Klassen, 2023-06-27 This open access book brings together theoretical empirical methodological and practical insights from various countries on effective teaching. It particularly focuses on discussing issues pertaining to effective teaching behaviour including definitions and conceptualizations, measurement differences and importance to student outcomes from international perspectives. The book will draw upon the rich cultures with diverse contexts involving Asia, Australia, Africa, America and Europe which serve as the background setting to better understand teaching quality from a wide spectrum of educational systems and performances. It shows that effective teaching behaviour can be conceptualized and operationalized uniformly using specific frameworks and measures but also addresses some limitations that should be tackled. The book discusses promising ways to measure and compare effective teaching behaviour from classical test theory (CTT) as well as item response theory (IRT) perspectives. It indicates that effective teaching behaviour in diverse countries follows a systematic level of complexity which provides an avenue for ongoing teacher education and teacher professional development. It discusses the interrelated domains of effective teaching behaviour including contemporary trends of differentiation. The book continues with examining similarities and differences in effective teaching behaviour across countries. It builds on the understanding of cultural traditions across countries as profoundly reflected in the classroom processes. Ecology, Engineering, and Management Michel van Eeten, Emery Roe, 2002. This book presents an overview and introduction to adaptive ecosystem management for an audience of environmental policymakers, scientists, engineers, planners and administrators. Adaptive management is the process of implementing policy decisions through scientifically driven management experiments. These experiments test predictions with policy implications and the results are then used to improve or optimize the policy outcomes. Van Eeten and Roe outline the principles and procedures recommended for adaptive ecosystem management and then present an extensive case study and demonstration of the approach through examination of the CALFED Program. CALFED covering the San Francisco Bay and Sacramento River Delta is the largest integrative program for ecosystem restoration and management in the US and is an ideal testing ground for case by case resource management across a heterogeneous landscape where population resources and the environment are in conflict.
