A Rhetoric of Reflection Kathleen Yancey,2016-08-15 Reflection in writing studies is now entering a third generation Dating from the 1970s the first generation of reflection focused on identifying and describing internal cognitive processes assumed to be part of composing The second generation operating in both classroom and assessment scenes in the 1990s developed mechanisms for externalizing reflection making it visible and thus explicitly available to help writers Now a third generation of work in reflection is emerging As mapped by the contributors to A Rhetoric of Reflection this iteration of research and practice is taking up new questions in new sites of activity and with new theories It comprises attention to transfer of writing knowledge and practice teaching and assessment portfolios linguistic and cultural difference and various media including print and digital It conceptualizes conversation as a primary reflective medium both inside and outside the classroom and for individuals and collectives and articulates the role that different genres play in hosting reflection Perhaps most important in the work of this third generation is the identification and increasing appreciation of the epistemic value of reflection of its ability to help make new meanings and of its rhetorical power for both scholars and students Contributors Anne Beaufort

Kara Taczak Liane Robertson Michael Neal Heather Ostman Cathy Leaker Bruce Horner Asao B Inoue Tyler Richmond J Elizabeth Clark Naomi Silver Christina Russell McDonald Pamela Flash Kevin Roozen Jeff Sommers Doug Hesse Where Music Helps: Community Music Therapy in Action and Reflection Cochavit Elefant, Mercédès Pavlicevic, Dr Gary Ansdell, Professor Brynjulf Stige, 2013-06-28 This book explores how people may use music in ways that are helpful for them especially in relation to a sense of wellbeing belonging and participation The central premise for the study is that help is not a decontextualized effect that music produces The book contributes to the current discourse on music culture and society and it is developed in dialogue with related areas of study such as music sociology ethnomusicology community psychology and health promotion Where Music Helps describes the emerging movement that has been labelled Community Music Therapy and it presents ethnographically informed case studies of eight music projects localized in England Israel Norway and South Africa The various chapters of the book portray music's help in action within a broad range of contexts with individuals groups and communities all of whom have been challenged by illness or disability social and cultural disadvantage or injustice Music and musicing has helped these people find their voice literally and metaphorically to be welcomed and to welcome to be accepted and to accept to be together in different and better ways to project alternative messages about themselves or their community and to connect with others beyond their immediate environment The overriding theme that is explored is how music comes to afford things in concert with its environments which may suggest a way of accounting for the role of music in music therapy without reducing music to a secondary role in relation to the therapeutic that is being just a symbol of psychological states a stimulus or a text reflecting socio cultural content Professional Learning, Induction and Critical Reflection R. Henderson, Karen Noble, 2015-03-20 How should a teacher be taught This book suggests that it is necessary to move away from the highly technicist and one size fits all approaches to teaching in order to instil confidence throughout a teacher's training Instead a pedagogy of induction should engage the student in their profession from the outset of their studies Reflecting God's Glory Together A. Scott Moreau, Beth Snodderly, 2011-09-15 The true story of mission has been deeper wider and far more diverse than many Christians in countries with long histories of church presence have realized The authors in Reflecting God's Glory Together Diversity in Evangelical Mission drive that point home in a variety of ways From Filipino and Ghanaian missionary work in North American cities to Canadian work among the Chinese diaspora to African American work in Zimbabwe the authors help us begin to grasp just how many ways evangelicals in mission are truly going from and coming to everywhere as they follow Christ's mandate to reach the nations Diverse voices utilizing diverse strategies pursuing a common call these result in a mosaic whose larger pattern glorifies the God who came to live among us and who continues to send us out in the pattern God so clearly established As editors Beth and Scott invite you to explore the stories embedded in that marvelous mosaic that we have been privileged to collect for this volume

Ugandan Children's Literature and Its Implications for Cultural and Global Learning in TEFL Stephanie

Schaidt,2018-01-15 The present study adds to TEFL discourse in several ways First of all it contributes to the widening of the canon as it focuses on Ugandan childrens fiction Secondly the research connects to the few empirical studies that exist in the field It provides further implications for cultural and global learning and literary didactics in TEFL derived from insights into the mental processes of a group of Year 9 students in Germany engaging with Ugandan childrens fiction within the scope of an extensive reading project
