

A. FAMILY

Family for me is the most significant social institution that shapes an individual's social identity. Before a child becomes a citizen of the country, he/she will first become a member of a small community called family, where everything will start, where his/her first lessons will be taught, and his/her first roles will be portrayed. Majority of a person's identity is mold by this small community. That is why I believe that the actions and social behaviors of a person in the society reflect on the family he/she came from. How people act in a larger environment is always greatly affected by how they are being treated in a small environment. A micro action creates a macro effect. If the family teaches its members how to be responsible, then the society will be lived by a responsible one. Family influences its member's values and social identity that is why family should always be there all throughout the journey of every individual. However, it will always come to a time when each member, specifically the children, will leave the house, where this family lived and shared happy and sad moments, to look for opportunities, live by their own, and build their own family. But, are leaving house and living by their own also means forgetting the family and not minding anymore the values they taught?

After reading the article about Mrs. Maniago's Family, I realized that being a family will not stop from being a family once its members leave the house and chose to live on their own. In the case of Mrs. Maniago, she was able to make her family intact even though his husband passed away and her children reside and work far from her. Because no distance can break the relationship of a solid and a strong family. When the children of Mrs. Maniago left the house, was also the moment they brought with them the values of and the responsibility for their family. A family cannot only be defined as a group living in the same house or a group sharing the same surname rather a group of people sharing the same memories and sharing the

Reflections Louis J. Masson, 1996 Louis Masson invites the reader to see the commonplace mirrored in quiet but penetrating observations that rely on clear and often lyric description Teaching for EcoJustice Rita J. Turner, 2015-05-22 Teaching for EcoJustice is a unique resource for exploring the social roots of environmental problems in humanities based educational settings and a curriculum guidebook for putting EcoJustice Education into practice It provides model curriculum materials that apply the principles of EcoJustice Education giving pre and in service teachers the ability to review examples of specific secondary and post secondary classroom assignments lessons discussion prompts and strategies that encourage students to think critically about how modern problems of sustainability and environmental destruction have developed their root causes and how they can be addressed The author describes instructional methods she uses when teaching each lesson and shares insights from evaluations of the materials in her classroom and by other teachers Interspersed between lessons is commentary about the rationale behind the materials and observations about their effect on students The Publishers Weekly, 1996 Shooting the Family Patricia Pisters, Wim Staat, 2005 Shooting the Family a collection of essays on the contemporary media landscape explores ever changing representations of family life on a global scale The contributors argue that new recording technologies allows families an unusual kind of freedom until now unknown to define and respond to their own lives and memories Recently released videos made by young migr s as they discover new homelands and resolve conflicts with their parents for example reverberate alongside the dark portrayals of family life in the formal filmmaking of Ang Lee This book will be a boon to scholars of film theory and media studies as well as to anyone interested in the construction of the family in a postmodern world Portland Review Literary Journal, 2003 We Are the Wards! Jaki Hall, Ronald D. Henderson, 2019-10-25 The authors commemorate their ancestors descendants and heritage with honor as a memorial stone for their children and their children s children so they will know from whence they have come in this family history That history includes Madison and Ella Ward both born in the mid 1800s married in 1876 and who raised eight children on one acre with one mule They stood on their Christian faith and believed in God Through their love and strength of family they survived the degradation of post slavery America to prosper and become six generations later among the most respected landowners in Alabama We Are the Wards preserves the Ward family legacy inspires future generations and encourages other families to follow their vision The strength of the Wards as for most black families since slavery has been critical to surviving an inhumane system whose legacy has lived on via the Black Codes Jim Crowism and institutional racism While each generation will be bombarded with new challenges new value systems and new lifestyles families can find success by refusing to compromise their Christian values just like the Wards A Family's Reflection Pasquale De Marco, In the tapestry of life family stands as an enduring thread weaving together generations and shaping our destinies In A Family s Reflection Pasquale De Marco invites us on a profound journey to explore the multifaceted dimensions of family life in the
