Reena And Other Stories:

Reena and Other Stories, 1983 Telling Stories Jacqueline Bardolph, André Viola, Jean-Pierre Durix, 2001 The present volume is a highly comprehensive assessment of the postcolonial short story since the thirty six contributions cover most geographical areas concerned Another important feature is that it deals not only with exclusive practitioners of the genre Mansfield Munro but also with well known novelists Achebe Armah Atwood Carey Rushdie so that stimulating comparisons are suggested between shorter and longer works by the same authors In addition the volume is of interest for the study of aspects of orality dialect dance rhythms circularity and trickster figure for instance and of the more or less conflictual relationships between the individual character or implied author and the community Furthermore the marginalized status of women emerges as another major theme both as regards the past for white women settlers or the present for urbanized characters primarily in Africa and India The reader will also have the rare pleasure of discovering Janice Kulik Keefer's Fox her version of what she calls in her commentary displaced autobiography or creative non fiction Lastly an extensive bibliography on the postcolonial short story opens up further possibilities for research

Who's Who in Contemporary Women's Writing Jane Eldridge Miller, 2019-07-23 Unique in its breadth of coverage Who's Who in Contemporary Women's Writing is a comprehensive authoritative and enjoyable guide to women's fiction prose poetry and drama from around the world in the second half of the twentieth century Over the course of 1000 entries by over 150 international contributors a picture emerges of the incredible range of women's writing in our time from Toni Morrison to Fleur Adcock all are here This book includes the established and well loved but also opens up new worlds of modern literature which may be unfamiliar but are never less than fascinating

Sultana's Dream and Selections from The Secluded Ones Rokeyā (Begama), Hanna Papanek, 1988 Tells the story of a feminist utopia and discusses the Muslim custom of purdah the seclusion and segregation of women

Caribbean Romances Belinda Edmondson, 1999 Ten young scholars from a variety of disciplines explore how the concept of romance initially constructed in the imperial imagination of Europe and America is employed within contemporary Caribbean popular culture and literature to idealize the newly independent postcolonial societies of the region

New York and Toronto Novels after Postmodernism Caroline Rosenthal, 2011 Cities are material and symbolic spaces through which nations define their cultural identities The great cities that have arisen on the North American continent have stimulated the imaginations of the United States and Canada in very different ways This first comparative study of North American urban fiction starts out by delineating the sociohistorical and literary contexts in which cities grew into diverging symbolic spaces in American and Canadian culture After an overview of recent developments in the cultural conception of urban space the book takes New York and Toronto fiction as exemplary for exploring representations of the urban after postmodernism It analyzes four twenty first century novels two set in New York Siri Hustvedt's What I Loved and Paule Marshall's The Fisher King and two set in Toronto Carol Shields's Unless and Dionne Brand's What We All Long For While these texts continue to echo the specific traditions of nation building and canon formation in the United States and Canada they also share certain features All of them investigate the affective crossroads of the city while returning to a more realistic mode of representation Caroline Rosenthal is Professor of American Literature at the Friedrich Schiller University in Jena Germany The Blackademic Life Lavelle Porter, 2019-10-15 The Blackademic Life critically examines academic fiction produced by black writers Lavelle Porter evaluates the depiction of academic and campus life in literature as a space for black writers to produce counternarratives that celebrate black intelligence and argue for the importance of higher education particularly in the humanistic tradition Beginning with an examination of W E B Du Bois's creative writing as the source of the first black academic novels Porter looks at the fictional representations of black intellectual life and the expectations that are placed on faculty and students to be racial representatives and spokespersons whether or not they ever intended to be The final chapter examines blackademics on stage and screen including in the 2014 film Dear White People and the groundbreaking television series A Different World A Human Necklace Moira Ferguson, 2013-12-01 Argues that Paule Marshall's work collectively constitutes a multigenerational saga of the African diaspora across centuries and continents From Brown Girl Brownstones 1959 to The Fisher King 2000 Paule Marshall's novels novellas and short stories include a rich cast of unforgettable men women and children who forge spiritual as well as emotional and geographical paths toward their ancestors In this the first critical study to address all of Marshall's fiction Moira Ferguson argues that Marshall's work collectively constitutes a multigenerational saga of the African diaspora across centuries and continents In creating a space for her characters interrupted lives and those of their elders and ancestors Ferguson argues Marshall trains a spotlight on slavery's wake and engages her fiction in the service of healing deep global wounds In sophisticated yet accessible discussions Ferguson places Marshall's work in a variety of contexts that are at the center of diasporic and postcolonial studies By producing this comprehensive examination of Marshall's fiction she captures the way in which Marshall not only writes about diasporic experiences but through the interconnected themes of her novels is crafting a diasporic saga on the subject Sharon M Harris author of Dr Mary Walker An American Radical 1832-1919
