Introduction to Criminology

Pamela J. Schram,Stephen G. Tibbetts,2017-02-13 Introduction to Criminology Why Do They Do It Second Edition by Pamela J Schram Stephen G Tibbetts offers a contemporary and integrated discussion of the key theories that help us understand crime in the 21st century With a focus on why offenders commit crimes this bestseller skillfully engages students with real world cases and examples to help students explore the fundamentals of criminology To better align with how instructors actually teach this course coverage of violent and property crimes has been integrated into the theory chapters so students can clearly understand the application of theory to criminal behavior Unlike other introductory criminology textbooks the Second Edition discusses issues of diversity in each chapter and covers many contemporary topics that are not well represented in other texts such as feminist criminology cybercrime hate crimes white collar crime homeland security and identity theft Transnational comparisons regarding crime rates and the methods other countries use to deal with crime make this edition the most universal to date and a perfect companion for those wanting to learn about criminology in context

Understanding Drugs, Alcohol And Crime

Bennett, Trevor,Holloway, Katy,2005-04-01 Bennett and Holloway sUnderstanding Drugs Alcohol and Crimeisthe best most up to date and comprehensive examination for theUnited Kingdom of interactions among drugs alcohol and crime Theauthors exhaustively and authoritatively survey current knowledge inthe UK and from many other countries on drug and alcohol use ascause and consequence of crime and the effects of law enforcementand treatment responses Clearly written unfailingly lucid andadmirably accurate this book will be the indispensable work onBritish drug policy for many years to come Professor Michael Tonry University of Minnesota Law School USA What makes this book particularly interesting is the refreshingly non judgmental presentation which conveys the essence of very important issues in contemporary society Therefore this is an ideal text not only for students but also for policy makers drugs and alcohol counsellors treatment agencies and everyone interested in doing research on drugs alcohol and crime Nicoletta Policek University of Abertay Dundee The publication is not only an excellent summary of the existing research in Great Britain and to a lesser extent from other jurisdictions it is a foundation for future research by evoking and at times provoking questions and offering a variety of possible responses Hirsch Greenberg University of Regina What is the connection between drugs alcohol and crime What works in reducing drugs and alcohol related crime The book provides a succinct overview of current theory and research on the links between drugs alcohol use and crime It discusses the legal and social context of drug and alcohol use and identifies current levels of consumption Focusing on the UK context it also takes into account international research where appropriate Detailed review of the research literature on the connections between drug use and crime Examines the current government anti drugs policy and assesses the effectiveness of programmes that have been used to reduce drug and alcohol related crime The book concludes that future government drugs policy should pay particular attention to the lessons learned from research on the connection between drug and alcohol use and crime Ideal for criminology criminal justice social policy and social work students this book will also be a useful source of information for policy makers the police probation workers social workers drugs and alcohol counsellors treatment agencies sentencers voluntary agencies Drug Action Teams and others with an interest in research on drugs and crime

Law and Neuroscience: Justice as a Challenge for Neurorights, Neurolaw, and Forensic Psychology Eric

García-López, Eduardo Demetrio Crespo, Cristina Nombela Otero, Federica Coppola, 2025-05-29 Justice is one of the most complex issues in the study of Law Philosophical sociological and religious studies have attempted to articulate this value central to human coexistence throughout history More recently specialised sub disciplines such as Legal Psychology have significantly contributed to refining the relationship between Law and Justice by enriching the study of these normative domains with empirical knowledge about social interactions In more recent developments the discipline of Neurolaw has begun to offer new insights into the analysis of the longstanding and disputed issues surrounding Law and Justice Neurolaw can be defined as the analysis of Law and Justice from the perspective of Neuroscience and involves an understanding of human behavior through the study of the brain's interactions with the environment Neuroscience appears to provide a more up to date understanding of human behavior focussing on the legal and forensic implications Yet neuroscientific studies of crime fail to grasp the impact of broader socio contextual contingencies on human conduct including institutional failures gender dynamics and cultural power Such a failure evidences the limits of neuroscience as a complete epistemological tool It is too narrow to provide a complete understanding of complex human conduct like crime as it involves a careful examination of the variegated interactions between various social and biological levels This Research Topic addresses the need for developing a holistic theoretical framework that considers not only the biological nature of human beings but also the social cultural and political influences on human behavior Such a holistic approach is necessary to clarify some foundational philosophical questions including subjectivity and consciousness as well as the role that these concepts play within the notion of criminal liability and punishment In addition to these unresolved philosophical questions there is also the need for a revised legal and forensic approach that grasps a more nuanced and complex understanding of human conduct Topics for contributions include but are not limited to the following Neuroscience Law and Criminal Justice Neuroscience Law and Social Justice Neuroscience Law and Racial Justice Neuroscience and Restorative Justice Neurorights Neuroethics Criminal responsibility Decision making Juvenile Criminal Law and Punishment Free will Ethical legal and social repercussions of the neurotechnologies currently available as well as of those that are currently being developed We welcome submissions from authors with backgrounds in law justice philosophy forensic neuropsychology forensic cognitive social psychology forensic psychiatry criminology sociology addressing theoretical methodological or empirical issues related to these topics and other related ones Cross inter and multidisciplinary contributions are of course welcome

Innovative Possibilities: Global Policing Research and Practice Les Johnston, Clifford Shearing, 2013-12-16 Innovative Possibilities Global Policing Research and Practice brings together observations that reflect upon the state of police and policing across the globe and associated forms of policing scholarship with inputs from Africa Australia South and Central America China Europe and the USA Following the introduction the book begins with a review of the nature of the relationship between policing research and practice with the Victoria Police in Australia and moves on to Britain where the focus is on how the National Improvement Strategy for Policing NISP is developing and how research is being used to design define monitor and develop its strategic interventions using a series of case studies In the United States the complex American terrain of the police is examined in particular this chapter examines how crime statistics are used to rationalize justify and account for their actions In Latin America a comprehensive review of research on police reform in Latin America during the last two decades is given Africa provides a complex and diverse social terrain which needs to be understood in relation to its plural policing landscape Police scholarship in China looks at the historical development and current status of police scholarship in China together with the emerging issues arising from it The overarching concern of all these reflections is with bridging the deep seated tensions that exist between scholarship and practice within policing across the globe and the call for a new relationship of mutual respect that is committed to exploring better ways of governing security This book was published as a special issue of Police Practice and Research Economic Analysis and Efficiency in Policing, Criminal Justice and Crime Reduction Matthew Manning, Shane D. Johnson, Nick Tilley, Gabriel T.W. Wong, Margarita Vorsina, 2016-09-23 This monograph explains what economic analysis is why it is important and forms it can take in policing and criminal justice Costs are important in all forms of economic analysis but their collection tends to be partial and inadequate in capturing key information A practical guide to the collection is therefore also provided
