Using the contemporary workings of property law in India through the lives and thoughts of middle class and poor women this is a study of the ways in which cultural practices and particularly notions of gender ideology guide the workings of law It urges a close reading of decisions by women that appear to be contrary to material interests and that reinforce patriarchal ideologies Hailed as a radical moment for gender equality the Hindu Succession Act was passed in India in 1956 theoretically giving Hindu women the right to equal inheritance of their parents self acquired property However in the years since the act s existence its provisions have scarcely been utilized Using interview data drawn from middle class and poor neighborhoods in Delhi this book explores the complexity of women s decisions with regard to family property in this context The book shows that it is not passivity ignorance of the law naivet about wealth or unthinking adherence to gender prescriptions that guides women s decisions but rather an intricate negotiation of kinship and an optimization of socioeconomic and emotional needs An examination of recent legal cases also reveals that the formal legal realm can be hospitable to women s rights based claims but judgments are still coded in terms of customary provisions despite legal criteria to the contrary The Blog and the Journal - Writing about You - Cecilia Tanner, 2013-02 The BLOG the JOURNAL explores the fascination of keeping a journal which is the very fascination of life its novelty its unpredictability its new twists By expressing yourself in your solitude you can digest these ever changing influences in your life and move on a wiser person The many functions of the journal are discussed and there are many exercises to help your writing shine a little brighter People have been writing in journals for thousands of years literally Amenhotep IV in ancient Egypt may be the earliest recorded observer of his own life followed by so many wise people ever since The journal process may have been a contributing factor to their enduring contribution to the world Journal writing and the newest form the Blog is the expression of you in the celebration of your life in reflective solitude This writing about you helps you understand yourself and that helps you understand much more about others It s a growth experience Journal of Moral Theology, Volume 2, Number 2 Christopher P.
