The contributions cover a wide range of intertwined subjects. These include: a deep reflection on life-long career guidance (LLCG) systems and processes in the three national contexts; b) the challenges of managing PAAR projects in organisations; c) the role of participative and appreciative approaches in facilitating a positive shift from professionals inside welfare state institutions to a more counselling-oriented mission; d) how to build up an appreciative memory that is a way of representing experience and creating space for relationships so that they remain stable over time; e) reflection on what may happen to learning processes if the contexts in which the empowerment practices are implemented happen through a virtual environment such as a blog or a social network. The Editors are all experienced researchers and practitioners working in the field of facilitation, life-long career guidance.
