Reducing Traffic Injury a Global Challenge:

Eliminating Serious Injury and Death from Road Transport Ian Ronald Johnston, Carlyn Muir, Eric William Howard, 2013-12-11 The book explodes the myths that currently drive society's view of traffic safety and limit progress in reducing death and serious injury. It presents current scientific knowledge in a non-technical way and draws parallels with other areas of public safety and public health. It uses examples from the media and from public policy debates to paint a clear picture of a flawed public policy approach and offers preventive medicine principles to take the field forward. Reducing Traffic Injury Ian R. Johnston, 1988 Position Papers from the Third National Injury Control Conference, 1992 Road Traffic Injury Prevention Training Manual Dinesh Mohan, Indian Institute of Technology, Delhi, 2006 Road traffic collisions kill about 1.2 million people around the world every year but they are largely neglected as a health and development issue perhaps because they are still viewed by many as being beyond human control. Efforts to prevent road traffic injuries are hampered by a lack of human capacity. Policy makers, researchers, and practitioners need information on effective prevention measures and on how to develop, implement, and evaluate such interventions. There is a need to train more specialists in road traffic injury prevention in order to address the growing problem of road traffic injuries at international levels. Symposium on Effective Highway Accident Countermeasures, 1990 The Symposium on Effective Highway Accident Countermeasures was held in Washington D.C. on June 12-14, 1990. The Symposium was hosted by the Federal Highway Administration in cooperation with the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. The Symposium's objectives were to identify the most effective and practical short-term (within 2 years) countermeasures to highway accidents and to develop strategies for their implementation. The Symposium focused on five areas of highway safety: improving pedestrian safety, reducing accident severity, improving driver performance and control, improving commercial motor vehicle safety, and identifying and improving highway corridors. This publication summarizes the presentations and workshop reports. World Report on Road Traffic Injury Prevention Marjorie Peden, 2008-09 Every day thousands of people are killed and injured on our roads. Millions of people each year will spend long weeks in the hospital after severe crashes, and many will never be able to live, work, or play as they used to do. Current efforts to address road safety are minimal in comparison to this growing human suffering. This report presents a comprehensive overview of what is known about the magnitude, risk factors, and impact of road traffic injuries and about ways to prevent and lessen the impact of road crashes. Over 100 experts from all continents and different sectors, including transport, engineering, health, police, education, and civil society, have worked to produce the report. Charts and tables. Injury Prevention and Control Dinesh Mohan, G.N. Tiwari, 2003-09-02 At least 5 million people die each year from injuries, and about half the deaths in the 10-24 age group are accountable to them. This is a major health problem for which a number of strategies for prevention and control can be developed. This book presents a series of the plenary and state-of-the-art presentations from the 5th World Conference on Injury Prevention and Control.

There is a focus on transportation workplace sport and leisure and domestic sectors and an exploration of the legal medical environmental safety and governmental issues which play a part in the subject Practitioners and researchers in a variety of activities including epidemiology and public health occupational health and safety ergonomics and product design medicine criminology engineering and physical sciences and the behavioural sciences should find this a useful and challenging work

Transportation, Traffic Safety and Health — Prevention and Health Hans v. Holst,Ake Nygren,Ake E.

Andersson,2012-12-06 Rodney E Slater Secretary of Transportation U S Department of Transportation know many of you have traveled great distances to be here I To me that shows not only your dedication to the cause but demonstrates how very important transportation safety is becoming throughout the world So I am very thankful to the main organizers of this third annual conference all of whom are from Sweden Dr Hans von Holst of the Royal Institute of Technology Dr Ake Nygren of the Karolinska Institute Dr Ake E Andersson of the Institute for Futures Studies and finally Dr Arne Witt16v and Lars Anell from AB Volvo And let me give a special welcome to our friends from Africa I will be visiting a number of African nations in January And while my main mission is to promote trade and investment with the United States we will be talking about safety too Airline safety for example is a big concern as Africa grows and prospers and the demand for air travel expands We discussed it during recent meetings of the International Civil Aviation Organization in Montreal several weeks ago And we will do so again during my trip plan to talk about how my department can help the Also we many nations of Africa improve highway safety Africa relies heavily on road transportation But highway fatalities are very high And the economic costs are very steep especially for Africa s fragile emerging v market economies Transportation, Traffic Safety and Health —

Human Behavior Hans von Holst,Ake Nygren,Ake E. Andersson,2012-12-06 The focus of this book is to present the latest aspects in the area of human behavior and its relation to planning of an optimal traffic safety The contributions from authors in various disciplines such as scientists medical practitioners administrators and practitioners from the car industry examine how road user behavior can cause accidents and how decision makers from various sectors of society may influence road users behavior The development of modern vehicles and new traffic systems requires more sophisticated behavior and technology New medical technologies such as improved neuropsychologic methods and descriptive mapping of behavior with imaging techniques facilitate the understanding of the anatomy and physiology of human behavior The increased knowledge of normal and pathologic behavior contributes to strengthen primary prevention with the goal of reducing traffic accidents

Towards Zero Ambitious Road Safety Targets and the Safe System Approach International Transport Forum,2008-09-23

This report takes stock of recent developments and initiatives to meet increasingly ambitious road safety targets and constitutes a major international review of progress in developing Safe System approaches now adopted in a small number of countries Injury Prevention Peter Barss,1998 The authors emphasize a methodological approach in the analysis of the health impact circumstances and costs of injuries They detail the role of health services in injury prevention and describe surveillance methods and effective preventive measures that can be implemented relatively easily even in countries with limited resources

Recent Advances in Neurotraumatology Norio Nakamura, Takuo Hashimoto, Masaharu Yasue, 2012-12-06 The dawn of neurosurgery can be traced back to the first description preserved in the Edwin Smith papyrus 3000 BC which dealt with head and spinal injury In the course of 5000 years since the first record in Egypt advances in lifestyle and technology have brought about our modern civilized society However as a result of civilization currently the total number of severe head injuries worldwide is believed to exceed 10 000 000 and the number of severe spinal injuries is believed to be more than 75 000 each year This means that central nervous system injury is not only the oldest topic in neurosurgery but that it is also of critical importance in modern life Taking these problems into consideration the International Neurotraumatology Committee was organized in 1965 as an affiliated Committee of the World Federation of Neurosurgical Societies The first scientific meeting was convened by the Committee in Marseilles in 1970 Nine further meetings were subsequently held in Europe Africa and South America The meeting was first named International Conference on Recent Advances in Neurotraumatology ICRAN by Professor Phillip Harris when the scientific meeting was held in Edinburgh in 1982 The tenth meeting ICRAN 1992 the first one in Asia was held at Karuizawa Japan from September 23rd to 26th 1992
