handbook of Social Sciences in Australia is a high quality reference on significant research in Australian social sciences The book is divided into three main sections covering the central areas of the social sciences economics political science and sociology Each section examines the significant research in the field placing it within the context of broader debates about the nature of the social sciences and the ways in which institutional changes have shaped how they are defined taught and researched Writing Women's History Karen M. Offen, Ruth Roach Pierson, Jane Rendall, 1991-08-23 Five essays address such themes as the relationship between feminist history and women's history the use of the concept of experience the development of the history of gender demographic history and women's history and the importance of post structuralism to women's history

The Routledge Companion to Australian Literature Jessica Gildersleeve,2020-12-22 In recent years Australian literature has experienced a revival of interest both domestically and internationally The increasing prominence of work by writers like Christos Tsiolkas heightened through television and film adaptation as well as the award of major international prizes to writers like Richard

Flanagan and the development of new high profile prizes like the Stella Prize have all reinvigorated interest in Australian literature both at home and abroad This Companion emerges as a part of that reinvigoration considering anew the history and development of Australian literature and its key themes as well as tracing the transition of the field through those critical debates It considers works of Australian literature on their own terms as well as positioning them in their critical and historical context and their ethical and interactive position in the public and private spheres With an emphasis on literature's responsibilities this book claims Australian literary studies as a field uniquely positioned to expose the ways in which literature engages with produces and is produced by its context provoking a critical re evaluation of the concept of the relationship between national literatures cultures and histories and the social function of literary texts Families, Labour and Love Maureen Baker, 2020-07-29 We think of our family life as very personal but in fact it is shaped by influences well beyond our control Families Labour and Love identifies the ways in which family and personal life in three settler societies Australia New Zealand and Canada has been shaped by colonisation immigration globalisation demographic changes law and policy Baker shows that these three countries each a former colony developed similar family trends and similar family policies Strongly gendered patterns of paid and unpaid work played a major role in family life The family practices of indigenous people were largely overlooked as were those of recent immigrant groups However local conditions also produced significant differences in family experiences among the three countries Richly illustrated with examples comparative data and textual sources Families Labour and Love provides a broad ranging analysis of the family which will appeal to students researchers and policy makers Maureen Baker outlines with great clarity the diversity of families and the way in which they are shaped by historical and cultural forces The focus on Australia New Zealand and Canada is not only refreshing but throws into sharp relief the impact on contemporary families of the colonial experience industrialisation large scale immigration and globalisation David de Vaus La Trobe University 'A world-proof life' Marivic Wyndham, 2007-01-01 Eleanor Dark 1901 1985 is one of Australia's most celebrated writers of the inter war years Born with the twentieth century a Federation baby she published ten novels amongst them one of the best loved Australian stories of all time The Timeless Land Her life spanned successive global crises two world wars the economic depression of the 1930s the Cold War each issuing its own challenges to the artist and the people's writer she thought herself to be By far the most privileged writer of her generation her ultimate challenge was a personal one to unlock the gates of her world proof life to a society and a world in crisis The first cross cultural biography of this famous Australian writer Marivic Wyndham's rich and controversial portrait of Eleanor Dark is based on extensive research of the author's public and private lives Gender, Madness, and Colonial Paranoia in Australian Literature Laura Deane, 2017-05-31 This book offers an original and compelling analysis of women's madness gender and the Australian family Taking up Anne McClintock's call for critical works that psychoanalyze colonialism this radical re assessment of novels by Christina Stead and Kate Grenville provides a sustained account of women's madness and masculine colonial psychosis from a feminist postcolonial perspective This book rethinks women s madness in the context of Australian colonialism Taking novels of madness by Christina Stead and Kate Grenville as its point of critical departure it applies a post Reconciliation lens to the study of Australia s gender and racial codes to place Australian sexism and misogyny in their proper colonial context Employing madness as a frame to rethink postcolonial theorizing in Australia Gender Madness and Colonial Paranoia in Australian Literature psychoanalyses colonialism to argue that Australia suffers from a cultural pathology based in the strategic forgetting of colonial violence This pathology takes the form of colonial paranoia about race and gender producing distorted gender codes and ways of being Australian This book maps the contours of Australian colonial paranoia weaving feminist literary theory psychoanalysis and postcolonial theory with poststructuralist approaches to reassess the traditional canon of critical madness scholarship and the place of women s writing within it This provocative work marks a radical departure from much recent feminist cultural and postcolonial criticism and will be essential reading for students of Australian literature cultural studies and gender studies wanting a new insight into how the Australian psyche is shaped by settler colonialism
