Recasting Women Essays In Colonial:

Recasting Women Kumkum Sangari, Sudesh Vaid, 1997 Recasting Women Kumkum Sangari, Sudesh Vaid, 1990 The political and social life of India in the last decade has given rise to a variety of questions concerning the nature and resilience of patriarchal systems in a transitional and post colonial society The contributors to this interdisciplinary volume recognize that every aspect of reality is gendered and that such a recognition involves a dismantling of the ideological presuppositions of the so called gender neutral ideologies as well as the boundaries of individual disciplines Recasting Women Essays in Colonial History, 2015 Colonialism as Civilizing Mission Harald Fischer-Tiné, Michael Mann, 2004 Inherent in colonialism was the idea of self legitimation the most powerful tool of which was the colonizer's claim to bring the fruits of progress and modernity to the subject people In colonial logic people who were different because they were inferior had to be made similar and hence equal by civilizing them However once this equality had been attained the very basis for colonial rule would vanish Colonialism as Civilizing Mission explores British colonial ideology at work in South Asia Ranging from studies on sport and national education and pulp fiction to infanticide psychiatric therapy and religion these essays on the various forms expressions and consequences of the British civilizing mission in South Asia shed light on a topic that even today continues to be an important factor in South Asian politics Women Writing in India: 600 B.C. to the early twentieth century Susie J. Tharu, Ke Lalita, 1991 Includes songs by Buddhist nuns testimonies of medieval rebel poets and court historians and the voices of more than 60 other writers of the 18th and 19th centuries Among the diverse selections are a rare early essay by an untouchable woman an account by the first feminist historian and a selection from the first novel written in English by an Indian woman Making Women's Histories Pamela S. Nadell, Kate Haulman, 2013-01-07 Examines how women's histories are explored and explained around the world Making Women's Histories showcases the transformations that the intellectual and political production of women's history has engendered across time and space It considers the difference women's and gender history has made to and within national fields of study and to what extent the wider historiography has integrated this new knowledge What are the accomplishments of women's and gender history What are its shortcomings What is its future The contributors discuss their discovery of women's histories the multiple turns the field has taken and how place affected the course of this scholarship Noted scholars of women's and gender history they stand atop such historiographically defined vantage points as Tsarist Russia the British Empire in Egypt and India Qing dynasty China and the U S roiling through the 1960s From these and other peaks they gaze out at the world around them surveying trajectories in the creation of women's histories in recent and distant pasts and envisioning their futures Acts of Authority/Acts of Resistance Nandi Bhatia, 2010-02-01 Explores the relationship between nationalism colonialism and the politics of theater in colonial and postcolonial India State, Law and Gender Shreya Roy, 2023-12-12 A critical analysis of marriage law in India from the late nineteenth to early twentieth century In State Law and Gender Shreya Roy highlights how Indian law has been implicated in women's subordination. It explores the ideological expectations that underpin women's legal regulation as well as the traditions in which law subjugates women the multifaceted and elusive ways wherein law validates profoundly gender based suppositions relationships and characters. The book demonstrates that the correlation of moral precepts and legal norms is associated with the broader history of the age of marriage of girls in India and it has also shown how history includes diverse alternatives to understanding and addressing the problem of child marriages that do not rely on liberal legal frameworks. The book critically analyzes and evaluates the social and legislative history of the period focusing particularly on three significant pieces of legislation: Act III of 1872, the Age of Consent Act of 1891 and the Child Marriage Restraint Act of 1929. It traces the history of the legal changes related to the age of marriage in India after Independence and links this issue with the present day concern and the Government's initiative for raising the age of marriage of girls.

Inventing Subjects Himani Bannerji, 2002. A collection of essays written from a Marxist Feminist perspective. Inventing Subjects is a significant contribution to the field of historical sociology. The essays speak of the different ways in which social subjects and their agencies have been constructed and represented in the context of the development of colonial hegemony and socio cultural formations in India. Four of the essays focus on constructive proposals for social subjectivities and agencies of Bengali middle class women by both the indigenous and the colonial elite. The other two essays consider the invention or construction of India as an ideological category for ruling which seeks to impose on it a colonially ascribed identity. The essays capture the fluidity and complexity of subject construction and read moral regulations and culture in terms of a hegemonic process. They range from middle class Bengali women's attempts at self fashioning to the colonial ideological reflexes within which their projects are articulated. They disclose and query the tensions inherent in the processes of indigenous socio cultural constructions and identity formations as well as the reductionism involved in the creation of colonial others.

Journey of Gujarati Women Writers: from Regionalism to Globalism Dr. Pratixa Parekh, 2024-08-28. For my research I have conducted a comparative study of the select fiction by Gujarati women writers in its original Gujarati and in English translation. The primary texts considered for the same consists of some of the famous fiction by well known Gujarati authors: Saat Pagla Akashma by Kundanika Kapadia, Vaad by Ila Arab Mehta, Andhari Galima by Safed Tapka by Himanshi Shelat and two anthologies of Gujarati short stories translated in English: Speech and Silence by Rita Kothari and New Horizons of Women's Writing by Amina Amin and Manju Verma. For this comparative study I have applied Andre Lefevere's 1945-1996 conceptual framework of Translation as a Rewriting of the Original and his concepts of four constraints namely Ideology, Poetics, Patronage and Universe of Discourse. Apart from this another important aim of my research was to examine the representation of female gender and scrutinize any instance of manipulation to create a different and more acceptable image of the women of Gujarat. Often it has been observed that the translator's personal prejudices and cultural background affect the meaning of the original text as well as the character portrayal to suit the convenience of the target language culture readers The book also involved a study of the literature of Gujarat with particular focus on the arrival and contributions of women writers to the Gujarati literary spectrum a comparative analysis of the representation of women in fiction by male and female writers of the state Along with mainstream literature folk and tribal literatures too have been considered especially the gender images they portray I have scrutinised select excerpts from both the original fiction and their translations of the primary texts to examine any instances of misrepresentation or ambiguity at socio cultural linguistic front as well as in the representation of female self with a theoretical background of general translation theory and Lefevere's theory in particular with fascinating findings at the end of the research endeavour In recent years translation studies has emerged as a major academic discipline along with the rise of translation industry with the availability of multiple foreign language texts available in English as well as Indian languages and vice versa This booming industry also promised ample opportunities to translators assuring not only prestige but also financial security However the point under scrutiny is that does the commercialization of the translation industry promote quality translations In such circumstances it is essential to conduct a survey to analyse the quality of translations produced and to provide a better guideline to the aspiring translators to make them better equipped with translation technique and theory to help them produce good quality translations while overcoming various hurdles at linguistic cultural and stylistic levels which are capable to represent the region culture society writer and literature of the original language This research focuses on this relatively new and less paved area and it is a humble initiative in this direction with an aim to spread awareness towards this much neglected aspect of translation activity
